EXTENDED. The Department of Health (DOH) in the region reported that the vaccination campaign for measles and rubella-polio has been extended until March 7. Failure to achieve the 100 percent target was the reason cited for the extension of the vaccination campaign that was scheduled to end on Feb. 28.

TACLOBAN CITY-The measles-rubella and polio vaccination involving children here in the region has been extended until March 7 of this year after the campaign failed to reach its 100 percent target.

The measles-rubella and polio vaccination was supposed to end on Feb.28, Jelyn Lopez Malibago, regional information officer of the Department of Health (DOH), said.

But with the campaign only managed to cover just more than 70 percent, the department has to extend for at least a week to reach their 100 percent goal, she added.

For the measles vaccination involving nine months to 59 months olds, only 76.74 percent have been achieved while for the rubella and polio inoculation covering zero to 59 months, it only managed to reach 76.25 percent.

Malibago said that they are optimistic that the extension will help them reach their 100 percent goal with the continued help of the media, among others, on the information dissemination aspect.

"We remain positive that we can achieve our target with your help. Please continue to help us in disseminating that these vaccines have been proven and tested to be safe and effective for 40 years," she said, adding that vaccines have "saved thousands of children from measles, rubella, and polio."

Malibago said that the failure why they failed to reach their 100 percent were due to fear of parents and guardians of possible side effects.

The DOH in the region has targeted 458,763 children aged nine to 59 months old for measles vaccination but during its entire month campaign, only 352,973 children have received the shots. This means, 106,690 have to be vaccinated.

While for rubella and polio vaccination drive, only 403,103 children aged

Vaccine to take

fter long delays in vaccine procurement, the country has finally received an initial 600,000 vaccine doses from China last Sunday to kickstart the inoculation drive amid concerns over the Sinovac jab's questionable effectiveness.

This shipment should have been greeted with excitement and joy since, finally, a coronavirus vaccine has been made available. But a reluctance to receive shots from this vaccine prevailed, instead, especially among the sectors mandated to get vaccinated first. For the most part, though, it is not necessarily a refusal of vaccination in general.

Certain reasons just explain why this hesitation among those that are due for advanced vaccination. First, it's the same vaccine from China that was subjected to a thorough study in Brazil and yielded just a mere 50% efficacy rate. Second, there are already other vaccines that prove more effective than this. Third, there have been these videos on the internet showing adverse effects to the persons receiving the coronavirus vaccines. Lastly, the country is fresh from the 2016 deployment of the dengue vaccine Dengvaxia that had accordingly caused dozens of children's death.

Before a large volume of vaccines came, Filipinos particularly the administration critics were so frantic and noisy about the delay in the procurement of vaccines. Now that we have these initial deliveries, people are expressing reluctance. But again, given the above reasons, we cannot really blame these people that much. What needs to be done, then, must be for the Food and Drugs Administration (FDA) to scrutinize these vaccines to determine their efficacy and safety for Filipinos.

Anyway, those who are willing to make do with this vaccine can go ahead and have themselves vaccinated. But those who are choosy can opt for other brands; that's if they can wait longer, and if they can afford these. This early when the entire world is scampering for these vaccines, however, we are afraid there are not many vaccines available for us to choose from.

The Philippines has called the attention of the United States Department of State as well as several American senators on the rise of anti-Asian attacks there.

Philippine Ambassador to the U.S. Jose Romualdez said he sent a note verbale to the U.S. State Department last week.

Look at Trillanes, he has become famous even among the so-called DDS as the president's fiercest critic—daring, courageous, unafraid. For sure, he will go down in history as the president's main critic, an identity which Trillanes tries hard to elevate higher into a rival status so as to put himself on equal footing with the president.

Trillanes may have learned this technique from the more ambitious politico in Ninoy Aquino Jr., who stood in Marcos' way, using both the "demolition" and the "ride-on" schemes. Gradually, Ninoy's popularity rose, indeed, until such time that his supporters were already looking up to Before Trillanes succeeds with this dual technique, though, other equally ambitious guys are already following his footsteps by doing exactly the same method. This brings our attention to Sen. Panfilo Lacson who has been similarly targeting the highest office in the country.

Lately, Lacson has assumed this role that Trillanes had earlier occupied. He is frequenting media exposures and interviews, projecting a hero image of himself while criticizing the president personally and his regime. On the other hand, Defense Secretary Delfin Lorenzana declared that the government's task force petitioned the Commission on Elections, seeking the disqualification of the Makabayan lawmakers in the House of Representatives.

Lorenzana, a member of the National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict -- TF-ELCAC, claimed that this was because the said law-

The Makabayan Bloc in congress is composed (alphabetically) of the ACT-Teachers Party List, Anakpawis Party List, Bayan Muna Party List, Gabriela Party List, Kabataan Party List and the Migrante Party List.

Lorenzana added that "This is one method of removing them from Congress; because if you look at their history, they' have done nothing but criticize the government, and while they are there, the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) and the New People's Army (NPA) are only getting stronger," he said in Pilipino.

On the other hand, the outspoken City Mayor Sara Duterte-Carpio of Davao City, President Rodrigo Duterte's daughter, posted in her Instagram the following --

"Do not support the party-list groups under the Makabayan Bloc -- Bayan Muna, Alliance of Concerned Teachers or ACT, Anakpawis, Gabriela, Kabataan and Migrante."

"These militant groups, who masquerade themselves as pro-people, only want to sow hostility and chaos, especially on those who reject them and the terrorist groups they support -- the New People's Army (NPA) and the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP)," she said in a press statement.

Mayor Sara Duterte is so angry with the Red-Party-List groups, and she declared that "Congress should expel the members of the Makabayan Bloc. The party-list system is the 'milking cow' of the terrorists."

PAF Utility Helicopter: An efficient service provider

Philippine Air Force Utility Helicopter (UH-1) is known in providing huge assistance to the Armed Forces of the Philippines in achieving its mission during calamities and insurgency.

It became the working horse of the Philippine Air Force in providing service in accordance with its mandated mission such as conducting Medical Evacuation, Relief Operations, Heli-lift Operations, Aerial Firefighting and Search and Rescue Operations.

Possessing this kind of helicopter gives the Philippines' Armed Forces a great advantage taking into consideration its capabilities such as accessing remote and mountainous areas and transporting severely ill or unstable patients from rangy places. Moreover, the UH-1 has faster mobilization than fixed-wing aircraft since it only needs smaller landing area. This platform is also useful in conducting aerial surveillance for intelligence purposes in support of the country's counter-insurgency campaign.

With the subsequent use of UH1H for various missions, the PAF needs additional aerial platforms of similar kind and capability.

That is why, in order to complement the mission of the UH-1, the crisis. With the ongoing PAF acquired six modern S-70i Black Hawks Utility Helicopter that are part of the 16 units ordered from Polish company Polskie Zaklady Lotnicze Sp.z.o.o. and manufactured under license from Sikorsky USA.

The said helicopters, which are part of the modernization, PAF's were procured through a government-to-government negotiation.

Having these helicopters in PAF's inventory will be vital in providing assistance and hope to the Filipino people, especially in this time of pandemic, these Black Hawks will serve as transport vehicle of the Department of Health personnel in delivering COVID-19 vaccines medicines, and relief goods to the Filipino people living in different areas of the Philippine archipelago.

Indeed, these helicopters are not just transport equipment but carrier of hope and endless service to the Filipino people. (PR)

Rep. Noel says Eastern Samar will be country's next 'tuna capital' with construction of needed facilities soon to start

TACLOBAN CITY- Despite of the current pandemic spawned by coronavirus disease (COVID-19), An Waray party-list will continue to provide assistance to the people.

This was stressed by Rep. Florencio 'Bem' Noel who in particular said that An Waray continue to provide medical assistance, especially the indigents.

Providing medical assistance to the poor is among the priority programs of the An Waray since its inception for more than two decades now.

Aside from giving medical assistance, An Waray is shifting to programs that are geared towards helping other sectors, notably those in the fishing and agriculture sectors.

For one, Rep. Noel announced that the dream to make the town of Salcedo in Eastern Samar as tuna capitol is now slowly gaining grounds.

According to the An Waray party-list solon, construction of a wharf and a storage facility are expected to start soon.

He said that with the construction of the said facilities, the dream to make Salcedo as the next General Santos City, acknowledged as the country's tuna capital, will soon be realized.

Based on the study of the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquatic Resources (BFAR) the waters of Salcedo is considered as a 'tuna highway.'

Rep. Noel said that aside from providing enough supply of tuna and other fishes for the region, the project could generate employment and help the lives of fishermen in the province.

The development in the agriculture sector is part of the An Waray's "One Eastern Visayas Food Security Development Plan' wherein it aims to uplift the economic lives in the agriculture sector.
