In lowering criminal liability of children

Governors Petilla, Tan express different views

JOEY A. GABIETA

TACLOBAN CITY- Governors Leopoldo Dominico Petilla of Leyte and Sharee Ann Tan of Samar expressed contrasting views on the issue lowering the age on the criminal liability involving children.

For Gov. Petilla, the government could just be 'pressured' why it want to lower the age on criminal liability of children who are involved in illegal activities.

"I think, while the responsibilities (in disciplining) our children rests on the shoulders of the parents, I think the government is pressured to do something," he said.

And this something, he said, could involve in ensuring that children would not fall prey to illegal activities like illegal drugs and by coming such a policy, it could serve as a deterrent.

Petilla believe that the government, in pushing this controversial policy, is not making these minors criminals but rather it want to act as a 'responsible parent.'

But for Samar Gov. Tan, this move should not be rushed without first the government, particularly members of Congress, getting a thorough information or data involving children who figured in criminal activities.

"We should have a medical side on this issue and hard data like what age children are mostly involved in criminal cases," she said.

She, however, admitted that some minor children are now 'smart' who have understanding of the consequences of their actions.

Comelec tags 70 as EV's areas of concern

This early, Mendros is calling all the candidates to do their part in making the elections peaceful and orderly.

TACLOBAN CITY- About 70 areas here in the region were tagged by the Commission on Elections (Comelec) as 'areas of concern' relative to the May 13, 2019 midterm elections.

And majority of these areas of concern are in Samar and Northern Samar, said lawyer Jose Nick Mendros, Comelec regional director.

Mendros, however, could not exactly say as to how many of the 70 areas of concern where in Samar and Northern Samar. These areas were identified as such due mainly to intense political rivalries; presence of either a private armed groups or members of the New People's Army; and election-related violence that occurred prior the conduct of the election.

The Comelec regional director declared that so far, there are no hot spots in the region relative to the conduct of the May 13 balloting.

An area is labeled as a hot spot if there are existing incidents that are cleared to be election-related. A hot spot area is a candidate for to be placed under the control of the Comelec.

"And we don't have it here in the region," Mendros said, referring to an area classified as a hot spot.

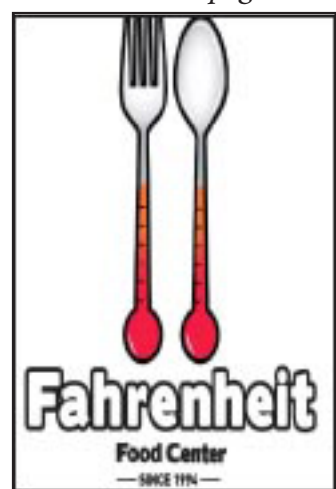

But Mendros said that there is possibility that additional forces, either police or soldiers, could be deployed in areas considered as concern areas to ensure that the conduct of the balloting will be peaceful and orderly.

"That's a possible reaction," the Comelec regional director said, referring to augmentation of security forces.

Eastern Visayas has about 4,390 barangays.

Gov't troops preempted NPA extortion activities

CATARMAN, Northern Samar – Two separate encounters transpired in Northern Samar and Samar on January 21, 2019.

Elements of 803rd Infantry Brigade responded to separate distress calls of civilian on the New People's Army (NPA) extortion activity in Barangay Epaw, Las Navas, Northern Samar and Barangay Calundan, San Jorge, Samar.

About 12:10 pm, personnel of the 81st Division Reconnaissance Company (DRC), 8ID, PA encountered more or less 10 fully armed NPA as troops responded to the report of NPA presence in the area.

Said NPAs were members of Front Committee 1 (FC-1), Sub-Regional Committee (SRC) "Emporium" under certain Norma Ultra AKA Ka Aya, Ka Dodo and Ka Basoy. Firefight lasted for about five minutes before the NPA fled. Government troops are still on pursuit.

An hour later, about 1:32 pm, another encounter transpired between personnel of 83rd Division Reconnaissance Company (DRC), 8ID, PA and 20 fully armed NPA of Central Front Samar, SRC "Browser" under Eldie Dela Cruz AKA Ka Star and Bernabe Linay AKA Ka Payo in Brgy Calundan, San Jorge, Samar.

Firefight lasted for 20 minutes before the NPA hastily fled leaving behind subversive materiel and documents, including personal belongings.

Brgy Calundan is approximately five kilometers away from Brgy Bay-ang, San Jorge where the Eastern Visayas Regional Party Committee (EVRPC) main camp were overrun by personnel of 803rd Brigade last January 11, 2019.

B/Gen. Ramil M Bitong, commander of 803rd Infantry Brigade, said "The reports of the people that led to location of the NPA manifested the people's rejection of these armed bandits who have long been pestering isolated communities.

Gen Bitong added that he is expecting more of these encounters until these bandits are banished. "These misled NPAs still have the chance to avail the government's Enhanced-Comprehensive Local Integration Program (E-CLIP) before it becomes too late." (PR)

3 village road projects completed in So. Leyte

MAASIN CITY – The Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) field office here recently completed the construction of three farm-to-market road projects in Southern Leyte in the bid to hasten transportation of agricultural products in the province.

The DPWH concreted the three-kilometer rural roads through P15 million budget from the Department of Agriculture (DA).

These projects are located in the villages of Tawid (P5 million) and Tomoy-Tomoy (P5 million) in Maasin City. Also completed is the farm-to-market road concreting in San Vicente to Pancil to Aurora villages (P5 million) in Malitbog town.

"Prior to the road concreting projects, the roads in these villages used to be dusty and bumpy making it harder for our farmers to deliver their products to the market. But now, these roads were already converted into a two-lane road which hastens transportation of goods," said DPWH Southern Leyte District

Engineer Ma. Margarita Junia.

For the entire 2018, the DPWH Southern Leyte field office implemented 10 farm-to-market road projects with seven still ongoing.

Ongoing road projects are located in the villages of San Jose to Gawisan (P8 million), Nati to Bato I (P7 million), Matin-ao to Cansirung (P5 million), Pinaskuhan to Hinapo Gamay (P7 million), Nonok Norte to San Agustin (P5 million), and Bactul I to Bactul II (P5 million), all in Maasin City. Road works also continue in the villages of Poblacion to Coot in Padre Burgos town (P5 million).

Dr. Gonzales is a graduate of Nursing as his pre-medical course.

Gonzales added that once a medical scholar became professional doctor, he/she is immediately employed at the provincial hospital and be one of the regular employees at the construction of these rural roads. It will be up for completion within the first three months of the year," Junia said.

Southern Leyte, with a land area of 1,798 square kilometers, is basically an agricultural province, complemented by the economic opportunities in the services sector. The major sources of income in the province are farming and fishing.

Improving and constructing farm-to-market roads has been tagged as priority of the government to reduce the price of farm products, make food more available to consumers, and curb high poverty incidence. (PR)

Pres. Duterte renames Popcom as Commission on Population and Development

P A L O , L e y t e - The Commission on Population (Popcom) was reverted back to the National Economic Development Authority (Neda) by virtue of Executive Order No. 71 signed by President Rodrigo Duterte last December.

EO No. 71, which also renamed Popcom into Commission on Population and Development (CPD), is also expected to boost the integration of population and development to increase the country's economic growth as indicated under the Philippine Development Plan (PDP) 2017-2022.

The CPD, as a government agency, was created through Presidential Decree (PD) 79.

From 1991 until 2003, Popcom was an attached agency of Neda before its supervision was placed under the Department of Health (DOH) through EO 188 of then President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo.

Despite being renamed as CPD, it will still be popularly named as Popcom and carry on its mandate to formulate and adopt coherent, integrated and comprehensive long-term plans, programs and recommendations on population as it relates to economic and social development consistent with and implementing the population policy which shall be submitted to and approved by the President.

Under the PDP for 2017-2022, the government seeks to lay down the foundation of an economic growth that can be further accelerated and sustained beyond the six years of the Duterte administration.

With the goal of laying down a robust foundation for a sustainable economic growth, the plan employs strategies that will help in pursuing an efficient population management to enable its citizens to be productive and engaged in economic activities.

Popcom Regional Director Elnora Pulma said that their commitment remains to fully implement the Responsible Parenthood and Reproductive Health Law and in attaining and sustaining zero unmet need as means to empower Filipino families.

Sari-sari store owners from Samar and Leyte underwent a series of training under Project: Premium to strengthen their business skills.

Sari-sari store owners in Leyte, Samar attends gathering initiated by funders

PALO, Leyte- A caravan participated by owners of sari-sari stores who were beneficiaries of assistance from various groups in the aftermath of super typhoon's Yolanda's onslaught gathered at the Leyte Academic Center, this town on Thursday (January 24).

The gathering, attended by 1,537 participants from the different cities and municipalities in Samar and Leyte, was primarily initiated by Premium, a project funded by the Canadian government in partnership with the Cooperative Development Foundation of Canada, Hapinoy, CARD INC., and RIMANSI.

The groups' effort is part of the Typhoon Haiyan (Yolanda) Recovery Assistance.

It aims to provide financial and technical assistance to micro-entrepreneurs specifically to sari-sari store owners in Samar and Leyte.

The beneficiaries of this project had undergone a series of training on business management and cash flow monitoring, product diversification and business continuity planning, which includes disaster preparedness from Hapinoy.

Hapinoy is a social enterprise that partners with the sari-sari store owners through training, linkage to micro-financing, enablement on technology, and new business opportunities.

Its heart is to help micro-entrepreneurs create opportunities for them, see them grow, and provide long term sustainability specifically to sari-sari stores because they believe that they play an important role in our society. Although there are existing grocery stores, they still choose to support sari-sari stores for they are iconic trademarks of the Filipino culture.

After completing the training, the members are now qualified to avail loan funds from CARD, Inc., a microfinance non-government organization whose mission is to offer start-up or seed loans to help generate additional income to the beneficiaries.

The beneficiaries are also given micro-insurance called Sagip Negosyo from RIMANSI, a technical service provider among association of mutual micro insurers.

Sagip Negosyo was constituted to develop and finalize a non-life calamity micro-insurance for stores.

John Rey Hecto from Dulag, Leyte has been a member of this project for about a year already.

As a person with disability, he is grateful for the assistance he was provided as it allowed him to gain income despite his disability.

Through this, he was able to have an idea on how to properly handle and grow a business.

"We have to save and not just keep on racking up debts," Hecto said.

The true mission of this project is not solely to create opportunities for them, to learn and for them to grow, but to establish and maintain good relationships with the people whom they were able to extend their help to.

Although relationships are known to be a two-way process, the program doesn't seek much in return as long as they witness improvements in the lives of the people they helped.

It's not about what the beneficiaries can give in return, it is about the value that this program has placed on the table and instilled in the minds of these entrepreneurs. With that being said, this project forwards the micro-entrepreneurs to enlarge their business capacity towards a more resilient micro-enterprise. (KIRA ARABELLA ALER, THEA MENDOZA, AMIRA MAE MIRALLES, STUDENT INTERNS, ST. Consultancy

We are quite shocked at the big budget allocated to consultancy in the Senate. It was reported that Senate President Aquilino "Koko" Pimentel in 2017 spent P127.8 million or P350,000 daily. From the budget P15.7 million was spent on consultancy.

Surprisingly, Senator Antonio Trillanes is the second big spender with P87 million. For consultancy, he allocated P14.7 million. This former PMA graduate and retired Philippine Navy officer who got involved in the Oakwood mutiny during his stint in the military, now Senator of the Republic, is the fiercest critic of President Duterte.

We still have to know how these large allocations are spent by their offices, but what really seem to be clothed with doubts is the big amount allocated for consultancy. Why such a big amount. To us we believe that elected officials run for the office they occupy now are supposed to possess the needed knowledge on how to effectively perform their duties in that office. Why hire consultants.

Is this again one of the ugly strategies legislators do to generate funds for themselves like the deleted anomalous pork barrel funds?.

It is possible that these consultancy funds are for those close friends, allies or relatives of the legislators. Bet?

On Senior Citizens

When one hears the words senior citizens what immediately get into our mind are the words -old or aging citizens. Many would even entertain the idea of them, as no longer mentally-or physically active.

-oOo-

The "youngest" senior citizen is 60 years old. Many of them are still healthy and therefore mentally and physically active. There are a lot of senior citizens from 60 even up to 70 who are still physically and mentally able, though many of them are already taking maintenance medicines for usual ailments like high blood, high sugar content or diabetic, etc.

-oOo-

Senior citizens- retired professionals come from the public and private sectors, and are receiving monthly pensions. There are talented retirees who continue to work as a private citizen in private establishments; or in some government agencies as consultants.

-oOo-

Well, President Rodrigo Duterte is 73 years old leading our nation up to 2022, at the end of his term. He shall have been 76.

Lately we were told that government will grant P100 thousand to people who will reach a century age. We ask: What will a hundred-year old person do with such a fabulous amount. It's useless to the senior citizen. He is probably in bed already waiting for his end. He will simply stare at the amount salivating.

Atty. Romulo Macatintal, dubbed as Mr. Senior Citizen, expressed a more practical move to please aging citizen. He proposes that when a senior citizen reaches 80 years old, he could be granted P30,000 - 90 years old another P30,000 and at 100 years old - P40,000. A good proposal. We hope he gets elected as senator in May 2019.

All united in Christ

AS we culminate the Christian Unity Octave on January 25 with the celebration of the feast of the conversion of St. Paul, let us give some thought to our duty to work out this intention at the very heart of the Church, the unity of all Christians, because this was also the most fervent intention of Christ himself.

Before his passion, death and resurrection, Christ made a most ardent prayer expressing that all of us be one with him, for that was his purpose for becoming man. The redemption undertaken by Christ was meant to make us one with him, since he is the pattern of our humanity, the savior of our damaged humanity, “the way, the truth and the life” for us. We cannot be as we ought to be unless we are one with Christ.

To be sure, the unity that Christ speaks of is not merely some natural kind of unity, achieved through social, cultural or political forces and laws, but a unity of spirit, of mind and heart, much like the unity that exists between God the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

The unity spoken of here is not uniformity. It is not about building up a monolithic, rigid uniformity. It can tolerate, even encourage, a great variety of views and opinions, for these can only enrich and strengthen the unity Christ wants for us. We just have to learn how to handle this phenomenon that is somehow expressed in that American nation’s motto, ‘E pluribus unum,’ (one out of the many).

It is a unity that should come as a result of our completely identifying ourselves with him, assuming his mind and heart, his will and ways. It is a unity of our total identification with Christ to such an extent that we can echo St. Paul’s words: “It is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me.” (Gal 2,20)

And so like Christ, we have to have that driving eagerness of reaching out to everyone, whatever their condition is as well as their attitude toward us, whether friendly or not. Toward this end, we should not be afraid of the effort and the many sacrifices that will be involved.

We may have our own tastes and preferences, our own temperaments and personalities, our own views and opinions, our own charism and vocation, or whatever status we have, but we have the duty to reach out to everyone, especially those who are different from us or even are opposed to us. They can even be opposed to God.

In this way, we would be

Toys of old

Either they play with gadgets, or resort to equally expensive toys available in department stores. But as regards playing with toys that won’t require them a single penny, and with games that develop their physical, mental, and social aspects, children nowadays are no longer interested, nor inclined to even learning those.

Yes, gone are the days when toys need not be that costly. Indigenous toys, we called them. Or native if we want a more localized term. Not costing any penny except for some efforts to fashion them.

When kids then were itching to play, depending on the number of playmates available, they would just pick up any local item, like a stick from the bushes, and they would have a toy to play with. They can create a toy like satom out of it, requiring two players or more. This can be very educational to young players as it involves mathematical computations. It could promote exercise, too.

If kids wanted a more social game to play, they can pluck some coconut glades, fashion them into balls of some sort, and enjoy in a bigger group. One of which is the so-called ‘mire-fireay’ (quite unique but the name may have derived from ‘fire’) in which the opposing groups would arm themselves with a ball with which to hit the opponents. The group whose members are all hit loses. Another way to play with it is for the group to divide its members into two, staying apart while the opposing group stays at the center or from side to side as they are hit by the ball. Anyone who is hit is out, until everybody gets hit.

Daring boys could try the more risky toys. There was, for instance, this home-made toy called kadang with which one could do acrobatic exhibitions. It’s a pair of elongated bamboo poles with mounted miniature platforms on which one has to stand, holding on to the upper portions of the poles to coordinate balance. One could then walk above the ground with it and feel like a giant as a result. Not for the fearful of heights, though.

For those who enjoyed watching a circling or coiling thing, they had this so-called kasing to toy with. It’s a piece of wood shaped like a heart, with a sticking nail on one end. Using a piece of

Manny Pacquiao – Idol Ng Masa

Manny Pacquiao is the son of Dionisia Dapedran Pacquiao who hails from Hilongos, Southern Leyte. His parents separated when he was still a young boy that he lived in extreme poverty in General Santos City. His life since birth is a fight against poverty, a fight for survival that sometimes he has to eat one (1) meal a day and has to drink a lot of water to fill his stomach.

At the age of 5, he worked in a fishing boat but already dreamed bigger in life. He had his first fight with a boy who called him “poorer than dirt”. He idolized Bruce Lee’s speed and agility and imitated him by punching and kicking a banana tree near his house. His first punching bag is made of cardboard stuffed with used clothing.

At the age of 12, his Uncle Sardo introduced him to boxing and he would jog every morning to condition himself. At the age of 14, he dropped out of school to help her mother earn a living. At the age of 16, he pursued his dreams to be a boxer by hiding himself in a boat going to Manila without the knowledge and consent of his mother, Dionisia.

Science Star from Eastern Visayas shines

Rarely do Eastern Visayas prides about its sons and daughters gain recognitions in the fields of Arts, Sciences, Culture and in other endeavors, in a manner which fit the line “passing through a hole of a needle”. Hardly do we hear or read about the few red-blooded Eastern Bisayans who has received national and/or international honors/awards, are accorded due recognitions the EV Local Governments, organizations, or even their own alma maters! This scenario is so bitter a pill to swallow to us or those who have walked extra miles to hitch their wagons to the star! He would sleep on the streets with boxes as his bed and sometimes in boxing gym.

His big break to stardom came when he won the superbantamweight title in 2001 against Lehlo Ledwaba in Las Vegas, Nevada. He was only a substitute boxer to fight Ledwaba. That’s also the start of his long partnership with Coach Freddie Roach who developed him into a complete boxer.

The rest is history when he defeated the best boxers of his time in the likes of Erik Morales, Antonio Barrera, Juan Manuel Marquez, Oscar de la Hoya, Antonio Margarito, Miguel Cotto, Shane Mosley and Timothee

Gov’t kicks off water project for ‘Yolanda’ housing

TACLOBAN CITY -- The central government kicked off on Friday the P404.77 million design and build water supply project for resettlement sites meant for 14,000 families badly-hit by super typhoon ‘Yolanda’ in this city.

Presidential Assistant Wendel Avisado, the official assigned by President Rodrigo R. Duterte to oversee post-Yolanda rehabilitation efforts, and Local Water Utilities Authority (LWUA) Administrator Jeci Lapus led the groundbreaking of the project in Cabalawan village here.

“This is a commitment of President Duterte to provide water system to the resettlement sites. I’ve been linking up with LWUA for several months. The turning point was when the city government asserted its right to manage the water district. They took over the project and LWUA approved it,” Avisado told reporters here.

During the third commemoration of Yolanda on Nov. 8, 2016, Duterte directed concerned national government officials to do everything they can to provide water for relocation sites. The project was not realized immediately due to procurement-related concerns.

“There were many issues during the past administrations and we could not easily download the money for the project. We are happy that local officials here really pushed for this project and offered to help in the implementation process,” Lapus said.

The LWUA official expects the project to be ready to provide water to two resettlement sites before the end of March.

Late last year, LWUA agreed to delegate its authority to implement the project to the Leyte Metropolitan Water District (LMWD) after failure of biddings in Manila.

The two winning bidders were the Cebu-based Mactan Rock Industries, Inc. and the Pangasinan-based TGV Builders, Inc. The developers entered a joint venture to implement the much-awaited project.

The project includes two areas. The first is the P404.77-million project to extend water distribution pipes, develop two new sources in the city’s northern villages, set up and repair old pumping stations, set up a new reservoir, and rehabilitate the existing reservoir.

The other phase is the P90-million project intended to rehabilitate the city’s water pipes.

The LWUA and LMWD signed a memorandum of agreement for the transfer of funds, in response to the request of the city government to pass the responsibility of supervising the project from the national government to the local water district.

The government aims to move 14,000 families from danger zones to the resettlement sites. Thousands of housing units have been awarded, but some families have refused to stay in the relocation sites due to water supply problems.

DPWH execs deny allegations lodged against them by a losing contractor

TACLOBAN CITY- All five respondents from the Department of Public Works and Highways-First District Engineering Office (DPWH-NSFDEO) based in Catarman town vehemently dismissed the criminal and administrative charges filed against them before the Office of the Ombudsman-Visayas.

The multiple suits against Maritess Lucernario, bids and awards committee(BAC) chairman of the said office, and her vice-chairman Rudelito Colona and members Edwin Table, Lucas Bacsal and Vicente Galecio were filed by Engr. Uldarico Formaran who represented the Edison Development and Construction/Tie Builders, Inc., a construction company, last August 7,2018.

Respondents Lucernario and Colona denied the accusations especially for violation of the grave abuse of authority/grave misconduct, inefficiency and incompetence and to act promptly on the letters and requests.

Coloma, in his 13-page counter-affidavit, said that the DPWH-NSFDO had advertised accordingly the invitation to bid on December 8014,2018 for the road widening Catarman-Laoang Road, Northern Samar (Contract No.181H002) with an approved bid contract(ABC) of P48,999,268.

On the scheduled date for the submission and opening of bids on Jan.26, 2018, four bidders participated and found eligible to bid: CDU Construction, Edison Development and Construction, On Time Bidders, Inc.(JV) FFJJ Construction/CA Construction and Supply, and Steven Construction and Supply.

All four eligible bidders passed the preliminary evaluation as to technical and financial matters.

However, a detailed evaluation on the bids was conducted by the BAC with the assistance of the technical working group (TWG) from Jan.16 to Feb.1,2018, showed that the bid of CDU Construction exceeded the budget for the contract at P52,303,547.39, thus the BAC issued a notice of post-disqualification to CDU Construction.

Complainant Formaran represents the Edison Development and Construction/Tie Builders, Inc. (joint venture).

Under the joint venture agreement, the office address of Edison (EDC) is at 121 Mariche Subd. In Quezon City while the On Time Inc. is at Brgy. Poblacion Norte, San Isidro, Northern Samar.

On Feb. 5, 2018, he said that he wrote to the National Irrigation Administration(NIA) in his capacity as BAC chairman at the time inquiring, among others, information on any pending project with that office, to include the recently bid-out projects.

Based on the post-qualification report dated Feb.27,2018, concerning the performance of ongoing government and non-government projects, the joint venture failed due to its negative slippage at 20.50%.

On March 12,2018, the BAC issued Resolution No.2018-015 unanimously declared the 2nd lowest bidder and awarded the project to FFJJ Construction/CA.

The resolution was signed by all the members of the BAC and was approved by OIC-District Engineer Ruel V. Umali.

Meanwhile, while the cases have yet to be resolved, Formaran has filed a motion for the preventive suspension of all the respondents with the Office of the Ombudsman in Cebu city.

The motion stresses 'that the continuous stay of all the respondents in office would definitely prejudice that fair, just and independent disposition of the cases filed against them considering that they have complete possession of all the documents relevant to the cases.'

In this connection, Formaran strongly invoked DPWH Department Order No.28 issued by former Secretary Rogelio Singzon which provides that no DPWH officer who has been formally charged with administrative or criminal offense shall be designated as chairperson or members of the BAC or of its secretariat and should be replaced, if he's been designated.

Congress has earlier approved a measure putting criminal liability as young as nine years old but this was later modified to 12 years old after various sectors expressed their opposition to the said measure.

Meantime, the City Social Welfare and Development Office (CSWDO) in Tacloban City said that it remain steadfast of its principle that putting criminal liability to minor age 9 or 12 remain unacceptable.

Chona Bahin, in-charge of youth program of the CSWDO, said that instead of punishing these children, it should be their parents who should be held liable.

"These children are just victims of circumstances and did not act these illegal acts of their own doing," she said.

In the city, their office maintains a holding center where about 30 minors or those aged below 17 are temporarily placed while their cases are still being heard in courts.

Most of these children are involved in theft, robbery, rape, murder, and illegal drug activities.

"But the environment there is not like of a prison facility. It's like they are still in a house where they are feed three times a day with a snack," Bahin said.

The children there are also taught value formation, reading, sports activities, and gardening.

"We don't treat them as criminals but just children in conflict with the laws," Bahin said.

Bahin also said that the city government is soon to construct its own 'Bahay Pangarap' as required by law where minor children would be placed.

For this facility, to be constructed in Barangay 91, Abucay district, the city government will have a P5 million as a counterpart while the Department of Social Welfare and Development through the Juvenile Justice Welfare Council will provide P5 million.

DPWH completes 8 flood control projects along S. Leyte's largest river

MAASIN CITY – The problem of overflowing and soil erosion along Subang Daku River, the largest watercourse in Southern Leyte province, will now be addressed with the completion of its eight flood control projects.

Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) Southern Leyte chief Ma. Margarita Junia said they allocated P30 million for the construction of embankments along the critical sections of Subang Daku River, which cuts through Sogod town.

"We have already built six flood mitigation structures along Subang Daku River in 2017, but the population near the riverbank is growing so we extended the flood control system to the whole stretch of the watercourse to protect other villages vulnerable to flooding," Junia said.

The completed flood control structures with a cost of over P3 million each are located in the river sections of Suba Section 2, Zone 3 Section 2, Hibod Hibod Section 2, San Juan Section 2, Suba-Kananga, San Miguel, and San Vicente Sections 2 and 3.

"The flood control system is always included in our priority development projects and we vow to construct more riverbank protection in the future," the official added.

Flood control structures not only prevent flooding in the river's adjacent areas but also protect against scouring or erosion along riverbanks. (PR) calling all the candidates to do their part in making the elections peaceful and orderly.

"As election administrator, we don't like our elections to be violent," he said.

Mendros said that they are supporting the conduct of peace signing covenants among the candidates as a way to 'conscientize' them and give their full commitment that the balloting at their respective area would be orderly and peaceful.

To recall, the Comelec in coordination with the Philippine National Police and the Armed Forces here in the region initiated peace signing covenants on Jan.20 as one of the measures of ensuring a peaceful and orderly conduct of elections.

The other side of basic education of DepEd Leyte: providing access to education for the Deprived, Depressed, and the Underserved (DDUs) population in the province

MARIE JOY A. ARIAS

The Alternative Learning System (ALS) is a practical option to the existing formal instruction. Its programs and projects being implemented by licensed and trained ALS teachers are for learners who do not have or cannot access formal education in schools.

It is an alternate or substitute to formal schooling that targets the learning needs of school leavers and other learners from marginalized groups for them to be able to find a better job and continue their education.

This program of the Department of Education requires highly dedicated, multi-skilled and passionate teachers who have to deal with diverse types of learners every day during the conduct of learning sessions in their community learning centers.

In line with the implementation of Project Curriculum Reinforcement for Academic Dynamism for Leyte Empowered Educators for Excellence (CRA-DLE) of Leyte Division's banner Project SEEDLING, the DepEd Leyte Division ALS unit under the Curriculum Implementation Division now composed of 142 ALS Teachers from the 40 municipalities in the province of Leyte, five Education Program Specialists and a designated ALS Supervisor, is implementing various programs and projects in response to its increasing number of illiterates and the out-of-school population that reached a total of 117,134 for the year 2018.

Among the ALS DepEd's programs being implemented in the division of Leyte for the out-of-school illiterates and dropouts are the regular Basic Literacy Program (BLP), regular Accreditation & Equivalency Program (A&E), ALS-Education and Skills Training Project (ALS-EST), Informal Education (InfEd), Indigenous Peoples Education (IPED) in ALS, Basic Education Madrasah Program for OSY Muslims and the Literacy Behind Bars in Leyte Regional Prison in Abuyog, Palo Provincial Jail and in Carigara, Isabel, Palompon and Palo Bureau of Jail and Management Penology (BJMP).

ALS learning sessions in Leyte are held in 518 community learning centers (CLCs) all over the province in its 40 municipalities and additional learning centers are expected this year since 18 additional ALS Mobile Teachers were hired in December 2018 and newly-designated coordinators are already assigned in some of the newly created districts.

Hopefully, more items will be created for the ALS to be able to hire qualified teachers and to increase the quality of education in the program.

ALS education cannot succeed like any other government programs without the support of the private sector.

Right appropriation is necessary to ensure the smooth delivery of the programs and projects implementation thus the need for budget allocation from the government and to continue to build partnership with external stakeholders and the private sector.

The great support of ALS Leyte from stakeholders to mention a few are from the Provincial Government of Leyte, the LGUs of the 40 municipalities and their government agencies like the MSWD, PNP, DA, the Philippine Army, TESDA, UNESCO, KOICA, Knowledge Community, Plan International, Edmund Rice Ministries, The Rotary Club of Tacloban, the Rotary Club of St. Andrew-Paranaque, The City Savings Bank, Metro Bank, Ikiko Foundation of France, Save the Children Philippines, Global Peace Foundation, USAID, INTERSOS, UNICEF, Red Cross and some religious associations.

The ALS teachers and the division personnel headed by the Schools Division Superintendent Ronelo Al K. Firmo are still on the go in building more partnerships with other private sectors to be able to cater to the high number of out-of-school in the province.

The 2017 Accreditation and Equivalency test result for Leyte Division was 79.53%. Out of the 2,160 actual takers, there were 1,218 learners who passed the national test.

The passers were not only regular out-of-school youth and adult learners, there were also learners who belong to special groups like the Senior Citizens, Muslims, Persons-with-disabilities (PWDs), learners behind-bars and the Indigenous Peoples (IPs). With this, we can say that inclusive education indeed is evident not only in the formal system but also in ALS.

This result proves that all types of learners are given access to quality education since inclusive education is concerned with all learners, with focus on those who have traditionally been excluded from educational opportunities. ALS takes part in this mandate of providing adult citizens, the disabled and OSY the basic education they need and also training on civics, vocational efficiency and other skills.

The 2018 National Accreditation and Equivalency Test is scheduled first quarter of 2019, a total of 3,800 A&E elementary level and secondary level completers in Leyte from the total 5,635 completers in 2018 are expected to register and hopefully escalate the 79.53% passing rate result of the 2017 A&E test.

The year 2019 is considered the transition year for ALS with the implementation of the K to 12 curriculum. ALS Teachers are expected to undergo mass training throughout the year to be conducted by the central and regional offices.

The enhanced ALS curriculum 2017 edition for teachers has been issued to the field while the curriculum for the ALS Senior High School is still being developed.

ALS implementers in Leyte, from the community learning centers to the division personnel are working hard to be able to produce significant results that will address the needs of the out-of-school youth and adults in the province.

The use of differentiated approach is recommended in teaching ALS so that teachers can provide each learner with experiences and tasks that will improve learning. Through ALS, education throughout the country has become more participatory and responsive to the circumstances of its learners.

(About: Marie Joy A. Arias is the ALS-Education Program Supervisor-Designate of DepEd-Leyte Division in Palo, Leyte)

In Samar Families fled homes after military, NPA engaged in a firefight

TACLOBAN CITY – Families who resides in a village in San Jorge town, Samar, have fled from their homes for fear of being involved in the arm battle between the government troops and alleged members of the New People’s Army(NPAs).

About 37 families, consisting of 64 individuals, from Barangay Bay-ang fled their homes on January 18, six days after an ambush incident took place in the said village.

The fleeing families have took temporary shelter to a health center, 40 kms away from their village, rights group Katungod-Sinirangan Bisayas said in a press statement.

Katungod Sinirangan Bisayas, quoting the village chairperson, Lorna Badiol, said that they were forced to abandon their homes for fear that they might be hit from any possible indiscriminate firing.

“Our appeal as village officials is for them to assure that we are safe when we go back to our village and for them, the soldiers to leave our community, so that our livelihood will not be disturb,” Badiol added.

The rights group is calling for the military to spare the civilians and leave the village.

“Military troops should pull out from their communities and sign an agreement to never harass the officials and any other residents of Brgys. Bay-ang and Calungdan and the many other villages within the region. This way, the civilians will be able to go back to their village already and will be assured that they can already live at peace,” the statement said.

In response to this call, Captain Cherry Junia, acting information officer of the 8th Infantry Division based in Catbalogan City, said that the military are in the area as part of their operation.

To recall, an ambush incident on Jan. 12 in Bay-ang has resulted to the injury of nine soldiers, all belonging to the 63rd Infantry Battalion whose headquarter is in Brgy. Erenas, also in San Jorge. “The presence of 63rd Infantry Battalion troops in Brgy Bay-ang, San Jorge, Samar is to help track-down the NPA presence and to safeguard the people from the resurgence of the NPA terrorists,” Cpt. Junia said.

A big camp of the NPA was discovered by the military in the said village.

The military claims that the NPA members have stayed long in the area to conduct extortion, recruitment and other illegal activities.

“In fact, the NPA terrorists should be the one to leave the people of Bay-ang not the military because the presence of the military is to secure and protect the well-being of the people,” Junia said.

Junia added that the 8th Infantry Division will continue its pursuit operation until these rebels won’t stop their illegal activities.

“The 8ID assures the people of Bay-ang that the military troops will see to it that their barangay is free from these terrorists before they will be allowed to go back to their homes,” Junia said. (ROEL T. AMAZONA)

Leyte highest fish producer in EV for third quarter 2018

TACLOBAN CITY- The province of Leyte has produced the highest volume of fish in the third quarter of 2018, a report from the regional office of the Philippine Statistics Authority(PSA-8),based here.

Wilma Perante, regional director, PSA – 8, said in a press statement that among provinces, Leyte produced the highest volume of fisheries at 9,291 metric tons (MT), comprising 30.1 percent of the total fishery production in the region.

Samar ranked second at 8,447 MT, accounting for 27.4 percent of the region’s total fishery production. Southern Leyte, meanwhile, registered 1,222 MT, the lowest volume of production which shared 4.0 percent only.

Perante reported that the fishery production in Eastern Visayas dropped by 11.9 percent, from 35,029 metric tons (MT) in the third quarter of 2017 to 30,865 MT in the third quarter of 2018.

“All provinces registered his friends that “without God, no amount of success will give one happiness in life.” Manny Pacquiao’s life is like a fairy tale but he was able to succeed through hard work, persistence and determination.

He has left an indelible mark in boxing and honor to us, Filipinos. He is one of a kind. He deserves to be the leader of this country. As President Duterte said “the Presidency is destiny not a personal decision”. Manny Pacquiao is destined to be the leader of the Filipino people.

decreases in fishery production, except Biliran, the only province that recorded a slight increase of 1.8 percent from its level of production in the same quarter in 2018. Eastern Samar recorded the highest decrease of 25.7 percent, from 7,128 MT in the third quarter of 2017 to 5,294 MT during the quarter in review,” Perante said.

Perante also reported that by subsector, the volume of production in commercial fishing went down by 19.5 percent, from 3,755 MT in the third quarter of 2017 to 3,024 MT in the same period in 2018. She added that all provinces registered decreases, except Leyte and Biliran, which recorded increases of 6.6 percent and 4.8 percent, respectively.

Southern Leyte recorded the highest decrease of 66.8 percent, from 264 MT in the third quarter of 2017 to 88 MT during the quarter in review.

Perante said that similarly, the volume of production in municipal fishing (marine and inland) registered a decrease of 12.0 percent, from 20,351 MT in the third quarter of 2017 to 17,919 MT in the same quarter in 2018.

Among provinces, Leyte, Southern Leyte, and Biliran registered growths in production of 5.1 percent, 4.6 percent, and 1.2 percent, respectively.

“However, the increases were negated by the decreases recorded by Eastern Samar (24.9 percent), Samar (13.4 percent), and Northern Samar (5.0 percent),” Perante said.

The volume of production in aquaculture also declined by 9.1 percent, from 10,922 MT in the third quarter of 2017 to 9,923 imitating Christ who was willing to bear all our sins, as St. Paul said, to save all men. (cfr 1 Tim 2,4) This is the only purpose that can bring about the development of a universal heart. Short of this motive, the ideal of a universal heart and of achieving that Christian unity that is proper to us is compromised.

Toward this end, we have to learn how to be patient, how to rise above our personal things and learn how to give our heart to God and to everybody else. This obviously will require of us a certain sportsmanship, a certain insensitivity that is of the kind that can welcome and accommodate the charity of God in our heart. We have to learn to listen and not just hear others, to look and not just to see them.

We have to learn how to suffer with the others, how to be compassionate, how to make as our own the conditions of the others out of the love of God and souls. God himself did all these.

He made himself man in Christ to save us. And Christ, according to St. Paul, made himself like sin without committing sin (cfr 2 Cor 5,21), just to be with us and lead us back to God, from whom we came and to whom we belong.

BFP holds fire square roadshow in Maasin City

MAASIN CITY- More than 300 elementary pupils in Maasin City participated on January 13 in the Fire Square activities conducted by the Bureau of Fire Protection (BFP).

According to BFP Regional Director, F/SSupt. Rico Neil Kwan Tiu, the roadshow is a caravan for public safety awareness and resiliency among the pupils.

“It is an interactive activity where lectures and actual basic public safety preparedness are combined,” Tiu, who led the firefighters, said.

Eight stages of concepts were introduced to the Grades IV-VI participants such as bandaging, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR), knot tying, rappelling, fire safety tips, how to use a fire extinguisher, fire prevention and disaster preparedness.

The roadshow banners the theme, “Safety starts with awareness, Awareness starts with us.”

The BFP-Maasin City Fire Station recommends basic fire safety and fire drills down to the barangay level, a very important community undertaking for everyone’s safety.

The elementary pupils, as well as their parents, guardians and the viewing public had the privilege to experience and witness the Fire Square Road Show activities such as the real-life scenarios and how to prepare and respond quickly and safely during emergency situations.

Maasin City Mayor Nacional Mercado, who delivered his inspirational message, also witnessed and participated the one-day activity together with the BFP Provincial Director Chief Insp. Dorotheo Claro Mocerro and the strong firefighters from the local Fire Station and from the regional office. (LDL/RGC/PIA8-SOUTHERN LEYTE)

DA-8’s YRRP implementers to facilitate monitoring of rehab projects

TACLOBAN CITY- Management officials and staff of the Department of Agriculture (DA) Regional Office 8 involved in carrying out the multi-million agri-fishery projects under the Yolanda Recovery and Rehabilitation Program (YRRP) attended an assessment meeting in a bid to update its newly installed Regional Executive Director on the various DA-led recovery and rehabilitation projects and hear issues and concerns as to the challenges encountered in the last two-year YRRP program implementation.

In that meeting held on Jan. 22 at the San Miguel Experiment Station, San Miguel, Leyte, DA-8 Chief Director Milo delos Reyes said the purpose of calling the meeting is to remind all concerned to facilitate whatever remains to be done and not to wait for Yolanda Commission to check into the status of Yolanda-related projects which were undertaken by the agency in collaboration with line government agencies, the local government units (LGUs), farmers associations as well as State Colleges and Universities.

“We should go all out in monitoring these projects, especially in the highly critical areas or provinces and municipalities where we spent the YRRP Funds. We must take this very seriously and let the people and our government know that we are not negligent in our avowed tasks,” Director delos Reyes underscored in mixed English and Tagalog languages.

There were at least 73 municipalities in Region 8 severely devastated by Typhoon Yolanda, with grave consequences to its socio-political and economic wellbeing.

However, a decisive action of the government and incessant efforts of the international community enabled the Waray people to recover fast.

DA is one of the government and non-government agencies which launched and implemented a comprehensive rehabilitation plan initially called “Umaahon”.

The total YRRP funds released to DA in two tranches amounted to PhP3.60 Billion. The funds were used in helping farmers restored their basic means of livelihood; Promote physiological and maybe psychological well-being and resiliency of farmers and affected farming and fishing communities.

The bulk of the YRRP Funds were downloaded to the LGUs, partner-agencies or institutions and ultimately to the farmers hugely affected by Typhoon Yolanda, considered as the strongest and deadliest typhoon that ever happened in recent time.

Also in attendance to brief the new RED on the YRRP implementation were Dr. Elvira C. Torres, Assistant Regional Director for Research and Regulations who was formerly the YRRP Focal Person before this was assigned to Rolando Hipe who later took over in overseeing the program and Dr. Andrew T. Orais, Assistant Regional Director for Operations. (PR)

DPWH starts rehiring of 3.9K job orders in Region 8

PALO, Leyte -- The Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) has started the process of rehiring the 3,900 job order employees after the delayed approval of 2019 budget rendered them jobless for weeks.

Virginia Talde, DPWH regional administrative division chief, said it is up to the regional directors, district engineers, and division heads if they will renew the contracts of all workers employed last year.

“There was no intention not to employ them this year. We’re only following department orders. It is possible that we will hire the same number of workers, but it depends on the need as determined by concerned officials,” Talde told reporters on Thursday.

She said there’s no timeline to complete the rehiring process since the DPWH could hire job order workers anytime of the year as the need arises.

“We need job order because the number of projects has been increasing every year. Without them, we have to do multi-tasking,” Talde added.

The regional office is tasked to implement 86 high-impact projects with a total cost of P9.29 billion initially listed in the 2019 National Expenditure Program.

In addition, the DPWH expects to implement more projects from Department of Education for school buildings, Department of Trade and Industry for roads leading to industries, and Department of Tourism for road access to tourism sites.

The regional office and 13 district engineering offices has more than 900 regular staff, four times less than the number of non-permanent employees.

The rehiring is in compliance with DPWH Secretary Mark Villar’s memorandum giving regional directors and district engineers the go-signal to renew contracts of job order workers.

Villar’s directive on rehiring dated Jan. 7, 2019 was disseminated through a memorandum issued by Regional Director Nerie Bueno issued on January 18.

Concerned on re-enacted budget woes, Villar issued an order last Dec. 17 limiting the number of workers in 2019. The hiring should be 70 percent

Some boys would sharpen the nail and did some sort of competition, taking turns in striking the other kasing that lay on the ground. Kind of risky it was since it could bounce into the air and hit the people around.

Numerous requests for exemption from the limited hiring prompted Villar to defer the 70 percent – 30 percent rule through the January 7, 2019 directive.

You see, indigenous toys are not just economical; they are also good for the health, and social interactions, too. Once in a while, we need to reintroduce these to our children nowadays for them to appreciate and perhaps try these out themselves. Remember, we are what we play

Despite 70 areas in EV tagged as areas of concern

RPOC chair and Samar Gov. Tan hopeful elections will be peaceful and orderly TACLOBAN CITY- Samar Governor Sharee Ann Tan, who is also the chair of the Regional Peace and Order Council (RPOC), said that she is positive that the conduct of the elections in the region would be peaceful. She, however, stressed that to achieve this, more security forces should be deployed in areas earlier tagged by the Philippine National Police (PNP) and the Commission on Elections (Comelec) as areas of concern.

The PNP and the Comelec earlier tagged 70 villages across the region as areas of concern. And majority of these areas are in Samar and Northern Samar provinces. In Samar, these areas are mostly located on its first district. Gov. Tan said that during their PROC meeting on Wednesday (Jan.23), both the PNP and the Armed Forces in the region said that they would continue to conduct their assessment and validation on the situation in areas identified as concern areas. In fact, she said, during their next meeting, the PNP and the Armed Forces in the region would make their report on the peace and order situation of these areas. “But we are happy that none of the areas here in the region were declared as hotspots. This will not put Eastern Visayas in a bad light,” the Samar governor said. “I just hope that our elections will be peaceful,” the governor added.

The RPOC chairperson said that officials of both the PNP and the Armed Forces issued an assurance that they are on top of the situation in so far as resolving problems concerning peace and security in the province. Still, Gov. Tan said that she is open for security force augmentation in areas identified as areas of concern if only to ensure that the voters there could vote freely and without fear. In Samar, areas located on its first district have often been tagged as concern areas during elections due to killing or shooting incidents, presence of private armed groups and rebels and intense political rivalries. Earlier, members of the elite force of the PNP, the Special Action Force, have been deployed to Samar primarily to battle the rebels and private armed groups. (JOEY A. GABIETA)

Post-Yolanda, a new day awaits Leyte and Samar microentrepreneurs

PALO, Leyte - A few years after Yolanda, a new day has indeed come for several thousand Leyte and Samar-based microentrepreneurs with the culmination of the Bagong Araw (New Day) Philippines PREMIUM project. A three-year-long program backed by the Government of Canada and the Co-operative Development Foundation of Canada, the Bagong Araw Philippines PREMIUM project sought to help sari-sari store owners in Yolanda-hit Leyte and Samar provinces through a series of seminars and workshops on basic business management, cashflow monitoring, product diversification, business continuity planning, and disaster preparedness, as well as access to additional capital and micro-insurance products. According to social enterprise Microventures Foundation Inc. (Hapinoy), its partner Center for Agriculture and Rural Development, Inc. (CARD) has disbursed over P 35,150,000 to 2,415 program beneficiaries throughout its three-year run or 140% of its end project target. Additionally, program partner Micro-Insurance MBA Association of the Philippines (RIMANSI) says 1,200 beneficiaries have availed of the Sagip Negosyo microinsurance product. In celebration of this achievement, 1,554 sari-sari store owners, officials from local government units, officers, and suppliers and distributors came together at the Leyte Academic Center in Palo, Leyte last Thursday, January 24, for the PREMIUM Caravan 2019. Graced by the presence of several key personalities such as Senator Paolo Benigno Aquino IV who authored the GoNegosyo Bill, the said caravan is expected to initiate partnerships among key players in the two provinces, and in effect, facilitate the creation of a more resilient supply flow chain in the region.
