TACLOBAN CITY- Samar Rep. Milagrosa 'Mila' Tan immediately posted a bail of P240,000 after she was found guilty by the Sandiganbayan for her alleged misuse of calamity funds of the province while she was still the governor.

And with her provisional liberty, Tan will continue her desire to reclaim the gubernatorial post she held for nine years, an aide said.

The same aide, who asked not to be identified, said that her lawyers have also filed their motion for reconsideration.

The Sandiganbayan, on March 1, found the Samar congresswoman guilty of eight counts of graft with a possible imprisonment of 65 years involving P1.61 million worth of the province' calamity funds.

The anti-graft court also ruled that Tan could no longer be eligible to get any elective post.

"She is confident that she will eventually be acquitted on the charges filed against her," the aide, in a phone interview, said.

Quoting Tan, he said that the charges against her were "politically motivated" intended to derail her gubernatorial bid.

"She still remains a candidate for governor of Samar and she will surely campaign once the campaign period starts," the aide said.

Candidates seeking for local posts are to start their sored by Oxfam, We Care Partners and the city government of Tacloban.

The mass wedding, held on March 1, served as the opening salvo of the activities lined up by the city government for the Women's

Homonhon Island declares a Chinese national as a persona non grata GUIUAN, Eastern Samar - A Chinese national could no longer set his foot at the historic island of Homonhon, this town.

This after the officials of the villages of Canawayon and Casuguran filed a resolution declaring Yang Ming as a persona non grata.

Ming is the president of the Cambayas Mining Corporation (CMC), a mining company which entered into an agreement with another mining company, TechIron.

However, CMC lodged a complaint against TechIron claiming that the latter failed to comply their profit sharing agreement.

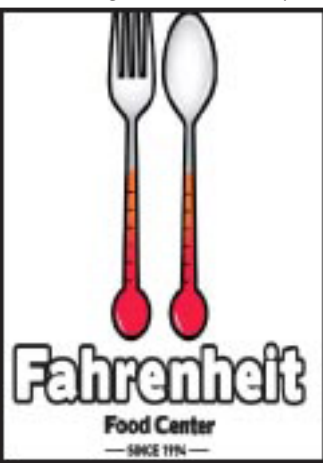

The persona non grata resolution against Ming was filed by the village officials of Canawayon and Casuguran on February 13.

Last Feb.6, Ming arrived at the historic island reportedly accompanied with a group of armed men purportedly to enforce a liquidation order issued by a court against TechIron without any sheriff with them.

This apparent show of force by the Chinese national not only alarmed the villagers but caused trauma to them, particularly the children, the resolutions said.

"They did not seek consent when they entered the Mayor Cristina officiates “Kasalang Bayan” for 129 couples

TACLOBAN CITY- Mayor Cristina G. Romualdez officiated the wedding of 129 couples from 37 barangays at the Tacloban City Convention Center (Astrodome) on March 1, 2019.

The couples enjoyed the free ‘kasalang bayan’ or mass wedding, a regular program of the city government through the City Civil Registrar’s Office (CCRO).

Fees for marriage applications and marriage licenses were also waived for the newlyweds and a free wedding reception was sponsored for them by the local government.

Mayor Romualdez, in her message during the mass wedding ceremony, reminded the couples that marriage is a covenant between the couple and advised them to be steadfast in their relationship.

Sixty Seven-year-old Eduardo Penidillo and Clarita Enosario, 65 were the oldest beneficiaries of the program. The couple who were unable to hold a wedding because of poverty has been living together for 30 years.

Coinciding with the event was the launching of the #iLabaYu advocacy campaign of Oxfam with celebrity influencer Camille Prats.

According to Oxfam, the campaign encourages men to share in household chores, particularly laundry and contribute to raising a future generation of Filipinos that live out the true meaning of respect and equality beginning at home.

Prats was accompanied by Oxfam Country Director Rosario Felizco. The non-government organization partnered with the CCRO for the free civil wedding program.

Philippine Statistics Authority Leyte Director Wilma Perante, City Social Welfare Officer Remedios Buna and CCR Officer Imelda Roa also witnessed the Mass Wedding.

Before the event on Friday, the couples attended a pre-marriage orientation and counseling activity conducted by the City Population Office, in coordination with the CSWDO that had topics on “Marriage and Relationships”, “Responsible Parenthood”, “Child Rearing” and Family Planning.”

According to the CCRO, Pre-Marriage Orientation and Counseling is “pre-requisite” activity for would-be spouses to help ensure a strong and healthy married life.

DPWH finishes P40-M river landing in Eastern Samar

BORONGAN CITY- Department of Public Works and Highways Eastern Samar District Engineering Office (DPWH ESDEO) completed 16 river landing projects in the upstream barangays in Can-avid, Dolores, Oras, Eastern Samar.

These river landing structures are convergence projects of DPWH funded by the Department of Transportation (DOTr).

These completed projects were constructed at the five upstream barangays in Can-avid, Eastern Samar namely Malogo, Mabuhay, Camantang, Caghalong, and Baruk; another six barangays in Dolores, Eastern Samar particularly in Sta. Cruz, San Pascual, Magsaysay, Denigpian, San Roque and Buenavista; and another five remote areas in Oras, Eastern Samar in Cagdine, Gamot, Batang, Alang-alang and Cadian.

According to District Engineers Manolo A. Rojas, river landing projects are small ports constructed along the shore of rivers at the upstream barangays.

DE Rojas also disclosed that the completion of the projects will provide convenient and safe facilities to commuting public and easy transportation of goods and services to near-by mainland.

Meanwhile, the project manager of DOTr-Maritime Sector Julius Carlos said in an interview that these projects were mentioned by President Duterte in his first state of the nation address (SONA) regarding the socio-economic development that promotes inter-island linkages.

In Biliran Town mayor denies claim he plays politics in identifying gov’t-sponsored housing project

TACLOBAN CITY – The mayor of Culaba town in Biliran denied that he delisted families from the list of a housing project.

Mayor Lorenzo Reveldez said that he was surprised on the allegation saying that the list has been drawn three years ago.

These families are living in coastal areas identified by the government as risk areas reason they are to be resettled in safe zones.

“The final list was submitted to the National Housing Authority in 2016,” Reveldez said in an interview conducted by on-line website Biliran Island on March 2.

The NHA constructed about 700 housing units in Barangay Guindapunan.

“Who told them that if they will not vote for me and my brother ,who is running for mayor, will be delisted? How can we not award them the house

if their name is in the list? Reveldez said in the same interview.

Earlier, some residents of the town claimed that their names were either delisted from the list of the housing resettlement project or purposely lifted out due to politics.

They also alleged that Mayor Reveldez asked them to ‘vote straight’ and in return, would be included in the list.

Reveldez is running for vice governor of the province in this year’s May 13 elections with his brother, Rodito, who is an incumbent town councilor, running for mayor.

“I don’t want to accuse but I know politics has to do with this issue. We know that election is coming and issues even they are untrue will come out to destroy other candidates,” Reveldez said.

“Maybe I am a threat (to them) that is why they are throwing issues against me. But I can’t dictate the people whom they should vote for. If they will choose me, then I will thank them but if not, I have to accept it,” Reveldez added.

Breast milk saves babies, infants from measles -- DOH-8 official TACLOBAN CITY- On top of the vaccine, breast milk could have minimized the number of measles-infected babies and infants in the region.

So said Dr. Exuperia Sabelberino, assistant regional director (ARD) of the Department of Health 8 (DOH-8) during the inauguration ceremony of the Human Milk Bank on Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Eastern Visayas Regional Medical Center (EVRMC), here.

“Babies are protected from diseases when mothers breastfeed them exclusively from birth to six months and up to two years,” she said.

“However, there is a very low coverage in the region, of mothers who are feeding their babies with their milk only, despite the best quality that is being told them by health workers and media,” she added.

Sabelberino recalled that in the olden days, there were lesser babies who were affected by measles, six months after birth, because they were fed exclusively with their mother’s milk.

“In the recent days, however, babies as young as three months were already reported to have been infected with the highly viral disease, some even died,” she lamented.

“It could be because many mothers today, either are not aware or refuse to believe that the human milk is filled with substances that are not present in animal’s milk nor in other commercial formula,” she pointed out.

“Breastfeeding should be a multi-sectoral concern, from correct information, advocacy campaign to behavior change and practices, because breastfeeding is more than just a nutrition,” Dr. Sabelberino concluded.

Human Milk Bank for Visayas installed at EVRMC

TACLOBAN CITY- The first ever Human Milk Bank for Visayas was installed on Thursday, Feb. 28, at the Eastern Visayas Regional Medical Center (EVRMC) in this city.

Costing an approximate P9 million, the equipment that preserve the human milk is a lone donation of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in its aim to help the people in the region promote exclusive breastfeeding and prevent disease and mortality among babies and infants.

As Chief of EVRMC, Dr. Salvador Evardone, expressed his overwhelming joy during the inauguration program, because according to him, this is another health program which the region's medical center can give service to the people with excellence.

Asked why EVRMC was chosen among other big hospitals in Eastern Visayas, Dr. Wigdan Marani, UNICEF's representative and chief for health and nutrition said, that after super typhoon "Yolanda," they saw how EVRMC responded to the traumatized victims of the disaster, children in particular.

"We were witnesses of babies and infants in need of medical attention and nutritional intervention. We knew then they could not be fed properly of their mothers' milk because of the trauma the parents themselves manifested from the enormous disaster," Dr. Marani shared.

"In an area that is prone to disaster, there could be a high incidence of infant mortality, thus UNICEF pours medical and nutritional assistance for the people in Tacloban in particular, being the most "Yolanda" devastated area," Marani added.

She also appealed to lactating mothers to donate their milk to help save the lives of babies requiring the world's best milk.

The Human Milk Bank is capable to store the human milk in a week time, after it has undergone the process from expressing to pasteurizing to thawing etc.

It is made available to babies needing to be fed with the human milk as prescribed by a doctor.

"Breastfeeding mothers have only to include any soup of their taste in their diet to produce the milk, so there wouldn't be any problem in producing it, as other mothers assert they don't have," said Dr. Nelita Salinas, EVRMC's chairman of Pediatrics Department, "and since the milk is donated, it shall be given free, except for the pasteurizing cost of P220 per 100ml," Dr. Salinas further informed. (AENicart/PIA-8)

Private group eyes infra projects in Eastern Samar

BORONGAN CITY- For good governance and transparency, Eastern Samar Development Project Monitoring Team (ESDPMT), Department of Public Works and Highways Eastern Samar District Engineering Office (DPWH ESDEO) and National Irrigation Administration (NIA) joined together in one meeting on January 18, 2019 at DPWH ESDEO Function Hall to discuss status of infrastructure projects in the province of Eastern Samar.

The meeting was initiated by ESDPMT, an independent, ethics-oriented civil society group, composed of individuals representing the various stakeholders.

The team is composed of lawyers, engineers, personalities from the academe, religious group and other sectors in the government.

During the preliminaries, Bishop Crispin Varquez, one of the leaders and organizers of ESDPMT, stated that the main purpose of the meeting is to monitor and ensure the proper implementation of infrastructure projects in the province.

The assembly discussed the DPWH Eastern Samar on-going and lined up projects; Maydolong-Basey Road construction update; status of damaged roads along national highways; engineering solution to landslide-prone areas and situation of the irrigation system in Eastern Samar.

District Engineer Manolo A. Rojas of DPWH ESDEO said that 107 project will be implemented in Eastern Samar this 2019.

"Our total appropriation for this year 2019 once approved is worth 1.6 billion pesos, this includes improvement of shoulders and drainage system along landslide prone areas particularly in Llorente and Giporlos, flood control projects, roads leading to tourism destinations and other local infra projects," added DE Rojas.

DE Rojas also disclosed that the Samar Island Natural Park-Protected Area Management Board (SINP-PAMB) EXECOM resolution was already approved. The said resolution is endorsing the DPWH for prior clearance to continue the construction of Maydolong-Basey Road.

"We still have four phases to fully complete the Maydolong-Basey road project amounting to P839.2 million, but for the 2019, our focus is to finish prior year contract since it was suspended last year," said DE Rojas.

Maydolong-Basey road is one of the high impact projects of DPWH because once completed, it will be the shortest route from Borongan to Tacloban and will save an hour travel from the usual four hours ride via Lawaan.

The district engineer mentioned also future network road development plans like the Can-avid-Dolores-Maslog-Jipapad-Las Navas bypass road.

"Our plan is to link this road to San Jose de Buan which when realized will comprise the Samar Island Central Highway," added DE Rojas.

Meanwhile Dr. Leovigildo Cardenas, a dean from the Eastern Samar State University and one of the members of ESDPMT, posted a thank you message in his Facebook account to DE Rojas for being accommodating and supportive to the monitoring team.

On the comment section, one of the netizens named Felisa Gomba, admired the DPWH Eastern Samar District Engineering Office for reporting its accomplishments to external see Private /page 9...

Guiuan mayor claims political harassment on suspension order issued by Ombudsman TACLOBAN CITY- The mayor of Guiuan town in Eastern Samar who was ordered suspended by the Office of the Ombudsman cries political harassment.

Mayor Christopher Sheen Gonzales, outgoing mayor of Guiuan town, said that he finds it unfortunate that the decision of the anti-graft court came at a time as the country is to hold elections.

He said that the case against him was filed while he was seeking for a reelection as mayor of Guiuan in March, 2016.

Gonzales, who is serving his third and last term as mayor of Guiuan is seeking for a congressional seat for Eastern Samar lone congressional district in this year's midterm elections.

"It's purely harassment and politically motivated. This issue always come out every election. But it's not true because the local government of Guiuan has no disallowances from the Commission on Audit," Gonzales said.

He also said that the complaint against him were fabricated and that he submitted the lacking documents before the anti-graft court when he was asked to answer it earlier.

"There was no findings by the Ombudsman that there were overpriced but just lack of documents which we already provided earlier," Gonzales said.

He also said that he has yet to receive the copy of the Ombudsman ruling. But once he received it, he would immediately file his motion for reconsideration.

Ombudsman Samuel Martires, on his February 12 order, preventively suspended Gonzales for six months without pay for grave misconduct and gross neglect of duty.

The case against Gonzales stemmed from a complaint filed by Kiriath Jearn Andrie Tumanda and Avelino Balagbis, Jr., both residents of the town, claiming for misuse of Recovery Assistance on Yolanda (RAY), a fund downloaded to towns and cities hit by Yolanda from the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG).

The town received P43 million intended for the repair of its municipal building and P13 million for its public market.

It also received P152.99 million to be used for the repair of about 89 barangay halls.

But the Ombudsman, however, said that its Field Investigation Bureau found no proof contractors, Pedro

S. Labasbas Construction and EDG Americas Inc., submitted documents stating their technical, legal and financial competence to undertake the projects.

The Ombudsman said EDG Americas Inc., which bagged the contract for the works involving the repair of public market and the barangay facilities, also deviated from the approved plans stated in the program of works, such as discrepancies in the construction materials used and the number of floors built.

Also suspended by the Ombudsman were municipal accountant Adrian Bernardo; municipal treasurer Felicisima Bernardo; bids and awards committee members Arsenio Salameda, Esperanza Cortin, Danilo Colandog, Gilberto Labicante, Ma. Nenita Ecleo, and Felipe Padual; and Zosimo Macabasag, BAC technical working group member.

A bit of victory

After several decades of economic and developmental deprivations that Samar had suffered at the hands of allegedly corrupt political leadership, the province could finally feel avenged, now that the Sandiganbayan came up with the decision to convict the prime suspect of 8 counts of graft with a maximum jail term of 115 years.

The people who for years had seen the glaring effects of corruption in the supposed government services and economic developments that showed so poorly in their place welcomed the decision, some claiming that such sentence should have been decided decades ago if only evidences were not ironed out well, and if money was not at work up to high places. This goes to show, as observers have it, that said conviction is just the tip of corruption iceberg.

While said decision can still be appealed, at least taxpayers can somehow claim initial victory knowing that, luckily, justice still works in our courts. It's a good lesson slapped on corruption's face, and the people get to know who these corrupt figures are based on Sandiganbayan verdict. According to the latter, they are perpetually barred from holding public office, a crucial information in today's elections season.

May these people that were issued such verdict realize that public office demands public trust, that any form of anomaly will have dire consequences. And may all those who aspire for high positions learn from this development so that they will not end up copying fraudulent and corrupt operations that sadly drain government funds and deprive the people of good governance.

Roads to war

If we will try to answer the question: how's the old conflict between Russia and the United States now?, we might say it's gone—the two countries have already learned to get along with each other, and they are now in good terms.

We really wish this is happening, that all countries around the world (not just Russia and the US) are embracing one another in perfect harmony and understanding. But, sad to say, it's the opposite that is unfolding. Truth is, we are plagued with "wars and rumors of wars". Over the last decades, nations of the world have been arming themselves with weapons of mass destruction that, in previous eras, would have been unimaginable.

The Russians, for instance, continue to prepare for an armed conflict with the United States by building sophisticated weapons systems. They just completed tests on a breakthrough intercontinental nuclear torpedo called "the Poseidon". Armed with a nuclear warhead, this 24-meter long UUV can navigate autonomously, having maximum speed of 107 kt, and can detonate close to an enemy coastal city to generate devastating tsunamis.

"On its way to a target, 'Poseidon' will be able to avoid and overcome any anti-submarine barriers and other enemy defence systems due to the fully automated operating system. All together, the intellectual and performance characteristics of the vehicle will make it invulnerable and secure a guaranteed target destruction," an unnamed defence industry source told Russian state media.

Many countries now have the technology to "wipe ourselves" off the face of the earth, and we can only pray that cooler heads will prevail before it's too late.

In a more subtle way of invading the world, China has embarked into the so-called 'money trap' to claim control of various

Expose NARCO Politicians- soon (A timely and relevant info to voters)

The list of politicians who are actively involved in the proliferation, distribution and even use of illegal drugs is a very significant document which should be known to all of us specially voters in the coming May elections. It is a perfect guide for voters who to vote for and who to reject in the coming midterm elections.

-oOo-

This adminmistration's anti-drug campaign appears having difficulty in completely eradicating this national menace. Drug eradication campaign is the top priority of President Duterte even as early as his assumption to duty as the newly elected President of the Pilippines. He is over 3 years now in office, and unbelievably he says drug users have increased in our land. He says that there are now from 7 million to 8 million drug users in the country.

-oOo-

In 2016 there were only

4,000 as reported. There is no confirmation however if this large increase is true because no less than the PNP could not confirm the number. Well they say that the President may have gathered this number probably from other sources.

-oOo-

PDEA Director- General Aaron Aquino who has the list and obviously which list could have already been shown to the President, should already release that list now for the public to know. The President has already given him the go-signal. So what is taking PDEA Director Aquino why he has not yet released that NARCO Politics list?

-oOo-

If done soon It shall signal the start of a real collapse of this illegal drug trade that had enriched these criminal – politicians, and has also sadly resulted in the destruction of the future of many of our young boys and girls who became victims of this life-threatening crime.

Yes, we may have our own weaknesses and there also are many worldly tempting allurements around, but these can hardly do us harm unless stirred by the devil.

Our problem is that we often attribute the cause of any moral evil we commit to our human limitations alone and to the natural temptations in the world. We hardly consider the role of the devil who, being spiritual and supernatural, are far more superior to us in terms of power. And so we fail to take the adequate means to avoid him and to remedy the damage caused by him.

Let's remember that as St. Paul said, "Our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms." (Eph 6,12)

We need to go to God to handle this life-long predicament of ours properly. Aside from the human means which, of course, we should never neglect, we have to avail of the spiritual and supernatural means. We have to pray, offer sacrifices, wage continuing ascetical struggle, have recourse to

The Universal Health Care

President Duterte recently signed the Universal Health Care Act. It is the law that guarantees access to quality and affordable healthcare services for all Filipinos.

The poorest populations face the highest health risks and need more health services. Universal health care had been a long sought dream for every Filipino.

The new law is said to create a national health insurance program and expand Philhealth coverage to include free medical consultations and laboratory tests. It is supposed to the sacraments, develop virtues, etc.

In the meantime, let us also take note of the antics of the devil. We need to know him well as our archenemy. In this, we cannot be naïve. Especially with our more complicated times, it is urgently imperative that we know the ways of the devil very well. We should avoid dialoguing with the devil.

We have to strengthen our faith in God and our complete trust in the saving providence of God. We should not allow ourselves to be dominated by the devil for long. We would know when are being dominated by him when we let ourselves plunge into sadness, bitterness and depression. God is always there for us. All we have to do is to go to him.

Of course, we have to understand that our sensitivity to the presence and the ways of the devil and our power to avoid him or to free ourselves from him once caught by him depends on our closeness to God. In other words, the closer we are to God, the better for us with respect to our power to cope with the devil.

cover cost of consultations and makes Philhealth the national purchasers of health goods and services. That should enable it to establish standards in service delivery and professional fees to be charged for particular services.

I hope for this new law to succeed. We have long suffered a basic conflict of interest situation wherein doctors who own hospitals can potentially make more money by prolonging patient confinement, ordering expensive tests, and doing complicated procedures without the benefit of second opinions. We should look at how will the government can fund this very ambitious program.

According to Philhealth, they need some P22 Billion to implement the Universal Health Care law in its initial year. There will be mandatory payroll deductions from GSIS and SSS members. The new law is also looking at funds from PAGCOR and PCSO.

The positive development is that we have taken the first step towards universal health care. It will be difficult to implement with the huge money that will be used for funding.

Realizing this dream means no Filipino should suffer or die because he is too poor to pay for his medical expenses.

This law will cover the big gap in our health system – the larger portion of the population who cannot afford the cost of medical treatment.

territories from all over the world. Using its huge monetary reserves, the country enters into agreements with poorer countries through grants and loans so that these countries could build their economies, infrastructures, and other forms of developments.

But come the time to pay for those debts, these countries are unable to repay, forcing them to give up their territories to the economic giant. To date, some nations are now under Chinese control because of this build, build, build scheme that hooked them. Surely, this could lead to bloody uprisings among the locals should China take full control of their countries.

On and on, the litany of conflicts between countries extends. In the Middle East, there is that endless conflict between the Israelis and the Arabs. Another one between India and Pakistan. Between North and South Korea. Between China and Japan. And many, many more. And these are not just primitive armed forces that are at odds; they modern-day militaries armed with cutting edge weaponry, aided with missiles and nuclear warheads.

Again, we can only pray that weapons of mass destruction will not annihilate all of us off the face of this planet.

The devil and us

WE should never take the devil for granted. They are always around, ever scheming and plotting against us in many, many ways, and often in a manner that is so subtle that we may not even notice him. As St. Peter would put in his first letter: "Your adversary, the devil, prowls around like a roaring lion seeking someone to devour." (5,8)

We should never consider the devil as a myth, or as some kind of literary device only to highlight a point in the drama of our life. He is as real as you and me. Our problem is that we think lightly or, worse, falsely of him. And so we become completely unprepared to deal with his antics.

But in spite of that unfortunate fact of life, we should remember that the devil cannot do anything against us unless allowed by God. And if allowed, it is because God in his mysterious providence can always draw a greater good from any evil the devil may cause in us.

This is verified in the story of the trials of Job and that gospel episode of the man possessed by a legion of devils. (cfr. Mk 6,53-56) The devils, being fallen creatures of God, cannot help but acknowledge the authority of God over them. So, we should not be too afraid of the devil.

We just have to learn how to cope with him. First we should realize that any evil that befalls us, especially if it is moral and not just physical or material evil, is always instigated by the devil.

campaign on March 29.

Tan, who was present during the 1:30 pm promulgation, is serving her third and last term as a congresswoman representing Samar's second district and is running for governor, a post currently occupied by her daughter, Sheree Ann Tan.

The younger Tan is running for the congressional seat to be left vacant by her mother.

The criminal complaint against Tan stemmed from a complaint filed by the 'Isog Han Samar Movement' which accused the then governor and the other provincial officials of alleged anomalous purchases of "emergency supplies" worth P1.6 million.

The purchased items included rice, medical items and electric fans earmarked for victims of typhoon "Kidadang" which hit portions of the province on December 4 and 5, 2001.

Aside from Tan, the court also found her co-accused Rolando Montejo, her provincial administrator, and Reynaldo Yabut, a private contractor, guilty beyond reasonable doubt in all the cases.

Acquitted, meanwhile, were her other co-accused, then provincial accountant Romeo Reales; former budget officer Maximo Sison; former administrative officer of the Provincial Health Office Aurelio Bardaje Jr. and Numeriano Legaspi, former provincial property custodian.

I do. Aside from making their union official-and-blessed, marriage will now 'legitimize' the children of couples who have been living together without the benefit of marriage. On March 1, about 129 couples availed a mass wedding offered by the Tacloban city government. (CIO)

During the entire wedding ceremony, the couple had an interpreter who relayed to them what the host and the speaker were saying.

They both said their "I dos" through a sign language.

Adora said that while have they have wanted to get married before they could have children, lack of money hindered them to do it.

"We also don't know how we can get married," Adora said in sign language relayed by an interpreter during an interview.

When they learned about the mass wedding, they immediately grab the chance given by the city government and its partner Oxfam and We Care Partners since they were already living together for six years.

For a couple to avail of the mass wedding, they must be living together for about five years.

Legalizing union is very important because it will not only benefit couples but including their children, Wilma Perante, regional director of the Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) said.

"We are happy that the city government and its partners came up with this program because Region 8 is rank second with the most number of illegitimate child in the country," Perante said.

"This program will correct that problem because after this ceremony you will apply for legitimation even they are already using the father's surname. This would change the status of your child and this is the greatest gift that you can give to your life after this marriage ceremony," Perante added.

Based on the PSA data, as of June 2017, a total of 97, 834 babies were born out of wedlock or illegitimate child in the region.

"Giving legitimacy to your children will greatly affect them. This will take the stigma away from your children who sometimes suffer bullying because you are not married," Perante shares.

Mayor Romualdez, who solemnized the wedding ceremonies, advised the newly-wed couples to always love each other and always show affection to them.

"As a couple who loves each other, you should learn how to be patient and knows how to forgive whenever your partner committed something wrong," Romualdez advised.

Apart from the mass wedding ceremony, the campaign for equal distribution of housework between couples was also launched led by movie and television actress and care work advocate Camille Prats.

The campaign, dubbed as "I Laba Yu," encourages husbands and wives to share household's chores and responsibilities.

"Sharing houseworks with your partner is a best example that you can show and teach to your children, and to express your love to your husband or wife," Prats said.

In the 2017 Oxfam's Household Care Survey from Eastern Visayas and Mindanao, shows that women spend an average of 4.5 to 6.5 hours of households chores which is six times higher than men.

It also said that women spend a total of 11 to 12 hours of elderly or child care which is two to four hours times longer than men.

"Women disproportionately carry the burden of unpaid care work. It is time that we resurface and recognize it as shared responsibility by everyone. Equality should begin at home," Oxfam Philippine Country Director Maria Rosario Felizco said.

stakeholders.

"It takes a lot of courage to submit projects for assessment by volunteers of professionals," Gomba said.

ESDPMT has been a monitoring government projects for 11 years which ensures that transactions will bring to a higher moral ground through honest, efficient and transparent use of the public funds allocated to improve the delivery of basic services to the people.

The vision of ESDPMT is that Eastern Samar will become a place where people lives in peace and prosperity and in a manner befitting their dignity as human beings.

DENR warns candidates of possible imprisonment if they nail trees with their campaign materials

TACLOBAN CITY- The Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) here in the region has called on candidates to stop nailing their campaign materials on trees.

DENR Regional Executive Director Crizaldy Barcelo said that trees become susceptible to diseases and attacks of harmful insects when harmed by nailing and eventually may cause the tree's death.

Barcelo cited section 3 of Republic Act 3571 which prohibits, the cutting, destroying, or injuring of trees along public schools, roads, and other public areas as the legal basis for his appeal to candidates.

The same prohibitions are also provided under section 3 of PD 953 which provides that an imprisonment of not less than six months and not more than two years, or a fine of not less than P5,000 or with both imprisonment and fine shall be imposed for violation of said prohibitions.

Since the start of the campaign period, posters and other campaign materials could be seen being nailed at the trees.

Together with the call against nailing campaign materials on trees, Barcelo also reminds the public to be mindful of the wastes that will be generated during the campaign period.

"Do not litter our streets and clog our water ways with campaign materials and other sort of wastes, strictly observe RA 9003 or the Ecological Solid Waste Management Act of 2000," the DENR executive regional director said.

However, Barcelo emphasized that this appeal to stop harming trees and maintaining cleanliness is a call that extend beyond the election period.

Part of the Spark Samar campaign DOT promotes cruise tourism at the Golden River

TACLOBAN CITY- The Department of Tourism (DOT) here in the region recently launched, as a pilot project, the Inclusive Local Growth (IloG) Project: Basey Golden River Cruise in the town of Basey.

The program, which is part of the provincial government's tourism promotional campaign known as 'Spark Samar', capitalizes the old town's natural attractions like the Sohoton Natural Bridge Natural Park, its historicity and the diverse communities that live along its riverbanks.

Country's best students to attend research congress slated at EVSU

TACLOBAN CITY – Around 200 students from various state universities and colleges in the country are expected to participate on the 1st National DABEST Students Research Congress slated on March 27 to 29 to be held at the Eastern Visayas State University (EVSU), this city.

DABEST stands for Development studies, Arts and humanities, Business and entrepreneurship, Education, Science and engineering, Technology and innovation.

Ma. Cristina Caintic, EVSU vice president for planning, research and extension, shares that the national congress was conceptualized after the yearly International STEAM (iSTEAM) Research Congress which aim to pool researches from the academic sector to find scalable solutions to the problems prevalent in today's society.

Caintic said that they noticed that some undergraduate students are participating in the yearly congress which is intended for faculty members and researchers.

"So we thought of an avenue exclusively for students where they will not compete with faculty and researchers," Caintic explained, adding that the researches to be presented are based on the six strands of DABEST.

"Even research of food processing or product development may also be presented at the congress. This may have potential for patent application or utility model which we can provide with assistance," she added.

The participants will also have to compete in two categories, best papers and best invention where winners will be receiving a cash prize worth P10,000.

Among the speakers for the congress are former National Research Council of the Philippine President Paciente Cordero, 2016 National Academy of Science and Technology (NAST) Outstanding Young Scientist Award for Soil Science and Ateneo de Manila University's Environmental Science Assistant Professor Ian A. Navarrete, and University of the Philippines Los Baños Gender Center Reproductive Health Office Coordinator Teri-Marie Laude.

The organizers chose scientist who came from Region VIII as speaker for the Congress to make awareness that there are people from Eastern Visayas who are achievers in the field of science and technology.

Caintic added that research is an important requirement of university and college life as it requires students and faculties to come up with ideas that can improve the quality of life, inventions and improve the quality of instructions.

Research output is also a vital requirement for good placement in the ranking of universities, she added.

EVSU is partnering with the Department of Science and Technology for the 1st National DABEST Students Research Congress.

As a prelude to EVBL 2nd season Sen. Angara, actors join exhibition basketball games

TACLOBAN CITY- Some of the country's popular movie and television actors flexed their well-built bodies and pushed and shoved against some politicians, among them was Senator Juan Edgardo 'Sonny' Angara during an exhibition basketball games on Sunday (March 3).

The event, held at the Tacloban Convention Center, was part of the opening of the second season of the Eastern Visayas Basketball League (EVBL).

The movie and television actors present were Adrian

'Luis' Alandy, Marco Alcaraz, Mark Herras, Joross Gamboa, Onyok Velasco, Matt Evans, Jordan Herrera, Tirso Cruz III, Dennis Padilla, and Christopher de Leon.

They competed with politicians headed by Sen. Angara, Biliran Governor Gerardo 'Gerry Boy' Espina, Jr., and former congressmen Neil Montejo and Florencio 'Bem' Noel of the An Waray party-list group.

For almost two hours, the competing teams entertained the crowd, doing some antics to the delight of their audience.

Eventually, the team of Angara won the exhibition game, 67-66.

Rey Evangelista, EVBL president and former PBA player, said they are happy that their first season was successful.

He said that from the original five competing teams, there are now eight of them playing for the EVBL.

Evangelista said that EVBL's main goal is to become a venue for a good competitive game in the region, as well to contribute to the tourism industry where the league is playing.

Sen. Angara said that as chairman of Samahang Basketball sa Pilipinas (SBP), he is glad of the creation of a grass root basketball like the EVBL for it keeps basketball alive.

Former congressman Noel, clarified, that considering that he is running in this year's elections, An Waray party-list is not giving any prizes in the league.
