Rep. Javier faces falsification complaint filed before Ombudsman

JOEY A. GABIETA

TACLOBAN CITY- Newly-elected Rep. Lolita Karen Javier is facing a complaint of falsification of public document filed by the candidate she defeated during the recently held midterm elections.

The complaint was filed by former congressman Henry Ong of the second congressional district before the Office of the Ombudsman on July 5.

The case of falsification of a public document by a private individual filed by Ong against the congresswoman was in relation to what he claimed to be 'falsified' entries on the certificate of candidacy (CoC) she submitted at the provincial office of the Commission on Elections (Comelec).

In particular, the defeated congressman claimed that Javier claimed that she was a registered voter of Barangay I, Jaro town when she filed her CoC on October 17, 2018.

The former congressman said that at that time,

Rep. Lolita Karen Javier

Javier's voter's registration has yet to be approved by the Comelec.

The poll body approved the voter registration application of Rep. Javier only on October 25, Ong said on a statement.

Ong also cited the alleged difference on the number of residency of Rep. Javier as indicated on the

Henry Ong

CoC and that indicated on her voter's registration.

"(She) falsely claimed to be a resident of municipality of Jaro for 44 years and two months even her husband was at that time was sitting as mayor of Javier (town)," he said on his complaint.

Rep. Javier's husband, Leonardo 'Sandy' Javier, was the mayor of Javier town at that time.

The town of Javier belongs to the fifth congressional sional district of Leyte.

Rep. Javier, running for the first time under the banner of Partido Federal ng Pilipinas, defeated Ong during the May 13 midterm elections by more than 27,000 votes.

The newly-elected solon garnered 112,989 votes against Ong's 88,995 votes.

Ong, who ran under the administration's PDP-Laban, was then seeking for a second term.

Rep. Javier could not be contacted for her reaction on the complaint filed by her former political nemesis.

But in previous interviews she had said that she is a resident and native of Jaro town.

Due to his contribution to agriculture industry Pres. Duterte wishes to grant citizenship to French owner of the Chin Yi Agriventures ALANGALANG, Leyte- Apparently enamored with the multi-billion peso rice facility project built by Patrick Renucci, President Rodrigo Duterte directed Solicitor General Jose Calida to look if the French national could be naturalized as a Filipino.

The President made this declaration during his visit to the Chin Yi Agriventures Rice Processing Complex located in Barangay Mudburon, this town, last Friday (July 5).

The Chief Executive lead in the formal inauguration of the P1.5 billion facility sprawled in 8-hectare lot owned by Renucci and his wife Rachel.

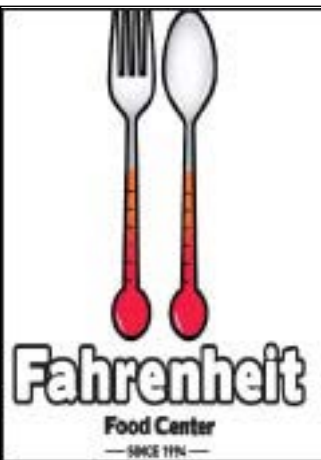

Mr. Duterte, in his speech during the event, said that considering what Renucci has done to help the farmers and the agriculture sector in the country by building the state-of-the-art rice complex, he believes he deserves to become a naturalized Filipino citizen.

He added that while there is a law on how a foreigner like Renucci could acquire a Filipino citizenship, he is willing 'to cut corners' in the case of

Disaster response exhibit held as part of the national disaster resilience month celebration

TACLOBAN CITY- In line with the annual observance of the National Disaster Resilience Month, Mayor Alfred S. Romualdez and newly-assumed Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) 8 Regional Director Marie Angela Gopalan led the formal opening of the Response Cluster Exhibit at the City Hall grounds on Friday, July 5.

Gopalan said that the exhibit showcases the commitment to ensure resiliency amidst disaster by displaying the latest response equipment and capabilities. “We are armed with the necessary types of equipment in facing these challenges. But, more than that it is the people who are ready and consciously doing what they can to be able to help respond to (any) crisis,” she added. In addition, Mayor Romualdez also shared how cooperation is crucial in terms of addressing any unfortunate event. “Everyone has a particular role to address the issues. It is important that all the agencies understand their particular role so we can prevent now any incident from becoming an emergency,” said the city Mayor.

Meanwhile, the exhibit was participated by the 9 member-agencies of the Regional Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Council.

Present during the event were representatives of the Bureau of Fire Protection Tacloban, ACCESS 5 (Emergency Telecommunication Cluster), PNP, the Philippine Coast Guard, DPWH, DepEd City Division, Armed Forces of the Philippines and Tacloban City Rescue Unit and Assistant Regional Director of the Office of Civil Defense Rey Gozon.

PNP sees immediate closure of Samar ‘misencounter’

PALO, Leyte-The Philippine National Police (PNP) is eyeing to put closure on the June 25, 2018 Samar “misencounter” within the year as the government continues to extend all necessary assistance to the families of the slain cops.

PNP 8 (Eastern Visayas) Director, Brig. Gen. Dionardo Carlos, said on Wednesday (July 3) that both the police and military are working to settle all cases soon since it was found that the soldiers had no intention to kill the six junior police officers.

“We respect the families and at the end of the day, we will do what’s best for everybody. After extending all the help needed, we hope we can settle the case since there was no intention to attack the policemen. Nobody wanted the incident to happen,” Carlos said.

According to police records, the dependents received P2.49 million financial assistance from the Public Safety Mutual Benefit Fund Inc., P1.53 million from the PNP-Special Financial Assistance, and P457,163 from the commutation of accrued leaves.

Each family also got P250,000 for the first tranche of the Presidential Social Fund - Special Financial Assistance; P100,000 from the Civil Service Commission; and P100,000 from PNP Chief, Director General Oscar Albayalde. This is on top of their monthly pension.

The Department of Labor and Employment provided grocery packs while the National Police Commission released gratuity and burial assistance. A scholarship fund is already adjudicated and just waiting for its release.

PPI hails Civic Journalism Community Press awardees

As the print industry continues to face challenges brought about by disruptive technology and innovation and a changing consumer landscape, the Philippine Press Institute shone the spotlight on the best of the best among the community newspapers across the country.

Cebu Daily News bagged three of five major awards for the daily newspaper category for the 2018 Civic Journalism Community Press Awards, namely the Best Edited Community Newspaper, Best Editorial Page, and Best in Photojournalism.

Edge Davao, on the other hand, garnered the Best in Business and Economic Reporting and Best in Environment Reporting awards for the daily newspaper category.

Baguio-based weekly newspapers Herald Express and Baguio Chronicle were awarded the Best Edited Newspaper and Best in Environment Reporting, respectively, for the weekly newspaper category.

Other winners were The Bohol Chronicle for the Best Editorial Page; Cagayan de Oro’s Business Week Mindanao for Best in Business and Economic Reporting; and Dumaquete’s Metro Post for Best in Photojournalism.

“The industry is being buffeted by dizzying winds of change. Today – as in the past – any technology that accelerates information has the power to disrupt; so it is with the internet and social media...We must adapt to the technology sooner or later if we are to survive. We have to be realistic that this world has changed and adapt to the reality on the ground,” newly-elected PPI chairman and Manila Standard publisher Rolando Estabillo said.

Despite the challenges, Estabillo said newspapers, especially community papers, have the responsibility, more now than ever, to continue reporting on issues that have direct impact on Filipinos.

Speaking on behalf of the winners, Dexter See of Baguio’s Herald Express acknowledged as much: “It takes hard work, and involves pure sacrifice and passion for the job. That’s why we are here.”

The board of judges for the press awards was composed of Joyce Babe Pañares, PPI trustee and news editor of Manila Standard as chairperson; Nickel Asia Corporation vice president for corporate communication Jose Bayani Baylon; Science and Development Network Asia Pacific Coordinator Joel Adriano; University of the Philippines College of Mass Communication dead Arminda Santiago; and Photojournalists’ Center of the Philippines member Angelo de Silva. (PR)

Soldier killed inside a hotel by a woman companion in Catbalogan City

TACLOBAN CITY- A soldier was shot and killed by a woman after they reportedly engaged in a fight over a gun while they were inside in a hotel room in Catbalogan City, Samar province, Sunday (July 7).

Reports reaching the regional headquarters of the Philippine National Police (PNP) based in Palo, Leyte, said that the soldier, identified as Private First Class Camelo Batocoy, 31, married and member of the band company of the 8th Infantry Division, based in Catbalogan City, was shot by an 18-year old woman, Sheila de la Cruz, whom he met in a disco bar prior the incident.

The two checked in at Fame Hotel, also in the city, at around 3 am and at about 6:20 am, de la Cruz asked the victim that she would like to return home in Brgy. Bagacay, Hinabangan town, also in Samar.

But the soldier, a resident of Brgy. Maulong, also in Catbalogan City, reportedly refused and instead drew his firearm towards the woman which resulted for the two to fight.

The gun reportedly went off, hitting the victim’s face which resulted to his instant death.

The suspect immediately ran out of the room and asked help from a hotel staff.

In turn, the hotel staff called the local police, and led by Major Romelito Sorilla, immediately went to the area of the incident.

The woman is now in the custody of the Catbalogan city police for further investigation.

Sen. Go opens Malasakit Center at Ormoc District Hospital

ORMOC CITY-Senator Christopher Lawrence ‘Bong’ Go led in the launching of Malasakit Center at the Ormoc District Hospital, making it the country’s 37th such facility.

The neophyte senator led the opening of the center on July 5, was joined by Presidential Assistant for the Visayas, Michael Diño and Leyte Vice Governor Carlo Loreto.

“I know how hard it is to get sick nowadays. That is why improving our medical services throughout the country is my priority,” Go said during the occasion.

Early on that same day, Sen.Go also led in the opening of a Malasakit Center at the Eastern Samar Provincial Hospital in Borongan City and was welcome by provincial officials led by Governor Ben Evardone and Rep. Maria Fe Abunda.

Malasakit Center is a program under the administration of President Rodrigo Duterte to establish one-stop shops in government-run hospitals to hasten the delivery of free medical services to indigent patients.

Under the program, poor patients are assisted in availing medical services and financial assistance provided by the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO), Philippine Amusement and Games Corporation (PAGCOR), Department of Health (DoH), and the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD).

Patients can avail P50,0000 maximum of assistance but will depend on the assessment of the social workers.

All Filipinos are qualified to avail medical assistance from Malasakit Center.

Patients are to use Malasakit Unified Form inside the center for all agencies to avoid redundancy of filling up the same information all over again.

The only qualification is that you are a Filipino. You do not need to present anything else.

Vice Gov.Loreto said that this project is very helpful especially to those in need.

“I just hope that all district hospitals in Leyte, such as the Baybay District hospital, Hilongos District Hospital and the Leyte Provincial hospital, will have their Malasakit Centers, too” Loreto said.

Reopening of Ormoc City Airport will result to more tourists coming to the city and neighboring areas, says Tiopes ORMOC CITY – The reopening of the Ormoc City Airport will open door for the development the tourism industry of this city and its neighboring areas which are part of the so-called Northwest Leyte Tourism Corridor.

President Rodrigo Duterte formally opened the Ormoc City Airport on July 5 and joined by Department of Transportation(DoTr) Secretary Arthur Tugade, Senator Christopher ‘Bong’ Go, Presidential Assistant to the Visayas Michael Diño, Civil Aviation Authority of the Philippines(CAAP) Director General Captain Jim Sydiongco, Leyte Rep. Lucy Torres Gomez(4th district),and Ormoc City Mayor Richard Gomez.

Karina Rosa Tiopes, regional director of the Department of Tourism (DOT), said that with the opening of the city airport, tourists need not used the Daniel Z. Romualdez (DZR) Airport in Tacloban, about two hours away from this city.

Thus, she said, areas within the Northwest Leyte Tourism Corridor would now be accessible to tourists, she said.

“Access and connectivity is really crucial for Philippine tourism because we are an archipelago,” Tiopes said.

“A new airport that can service wider aircraft is a positive development for us because this means that we now develop a new connectivity with a new gateway in the other side of Leyte that will service the tourism side in part of Northwest Leyte,” the tourism regional director added.

Most of the popular tourist destinations Leyte are located on its north-western.

Among these are the Lake Danao, Tongonan Hot Spring and Alto Peak, Kalanggaman Island, and Cuatro Islas.

Except for a flying school, the airport has yet to accommodate commercial airline since December, 2018 due to low traffic.

The Ormoc City Airport sustained major damages due to the devastation of super typhoon ‘Yolanda’ in 2013 and a major earthquake four years later.

The national government through the DOTr allocated P34-million for the rehabilitation of the terminal building and another budget worth P82-million was allocated for asphalt overlay of runway and another P55-million for runway widening project which is expected to be completed by 2020.

Sec. Tugade said that target of their agency and CAAP to make the airport a night-rated before the end of President Duterte’s term.

A night-rated airport is capable of launching and receiving flights at night, allowing the facility to accommodate flights even nighttime, resulting for more travel option.

“The promise of our aviation sector is before our President’s term ends, this airport will be night-rated,” Tugade said.

Rep. Gomez welcomes this announcement of Sec. Tugade saying that she is very happy for the national government action of her constant request to rehabilitate the city airport and to make the facility capable of night flights.

“That is why Sec. Tugade is one of our favorite secretaries because he is always sincere in helping and he always has good news with him,” Rep. Gomez said.

Gomez added that with the reopening of the city airport, their next step is to invite airline companies to operate in Ormoc.

“It is always part of the plan. It will energize the economy and people who are from the city and its neighboring areas will no longer have to travel to Tacloban because we have an operational airport in Ormoc,” the lady solon said.

Nutrition Month highlights proper diet, physical activity

TACLOBAN CITY- Concerned by rising cases of lifestyle diseases, the Department of Health (DOH) and National Nutrition Council (NNC) has emphasized the value of proper diet and more active physical activities for better health.

On Friday(July 5), hundreds of government officials and representatives from the private sector gathered at the Leyte provincial capitol grounds here to join the advocacy meant for all ages.

Department of Health Eastern Regional Visayas Director Minerva Molon said the advent of technology and fast food craze have changed the dietary behavior and physical activities of Filipinos.

“The abundance of technology now available to most children discourages them from participating in more traditional physical activities needed to stay healthy. Most parents allow children to use gadgets to pacify them because

Extant fire cases

According to some authorities, the proliferation nowadays of cheap electronic and electrical products from China has contributed to the unabated fire cases especially in congested squatter areas in big towns and cities throughout the country.

We have now entered into the frequently rainy months, but these cases of fire that are swallowing residential districts still remain as though we are yet in the hot, summertime. Of course, there are the usual causes of fire like faulty electrical wiring, etc., but these cheap products that people resort to buy had likewise become a frequent cause of these fires.

Extension cords from China, to name a sample, look reliable because they look big, but if you examine the metallic content inside, it is so tiny that, when bigger and more appliances are plugged in to that thing, the cord gets burned and if no one could unplug it at once, it will eventually create fire in the house that could spread wildly to the neighbourhood.

This must caution our people. Stop buying those cheap products only for reasons of their affordability. They do not last, anyway. They are deceptive, of worst quality, and by-products of dishonesty. Besides, your house and all your appliances may all burn down to ashes if those inferior products would erupt into wild fires. Better yet, boycott all these China products; they are just capturing our cash, not at all after our consumer satisfaction.

As we continually cherish and promote these products, we do not just risk our homes with fire, we are also all the more enriching a country that is bullying us and draining our marine resources at the West Philippine Sea.

Talutang

Calling any of our family members nowadays has become easier with communication gadgets like cellphones, tablets, and laptops. All you need is a sufficient load, wifi signal, and of course, a similar gadget at the hands of the household member you are communicating to. These have become basic essentials to our daily communication.

The above title, which is a name of an object, equally served as a communication device before, or even until now, but it must sound rather strange to many, especially to urban folks. That's not surprising because talutang, for your information, was not just an ancient tool—it was also exclusive to remote areas where houses are so distant from one another, being separated by hills, valleys, and mountains.

In these locations that, up to now, are deprived of electricity, telephone signals, and other communication advancements, people had devised means to communicate to their distant loved ones so as not to strain their vocal chords by shouting uselessly to the top of their voices when calling them. One of these indigenous inventions was the so-called talutang, which was made of huge bamboo trunks cut into smaller segments.

Talutangs didn't have keypads, or chargers. With both ends naturally closed by that part called buko, this bamboo segment was crafted with an elongated hole about one inch wide. Then a string is attached to one end from which this talutang would hang, usually outside the window. A short wooden stick would then be used to hit it so it would create a sound, just like a bell. The harder you hit it, the louder it sounds it could actually be heard even from the other side of the mountain or from the distant valley below.

Since they did not make the same pitch, each talutang in every household had a different sound. Fam- see Talutang /page 7 ...

Drug-related EJKs probe by UN rejected by us!!

Do we agree with the decision of the Duterte administration to reject a probe on the controversial war on drugs by the United Nation Human Rights Council (UNHRC)? Is this not a violation of standard policies of the United Nations agreed and approved by the members of the United Nations?

The Republic of the Philippines has been an active member of this international organization for quite sometime now!

Strict observance of human rights are seriously practiced and implemented in democratic nations. We are a democratic country.

-oOo-

When the President Duterte administration rejected an investigation by the UNHRC, it is truly a cover up of human rights violations in its bloody war on drugs from the time Duterte assumed the Presidency 3 years ago. Based on daily news reports in print and broadcast, extrajudicial killings happen in its campaign.

Perils

Over three years of conditioning the public mind that lives are less important under the present administration. The odious piling statistics of coldblooded assassinations of hapless citizens under mere suspicion of resisting warrantless nabs sustains such unwritten state policy. The campaign promise to end the drug menace afflicting society had become a continuing effort beyond the quarter of a year timeline. Law enforcers brag of accomplishing the ridding of streets and neighborhoods from drugged-crazed criminals preying on unsuspecting victims. Numerous reports of drugged perpetrators shivering in fear of encountering faceless operators sending suspects to kingdom come.

Criminals victimizing helpless citizens with minor crimes against property like snatching gadgets that at times end in eliminating the victim if resisting are indeed abominable. There too are those who fall into sex crimes where the victim is silenced forever after getting waylaid by demonic perpetrators purportedly under the influence of drugs. The incidents of criminals victimizing helpless citizens are real perils in many streets and neighborhoods. Dangerous nooks of communities where alleged drugged individuals are lurking are the main target of the campaign to rid the country of the drug menace.

There are gains being brandished by law enforcers that purportedly resulted in the reduction of petty crimes in streets and neighborhoods. Indeed, the continuing threats to lawless elements victimizing helpless citizens had instilled fear to those involved in street crimes. But there are still reported incidents of snatching and holdups committed

Those killed in the campaign are mostly pushers, users, and those innocent civilian “caught” the cross-fire, says the police. Hows about Lords?

Police official statement says that about 4,000 have been killed in the campaign “dahil nan-laban”. Human rights groups revealed that over 10,000 have been victims of the extrajudicial killings.

-oOo-

Everyone in this country who read news reports and listen to broadcast news or commentaries believe that EJKs are a reality in this land. ONLY Malacañang Spokesman Salvador Panelo “believe” there are no extra judicial killings in our country. Of course his credibility is now sadly wrecked on this issue for a long time now.

-oOo-

So today our image in the international community is already smeared by this rejection. What happens next? I do not know. ABANGAN!!!

by criminals now riding in tandem in single motorcycles. This is a clear manifestation that lawless elements continue to pry on helpless victims despite the intensified campaign against criminals roaming our streets and neighborhood.

Often caught on closed circuit cameras installed in many urban communities, snatchers nowadays no longer flee on foot but on motorcycles, leaving their hapless victims and even law enforcers biting the dust in pursuit. It was hard for law enforcers to run after snatchers fleeing on foot or taking cover while the police look elsewhere, more so this time that snatchers are riding on motorcycles to escape from being nabbed. The situation puts citizens in great danger as they walk along streets and sidewalks where riding in tandem criminals roam. Apart from the petty crimes that had drastically been reduced as observed, there still is the growing number of victims whose perpetrators remain free and are unsolved.

People continue to keep their hope that things will turn better in the coming years. Amid the uncertainty of realizing the campaign promises issued by the sitting president in the see Perils/page 8 ...

The small and the big in love

WHERE there is true love, everything becomes meaningful and is pursued with a passion. The small and ordinary things of the day become very significant. There is never a dull, monotonous moment in the daily routine.

And while one's usual daily task would only involve small and ordinary things, he is also ready to take on big, extraordinary things when the need arises. In fact, when one is truly in love, he will not allow himself to be trapped in some kind of routine, but will always take the initiative to look for other tasks and challenges if only to do more good to everyone. He would always be inventive and creative.

He is not afraid of the effort and sacrifice that may be involved. He would do all this without expecting any reward, or even an acknowledgment. He would do them simply because he wants to do them, he wants to give himself. No special reason is needed other than sheer goodness.

Where there is true love, not even problems, difficulties and misunderstanding, failure, rejection, etc. would detain him from his total self-giving. He would just be game whatever the outcome of his love-driven initiatives would be. In fact, tackling the sacrifices and suffering involved can only mean the authenticity of his love.

Of course, to be truly in love means one should have the same attitude God has toward his creation, especially toward us. We know that God is love. (cfr. 1 Jn 4,8) He is full of goodness. He went all the way to offering his life on the cross.

Even if his love is not reciprocated and is in fact rejected, he continues to love. It does not really matter to him if he is loved in return by us or not. He will continue to love us. Because of this kind of love, God will offer forgiveness for everyone and will do everything to bring us back to him, no matter what the cost.

This kind of love is precisely dramatized in full by Christ who offered his life on the cross for us, for our salvation. “Greater love has no one than this, that he lays down his life for his friends.” (Jn 15,13)

And he wants this kind of love to be our love for him and for one another. In fact, he commands us to do so. “This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you,” he said. (Jn 15,13) And he continued, “You are my friends if you do what I command you.” (Jn 15,14)

It's quite clear then what exactly would cement our friendship with Christ—if we know how to love one another as he himself loved us, a love that goes all the way to offering one's life for his friend. We obviously have to prepare ourselves to reach this ideal and goal, especially disciplining our thoughts, memory, imagination, emotions and passions, so that they conform to the standard set forth by Christ himself.

We should be mag-nanimous especially when that love would demand some extraordinary effort and sacrifice from us, like when we are asked to be patient, compassionate, tolerant and merciful with those who cause us some trouble.

Christ wants us to have the utmost refinement in our love for one another. “Unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven,” he said. (Mt 5,20) It would not be enough to avoid harming a person physically. He wants us to avoid even thinking and desiring evil of a person or calling a person names.

Christ wants us not to be afraid to undertake big, ambitious projects for the good of everyone when the chance arises, and to be flexible in our ways so as to meet the needs of the others more promptly and effectively.

Prayer for the Nation and for Those who Serve in Public Office

God, our Father, you guide everything in wisdom and love. Accept the prayers we offer for our nation, by the wisdom of our leaders and integrity of our citizens, may harmony and justice be secured and may there be lasting prosperity and peace.

Almighty and eternal God, You know the longings of our hearts and You protect our rights in your goodness, watch over those in authority, so that people everywhere may enjoy freedom, security and peace.

We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever, Amen. (Courtesy of Daughters of St. Paul)

DPWH-ESDEO starts construction of 46 school buildings in Eastern Samar

BORONGAN CITY- The Department of Public Works and Highways-Eastern Samar District Engineering Office (DPWH-ESDEO) is presently undertaking the construction of 46 school building projects.

Manolo Rojas, DPWH-ESDEO district engineer, told Leyte Samar Daily Express in an interview that these school buildings undergoing construction with a total of 149 classrooms or workshops have a total cost of P408.9 million funded under the Department of Education (DepEd) 2018 Basic Education Facilities Fund.

Rojas said that all these school buildings located in the 14 towns of the province are projected to be finished before the end of this year.

He claims that these school buildings will help solve the shortage of classrooms upon completion as these projects will accommodate the growing number of students including those in the hinterland barangays of the province.

Rojas assured the public that the construction of these school buildings observes the right quality and conforming to design and standards.

"I directed all my project engineers to monitor the construction of these school buildings because it is important that these buildings are with standard quality for they serve as the second home of our students," Rojas said.

He said his office will remain steadfast in its commitment in delivering their basic services to the people specifically the DepEd programs by providing enough classrooms to cope with the shortage of classrooms.

He added that in the construction of these school buildings, his office along with DepEd jointly conformed to the standard design and compliant with the National Structural Code of the Philippines for school infrastructure to be calamity-resilient and to withstand strong typhoons and major earthquakes. (RESTITUTO A. CAYUBIT)

Eastern Samar remains peaceful – PNP

BORONGAN CITY- The Philippine National Police (PNP) – Eastern Samar Police Provincial Office (ESPPO) through P/Lt. Col. Edwin F. Barbosa, deputy provincial director, reported that the province of Eastern Samar is generally peaceful.

He said this during the Provincial Peace and Order Council (PPOC) meeting on June 26 at the Capitol Building, this city.

Barbosa said his assessment was based on their accomplishments and assessments for every Municipal Police Station (MPS) in Eastern Samar.

The police officer disclosed that from January to May 2019, the crime solution efficiency is 63.70 percent while for the crime clearance efficiency is at 92.43 percent.

Barbosa further informed that they arrested 36 illegal drug users and pushers and confiscated shabu and marijuana; 84 illegal gamblers and confiscated bet money; 28 illegal loggers confiscated lumber; and 144 illegal fishermen, confiscated catch.

Cases were filed in courts.

The deputy provincial director further said there are also persons arrested who violated the laws on violence against women and children and their cases were filed already in courts.

"Our accomplishments are the parameters that our policemen in the field are doing their job well," Barbosa added.

The ESPPO promised to continue its endeavor to make Eastern Samar peaceful.

Presently, ESPPO has a workforce of some 902 Police Commissioned Officers and Police Non-Commissioned Officers provincewide.

Barbosa attributed the peace and order situation to the continuing support extended by the Armed Forces of the Philippines, civilian volunteer organizations, local government units, non-government organizations, civilians, and other stakeholders. (NBQ/SDC/PIA-E. Samar) ilies then would agree among themselves how they would strike the talutang, or how many strikes to make when calling upon certain members. This was to make sure they got the right house source. They may have three successive blows, a pause, and another three in a row.

Though one was gathering firewood in the nearby forest, or fishing by the river, or planting rice in the field, one would surely hear the echoing sound of talutang, which was a signal for him to go home for important reasons. This was particularly helpful when calling children home while playing with other kids in other houses. Stubborn kids may not heed it at first, but when successive blows are heard, it was a sign the parent calling them was already losing patience and was perhaps preparing a paddle.

Perhaps, this device is nowhere to be found nowadays, but it's worth knowing that, to many rural folks of old, it was a vital communication tool, deemed to be so essential just as we equipped ourselves with modern gadgets now for communication ends. In fact, we might as well continue its usage so that, when our gadgets are lowbat, or short of loads, we can still communicate to our loved ones.

15th Gawad Geny Lopez Jr. Bayaning Pilipino Awards sponsored by ABS-CBN and Ugat Foundation.

“Now, I can say that nothing is impossible if you will just offer everything to our Almighty Father for His will is our path towards success,” said Mosquito after receiving the award in Manila on July 3.

“Receiving an award from a very prestigious award-giving body like ABS-CBN and UGAT Foundation is more than enough to say that at last I was able to fulfill my duties and responsibilities of being a public elementary school teacher,” he said.

According to Mosquito, whose been in the teaching profession for 13 years now, working beyond and above the call of duty is not so easy but if a teacher is inspired and passionate enough to serve the best interest for the learners’ welfare he will succeed and fulfill the realization of being a true public servant.

“We should not limit our services within the four walls of our classrooms but rather widen its horizon to touch and uplift the lives of the people,” said the 34-year-old head teacher.

Mosquito’s innovation is called Project: Life or “Life-long Interventions through a Finest Environment,” a project enhancing the implementation of “Gulayan Sa Paaralan” into an organic vegetable production for malnutrition alleviation, love for mother nature, income generating project, livelihood for parents, school greening and beautification program.

He thanked for the support of his fellow faculty members, principal, parents, students, education officials, and local leaders who inspired him in his teaching career.

Edgar Tenasas, assistant schools division superintendent of Leyte, extolled Mosquito’s achievement saying what he is doing is ‘inspiring.’

“The schools division of Leyte is one with you in celebrating this success. May you continue to inspire others for the sake of our learners,” he said.

The annual Gawad Geny Lopez, Jr. - Bayaning Pilipino Awards aims to give recognition to ordinary Filipinos who exemplified the Filipino values of humanitarianism, industry, determination, and dedication to public service.

Producing additional Income through Sustainable projects Out of Trash (P I S O)

BY: JOSEPHINE S. MUEVA

Environmental sustainability helps prevent global warming and climate change. One example of environmental sustainability is through proper waste segregation which contributes a lot in maintaining a clean, safe and healthy environment. A healthy environment encourage our community for a healthy living as well us to the learners learning.

Our pupils is the hope of our nation in terms of learning process. We have to mold them the right value and attitude towards cleanliness. Whatever we teach to them we have to evaluate the learning they learned if they really applied it in school and community.

Some pupils are not much educate in proper segregation of waste materials. Even though teachers reminded to segregate it still pupils disobeyed to follow the school rules. They throw their garbage everywhere where young learner do the same habit of what they saw to other pupils.

Is there I can do to help lessen the garbage in school? A big question that comes into my mind. So, I decided to initiate a program that could help the pupils in disciplining the proper waste segregation.

I informed parents about the program that the plastic wrappers they collected will be used as throw pillows , and sell it to the community where the proceeds was to purchase school supplies as incentive for the pupils who shows good performance in numeracy.

At early age of 7 and 8 from my grade 2 pupils I assigned them to lead the activities like Monitoring every classroom in proper segregation, so with this pupils practice the good value of proper waste segregation.

Even my class they know where to put their trash. Every time I opened the trash cans their garbage was segregated. So with this, positive value of waste segregation will impart to their mid how important the segregation and how this can help to our environment. If this problem will not be prevented it poses serious threats to our health.

The Finish Output that encourage everyone to help minimize the waste and turn into cash.

With this activity we are sharing everyone to work harmoniously and deep within our heart to contribute the safe and healthy environment for the sake of our learners.

Hinugayan Elementary School now enjoys using their newly constructed multi-purpose hall

BY: JOCELA B. CAÑEZAL

BARUGO, Leyte – When super typhoon ‘Yolanda’ hit our place, the multi-purpose hall of Hinugayan Elementary School in Barangay Hinugayan, Barugo, Leyte was one of the school structures that was damaged. It became an eyesore to everyone visiting the school and venue of school events became a problem. This was the reason why means and ways to resolve it was given priority. Relying on school fund and other maintenance operating expenses can’t build a new hall. Teachers came up with a solution. Through a joint resolution made by the barangay officials of Brgy. Hinugayan and the General Parents-Teachers Association (GPTA), this project was realized. Barangay chairman

Hon. Romulo A. Mobilla, GPTA President Mr. Rufino A. Aguja, the school head Nancy L. Condino, teachers and other stakeholders took the lead for the realization of this project. The provincial government of Leyte granted such request. More than P2 million fund was allocated for a new hall of the school. Presently a structure that was once an eyesore become a structure worth to be proud of. Truly collaboration can make a difference. Thank you Province of Leyte through Governor Leopoldo Dominico L. Petilla. The entire school is so grateful for the assistance extended. (Note: The author is a Teacher III of the Hinugayan Elementary School in Barugo, Leyte)

DPWH kicks off construction of 2019 infra projects in Leyte 2

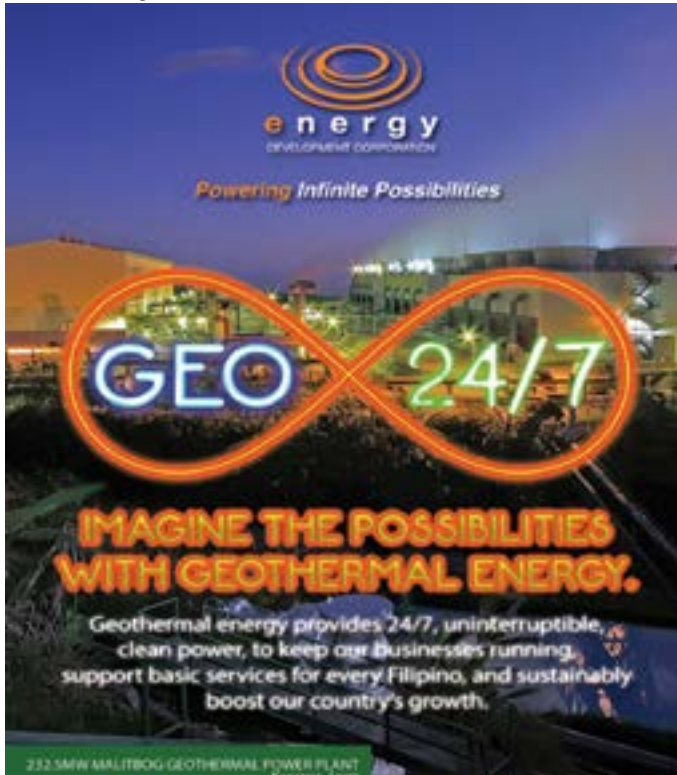

CARIGARA, Leyte – The Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) Leyte second district engineering district has already started construction of the various infrastructure projects under the 2019 General Appropriations Act (GAA). According to Gerald Pacanan, DPWH Leyte II District Engineer, implementation of the 2019 projects was delayed due to late approval of the annual budget. President Rodrigo Duterte signed the national budget on April 15 with some vetoed items including the P75 billion insertions applied by congressmen covering public works projects. For this fiscal year, Leyte 2 is tasked to implement 87 projects worth P1.57 billion covering road and bridge improvement projects and construction of other government facilities. Of which 21 of these projects are already ongoing which include 2 major road rehabilitation, 4 bridge widening, and 15 barangay road projects. “We strictly require contractors to immediately start the project upon receiving the notice to proceed. This is because we want to avoid further delays and for them also to finish the project within its time duration,” Pacanan said. Meanwhile, among the high impact projects that the department will implement are the P50 million(M), P73.5 M, and P89.8 M road rehabilitation projects along Jaro-Dagami-Burauen-La paz road, P92.8 M Ibawon bridge in La Paz town, P100 M road pavement project along Burauen-Mahagnao road, P93.9 M road improvement works along Palo-Carigara-Ormoc road and also along this road network is the implementation P179 M road widening projects.(PR)

Southern Leyte avails highest investments in EV under PRDP, DA-8 chief says

MAASIN CITY- Compared to other provinces in the entire Eastern Visayas region, Southern Leyte availed the highest investments under the Philippine Rural Development Project (PRDP), the regional chief of the Department of Agriculture 8 (DA-8) said. Milo D. Delos Reyes, DA-8 executive director said the province of Southern Leyte availed a total of P597.6 million worth of farm-to-market infrastructure and enterprise sub-projects since the project’s inception in 2014. Earlier in June this year, he said, the Agriculture department hosted the 8th World Bank Review Mission wherein a team of World Bank officials and economic experts together with some PRDP executives conducted a thorough project implementation review to measure the performance of the sub-projects relative to the attainment of desired outcomes of the overall development objectives. De los Reyes added that the team visited some road infrastructure and enterprise sub-projects in Southern Leyte funded under the PRDP. “The funded project really speaks well of the kind of leadership and governance you are enjoying in this part of the region,” Delos Reyes said in his message as the guest speaker of the Agri-Fair and Garden Show held June 27, one of the activities of the 59th Founding Anniversary of the province of Southern Leyte.

He said Southern Leyte was able to comply the tedious requirements asked by the World Bank and the steadfast commitment and determination of the provincial and local officials, who have been supportive of the agriculture sector together with the different stakeholders throughout the province. He said that in terms of agriculture development, Southern Leyte can easily be considered as one, if not, the most progressive province in the region. Delos Reyes mentioned some of the awards received by the agri sector such as the recently concluded Farmers and Fisherfolk Month celebration where the joint Regional Gawad Saka Search and the Regional Rice Achievers Award was given to Southern Leyte that ended up as the Most Outstanding Province. Also in 2017, the National Rice Achievers Award was given to Magkasa Instigators Association of San Juan town, which won the Outstanding Instigators Association, he added. “These are just some feats showing how the province of Southern Leyte trailblazing in so far as agriculture is concerned,” Delos Reyes said. With the 59th Founding Anniversary theme of the province dubbed as, “Inisyatibo Alang sa Padayon nga Kalambuan,” the DA chief wished to see more initiatives for the agriculture sector from the local and provincial officials, saying that “What we need are actions and moves to go beyond existing frameworks and approaches, and we should go out-of-the-box so that we will be able to fast track agriculture transformations for the whole Eastern Visayas region.” (LDL/RGC/PIA-8, Southern Leyte)

P20-M cross island road

CALBAYOG CITY – Department of Public Works and Highways – Samar First District Engineering completes construction of island road from Barangay Magsaysay to Barangay Keriketi located in the island of Almagro, Samar. The road covers a length of 0.55 kilometers and a total net width of 6 meters. It has a total appropriation of P20 million from the local infrastructure program. The traversing road will benefit over 268 households from said barangays since there is only a pathway where residents can go to and from the two barangays.

Before, residents travel on foot to reach the other barangay or through motorboats by going around the island since both barangays are located on both ends of the island.

With the completion of the road, local 7shermen and residents can now have an easier and convenient way of traveling. Because of Because of interconnectivity of barangays, there is an immense reduction of travel time.(PR)

In compliance of Helmet Law Mayor Uy asks traffic enforcers to also use helmet

CATBALOGAN CITY – Local traffic enforcers of this city, who are mandated in the enforcement of traffic laws, should set the example in obeying the laws.

Thus said Mayor Dexter Uy who said that he received information and complaints that there are traffic enforcers who are not following the law for motorists to use helmet.

“Under my administration, I will not tolerate law enforcers who doesn’t know how to follow the law,” Mayor Uy said.

The provincial office of Land Transportation Office(LTO), Samar Provincial Police Office and the Catbalogan City Police Station started the strict implementation of Republic Act (RA) 10054, or the “Motorcycle Helmet Act of 2009,” mandating all motorcycle riders to use helmet.

Those apprehended for not wearing the standard protective motorcycle helmet will be fined from P1,500 to P10,000, depending on the number of offense committed and confiscation of the driver’s license.

“I hope that you will abide the law because there is nothing wrong with doing what the law says,” Mayor Uy said.

The wearing of helmet was implemented in Catbalogan City effective July 1, this year.

Police Colonel Dante Novicio, police provincial director, said that motorcycle owners and riders should follow what the rule prescribed on what kind of helmet they should wear.

“Motorcycle riders should wear the prescribed helmet and not just any kind of helmet they want. A helmet used for biking should not be used when using a motorcycle. That is not allowed by law; in fact, we have the national standard,” Novicio said.

“Motorcycle users should be wearing the full faced helmet and not the helmet that only covers half-part of their head. Especially those who are doing long travel, they should wear that the law prescribed,” the police provincial director said.

Although using a half-faced helmet will be allowed as this kind of helmet is not expensive, Novicio said that he would still suggest motorcycle riders to use what the law states.

“The law wants to protect you from accident. I appeal to everyone to use and wear the standard helmet for their safety,” he added.

EVCAA season 2 to include volleyball

TACLOBAN CITY- Buoyed by its smashing success in the inaugural season thru men's basketball, the Eastern Visayas Collegiate Athletic Association (EVCAA) gears to expand its events in Season II.

In the upcoming season, men's caging remains on board, but this time the Management Committee (ManCom) is setting its sights in a sport which is also close to the hearts of sports fans - volleyball.

Just recently, the EVCAA ManCom held a preliminary meeting where important details and concerns for the collegiate volleyball tourney were tackled among the stakeholders.

Present during the meeting were men's hoops commissioner and incoming executive director Julius Ross Lacaba, incoming volleyball commissioner Karl Chan and sports directors of the different state colleges and universities in the region.

The schools that sent their representatives were Eastern Visayas State University, Leyte Normal University, Visayas State University, Biliran Province State University, Samar State University, Northwest Samar State University and Palompon Institute of Technology.

Although their sports directors were not able to attend, Southern Leyte State University and University of Eastern Philippines sent a word that they are very interested to join the league.

The ManCom is also planning to meet with some private schools who are interested to join the first and only collegiate league in Region 8.

During the meeting, it was learned that in the regions, including Eastern Visayas, men's volleyball is more competitive than the women's side, contrary to the situation in Metro Manila where women's volleyball is more popular.

Thus, the ManCom is tinkering with the idea of putting up a regular volleyball tourney for men, just like with the men's basketball in season II.

However, women's volleyball will not be put in the backburner as plans have it that a tilt for them will be held also, albeit on a smaller scale.

The initial plan is for the men to have a regular tourney and a pocket competitions for women.

The 2nd season of EVCAA is slated to open in early September with volleyball as its first offering.

On the other hand,

men's basketball blasts off on late January or early February next year wherein the EVSU Eagles will defend their crown.

Games for both volleyball and basketball will be aired live thru PRTV-Tacloban.

Netizens may watch it via live-streaming on social media.

Tingog party-list, which copped its first ever seat in Congress, is the principal backer of EVCAA.

Tingog envisions EVCAA to be the premier sporting league in the region that will serve as a platform or breeding ground for future sports stars.

the French national.

"I said few in my life, people who would come to, come here and try to help my fellowmen. Kaya I feel like almost maybe sentimental now because I've seen the complex that you have built for my countrymen," he said.

And addressing to Calida, the President said: "Di ba may administrative yan? Well, kindly work on it because actually Patrick is very much willing to become a Filipino citizen. And if we can do that in a jiffy, hurry up," he said.

The President even said that he is even willing to 'cut corners' and just issue an executive order.

Then, he added that if Renucci eventually become a naturalized Filipino citizen, he might just name him at his Cabinet.

"Maye I'll try-experimental lang naman. If he becomes a naturalized citizen, then I think he is qualified to be a member of the Cabinet. Then I can maybe ask Sir Patrick that you join us and help us because it's really agriculture," the President said.

Renucci and his wife came to the country, particularly in Leyte, in 2015, two years after the province was devastated by super typhoon 'Yolanda.'

According to the couple, whose been living in Europe, they decided to put up the facility to help farmers, in particular have sustainable livelihood, as they were the most affected by the disaster as they noticed that there were several arable lands but the farmers were lacking of assistance and skills to improve their living condition.

The vast complex, built at P1.5 billion, is considered to be the most technologically advanced such facility in Southeast Asia where the milling, drying, and packaging are being done by automation using a Japanese technology.

For his Agriculture Sec. Manny Piñol also expressed his gratitude to the Renucci couple for coming up such facility.

"In behalf of the DA and the rice farmers of Alangalang, I would like to extend to them our great appreciation and I pray that this project will be replicated elsewhere in the country so that our rice farmers would have a fighting chance in competing foreign-produce rice," he said.
