Pres. Duterte confident ending of Reds by 2022

JOEY A. GABIETA/LIZBETH ANN A. ABELLA

TACLOBAN CITY-President Rodrigo Duterte said that he is confident that the long-running communist insurgency problem of the country will soon come to its end or at least before he steps down next year.

The President made this assertion as he attended on Thursday (March 18) the national and regional task forces to end local communist armed conflict (ELCAC) held at the Summit Hotel, this city.

All the governors of the region, with the exception of Samar Governor Reynolds Michael Tan, were present during the event which was marked by a power failure just minutes before the President arrived at the venue.

In his presentation on the insurgency problem of the region, Social Welfare Sec. Rolando Joselito Bautista, who once served as the deputy commanding officer of the 8th Infantry Division based in Catbalogan City, said that since the Duterte administration implemented its 'whole-of-nation approach' under Executive Order Number 70 in 2018, only four out of the region's 11 communist fronts are remaining with around 1,000 regular members or New People's Army have surrendered.

Also, 200 villages in the region have already been declared as insurgency-free with all the six provinces, seven cities and 137 towns declaring the armed group of the TACLOBAN CITY- Amid the current threat of the new coronavirus disease (COVID-19) variants, Tacloban City Mayor Alfred S. Romualdez urged the public to exercise self-discipline, as it is the key to win the battle against this pandemic.

"The bottom line is to not let our guard down, as self-discipline is the best solution to help the government in addressing this health crisis," the local chief executive emphasized during an interview on Wednesday, March 17.

Mayor Romualdez continues to appeal to the public to strictly comply with all safety and health protocols such as wearing of face masks and face shields, and observance of social distancing, even as it streamlined and eased its COVID-19 guidelines.

To note, protocols in Tacloban City have been minimized, however mandatory isolation or quarantine of confirmed cases, close contacts, and those with flu-like symptoms are still required.

for medical needs from Philippine Health Insurance Corp. (PhilHealth), Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office, and the DSWD.

For the past three years since it started its operation, the Malasakit Center has already provided assistance to 104,565 indigent patients.

According to Go, the malasakit program is not about just patient as it is also health care financing, one of the pillars of the Universal Health Care.

Go pledged P10 million from his office as financial assistance and as additional funds for the Malasakit Center at the EVRMC.

The additional financial aid he pledged is his way to help patients who needs dialysis and those afflicted with cancer.

Go also informed that patient who needs complicated surgical procedures that cannot be performed in EVRMC can ask assistance directly from his office and will shoulder even the fare in going to Manila.

NSSDEO completes 2-km Pinipisakan access road

The Department of Public Works and Highways-Northern Samar Second District Engineering Office has completed last December 19, 2020 the construction of 2-kilometer additional access road leading to Pinipisakan Falls located at Barangay San Isidro Las Navas, Northern Samar.

The said project has a contract ID number 20II0031 funded under the GAA CY 2020 Infra Project amounting P88 million undertaken by the 5GG Construction, a local construction firm in Northern Samar.

The other project items include the installation of metal guardrails with concrete post (left side only) and construction of stone masonry slope protection.

This additional two kilometers access road leads the famous Pinipisakan Falls that attracts local and foreign tourists to the carline municipality of Las Navas in the second district of Northern Samar.

Because of the pristine and romantic nature of the Pinipisakan Falls, this project will not only boost tourism in the town of Las Navas but will also help in the economic development of Northern Samar through faster delivery of commercial goods and services to adjacent communities.

DENR earmarks P75 million for 600 ENGP family-beneficiaries in Northern Samar

TACLOBAN CITY - A total of P75 million has been earmarked by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) for this year's implementation of the Enhanced National Greening Program (ENGP) using the family approach strategy.

DENR-8 Regional Executive Director Tirso Parian, Jr. said that the project will benefit more than 600 impoverished families from the towns of Palapag, Mapanas, Laoang, San Roque, Catubig, Las Navas, Silvino Lobos and Catarman, all in Northern Samar.

Parian said that the amount will be distributed to the family-beneficiaries who are tasked to plant an area covering 3,195 hectares that will be planted with bamboo, agroforestry and indigenous species.

On the part of the family-beneficiaries, they will be given a budget for their seedling production, plantation establishment and for the first-year maintenance activities.

"The National Greening Program (NGP) was conceptualized mainly as poverty alleviation and food security initiative by the government. The welfare of the people is given importance and because the program espouses participatory strategy, they are themselves involved in the advocacy for environmental protection and conservation", Joselito Eco, OIC-Provincial Environment and Natural Resources Officer of PENRO-Northern Samar during the signing of the Letter of Agreement (LOA) between the ENGP beneficiaries and the DENR.

Eco reported that for example, in Silvino Lobos, a 4th class municipality, 50 families recently signed LOAs with the DENR for the implementation of the ENGP in their area.

The said family-beneficiaries are under contract with the Department to plant an area comprising of 131 hectares of bamboo and agroforestry plantation with an approximate total budget of Php2.5 million to be distributed to the family-beneficiaries for year 2021 alone, Eco added.

"This family-based approach will directly benefit the families themselves and the plantation will have a greater chance of success because of a higher sense of belongingness coming from the beneficiaries," Eco said.

SEC sets rules in fight vs money laundering

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) is instituting new protocols of transparency as part of its efforts in combatting money laundering and terrorist financing and to keep the country off the gray list of the Financial Action Task Force.

SEC Memorandum Circular No. 1, issued on January 27, 2021, provides the Guidelines in Preventing the Misuse of Corporations for Illicit Activities through Measures designed to Promote Transparency of Beneficial Ownership (BO Transparency Guidelines).

The measure includes the disclosure of the identity of the beneficial owner or the person or persons who ultimately owns or has ultimate effective control of the corporation.

“There are arrangements that allow individuals to assume a management or ownership position in behalf of their principals and in turn hide the identity of the beneficial owner. We can see that this is not ideal because it exposes the corporations to the risk of being misused for illegal activities,” SEC-Cebu Extension Office Counsel I Lawyer Ginness Marie R. Teves said Tuesday, March 10.

The guidelines provide that no corporation or entity shall issue, sell or offer for sale or distribution bearer shares, as well as bearer share warrants, where the name of owners are not reflected on the physical stock certificate or recorded in the Stock and Transfer Book of the issuing corporation.

“This is to ensure greater transparency in the ownership of corporations and also consistent with the country’s commitment to implement international standards and best practices in combatting money

Vice Pres. Robredo condoles family of slain Calbayog city mayor

TACLOBAN CITY- Vice President Leni Robredo paid her last respects to the slain Calbayog city mayor Ronaldo Aquino whose remains now lie in state at the Calbayog Sports Complex on Wednesday (March 17) morning.

Raymund Ronald Ricafort, information officer of the Calbayog city government, said that Robredo stayed at least for three hours and personally conveyed her condolences to the wife and children of the slain 59-year old mayor.

“She wanted her visit to be low key as it was a personal visit to condole with the family (of Mayor Aquino),” Ricafort said in a phone interview.

The Aquino family, he added, were said to be ‘overwhelmed and grateful’ for the visit of the Vice President, who is the chairman of the Liberal Party of which the killed Aquino belonged.

Ricafort said that the Vice President arrived at the Calbayog Sports Complex at around 9:30 am and stayed until 11:30 am.

“There was no convoy and (additional) security,” Ricafort said.

The Vice President, he added, just talked with the family of Aquino and did not issued any statement.

But the Vice President, in an earlier statement, condemned the killing of the Calbayog city mayor.

“We call for a clean, competent, and independent investigation into Mayor Ronald Aquino’s death and for his murderers to be brought to justice,” she said in the statement with a date of March 9, the day after the mayor was killed while on his way to attend the birthday of his son, Mark.

Aquino is scheduled to be buried on March 24 at the Calbayog Memorial Park. A day before the burial, his coffin will be brought at the City Hall for a necrological service.

The killing of Aquino is now under investigation both by the Philippine National Police and the National Bureau of Investigation. (JOEY A. GABIETA)

NHCP installs marker at the site of Magellan landings

GUIUAN, Eastern Samar - The National Historical Commission of the Philippines (NHCP) installed a new marker in Barangay Pagbabangnan, Homonhon Island, this town, where Portuguese-born navigator Ferdinand Magellan made his landings 500 years ago.

The Homonhon marker is the second marker in the town of Guiuan unveiled by the NHCP in relation to the Quincentennial celebration of the Philippines.

The marker is located at the Magellan Site in Sitio Caltilado, Pagbabangnan where Magellan and his crew stayed for eight days.

The unveiling was attended by top officials of the province led by Governor Ben Evardone and Eastern Samar officials led by Governor Ben Evardone, Rep. Maria Fe Abunda and Guiuan Mayor Annaliza Gonzales Kwan were joined by Defense Undersec. Reynaldo Mapagu, Spain’s Ambassador to the Philippines, Jorge Sanchez and Jaroslaw Szczepankiewicz, charge d’affaires ad interim of the Poland Embassy during the unveiling of the marker on the occasion of the 500 years anniversary on the landing of Ferdinand Magellan on the island. Rep. Maria Fe Abunda. Also present were Department of National Defense Undersecretary Reynaldo Mapagu, and chargé d’affaires ad interim at the Embassy of the Republic of Poland in Manila, Jaroslaw Szczepankiewicz.

During their stay in Homonhon, Magellan and his crew were welcomed and treated nicely by early Suluan residents which is typical to Filipinos called “pakikipag-kapwa,” according to NHCP chairperson Rene Escalante.

However, Escalante said that this episode of history is not known to many foreigners and even Filipinos.

“This marker will be a perpetual reminder of our heritage of compassion we are known 500 years later,” Escalante said.

The compassion showed by early residents of Suluan to foreigners is something that the present generation should learned to emulate, town Mayor Annaliza Gonzales-Kwan said.

The mayor said that the kindness showed by early residents of the town is a gift to the world, adding that it was the contribution of their ancestors for the success of the first circumnavigation.

“I think it is time for us to go back and look back at our history, how we once were, how we can be again. We are the heirs of our ancestors who left us with the heritage of kindness,” Kwan said.

The mayor added that the Quincentennial celebration and the historic March 17 date, will be benefited significantly by Homonhon residents as it will allow them to invest in rich culture and history.

Can hardly wait

It seems as though politicians can no longer wait for 2022 to come as, this early, they are already itching to unleash their political salvo. In fact, some have already started with their subtle campaigning, not to mention the ads that have started appearing everywhere.

It's barely a year, though, before the next national elections come. Time is getting short, and given the rapid passing of time, it would not be long before it comes. This explains the uneasiness that political aspirants feel at the moment. They are ready, set, and about to go. This they cannot wait, hence their unstoppable maneuvers.

Call it muscle-flexing, but political aspirants have been doing just that, in various ways. Those that have been silent for years are now suddenly back in the spotlight of media coverage. They are now issuing statements on issues of national concern, trying to make themselves relevant and worthy of public service.

Besides the mushrooming of political ads in strategic places, we can see them going places and showing concern, especially to areas and situations that are lavished by people's support and sympathy. Others resort to propaganda against their political rivals just to win the people's hearts and eventually their votes.

Well, if they are nothing but recycled politicians whose past records showed incompetence, irregularities, neglect of their sworn duties, inaction towards prevalent national problems, and irresponsibility, why still vote for them? But if we see men and women of action as public servants, as agents of peace, prosperity, and development, let's vote for them.

We, the electorate, are equally prepared for the next polls, because we have matured enough in choosing the best from what we know, hear, and see about these aspiring leaders.

Gratefully yours

As the smoke clears we were assured that the battle was over and we had lost. The adversary was stronger, wiser and eventually victorious. As I look back and look at the sides we saw my army wounded but sporting a happy and contented spirit. They had seen how tremendous odds can be conquered and battles can be won but it will be for another day. They stood like knights, formidable with the fair play and armed with knowledge that the battle was beyond their capacity of winning. The good fight they had shown was honorable and admirable in their own right, as I give my salute and face an impending catastrophe we are relieved the fact that we had stood our ground within the rules of engagement not invoking agent orange nor napalm to scorched the ground, we stayed within the rules of engagement as true gentlemen.

That was a vivid dream and it was also a reality for me, as I lost the bid for the University Presidency, it was like losing a battle. As good generals of the past like El Cid, George Patton, Douglas MacArthur, defeat in battle were part of the narrative. Rodrigo Diaz de Vicar was a Spanish knight born in the year 1043, and he is the national hero of Spain. He is perhaps more widely known as "El Cid Comprador," (El Cid meaning The Lord, or Master, and Compeador meaning The Champion, an honorable title rarely given to a man during his lifetime). ## What's New Mr. Q?

TENTE U. QUINTERO

“Electionitis Virus” Did’ja know-

THAT right after the LSDE’s March 16th publication of my Column entitled “CEBU PDP-Laban ASK DU30 TO RUN FOR VP IN 2022,” Cebu City’s top city officials have also joined in?

THAT Cebu City Mayor Edgardo Labela and City Vice-Mayor Michael Rama of Cebu’s local Partido Barug (affiliated with PDP-Laban), both declared that “they will support the PDP-Laban, if it decides to field its party chairman President Rodrigo Duterte in the 2022 vice-presidential race?”

THAT Mayor Edgardo Labela explained that he will abide by whatever is the decision of the party; adding that it would be good if Duterte, branded by his critics as a populist strongman, “would still be around?”

THAT Vice-Mayor Michael Rama even said that he knew about the plan to persuade Duterte to run for the vice-presidency, as early as last December 2020, as he (Rama) as “direct contact” with Senator “Bong Go?”

THAT the PDP-Laban is now in a relative quandary after PDP-Laban President Senator Manny Pacquiao was caught on television, expressing his disappointment, as to why he was not formally informed about the Cebu PDP-Laban Leaders’ gathering last March 10th, Wednesday?

THAT his main complaint was their subsequent approval of a Resolution asking & pledging all-out support for President Rodrigo to run for Vice-President in 2022?

THAT this Colum-nist’s sources from fellow media personalities in Metro Manila all point to Senator Pacquiao’s eye on the Vice-Presidential race in 2022?

AND THAT this Columnist believes this “quandary” will be ironed out in the meeting of top national leaders of the PDP-Laban in due time?

- SO WE ASK -

WHAT happens next to the proposed SARA-DIGONG Tandem or Sara Duterte for President with (eventual former President) Rodrigo Duterte for Vice-President, as announced by former Malacanang spokesperson Atty. Sal Panelo?

WHAT happens next to the highly-touted BONGBONG-SARA or SARA-BONGBONG Tandem of Mayor Sara Duterte and former Senator Bongbong Marcos?

- AND DID’JA KNOW -

THAT the TITO-PING or PING-TITO (Senate President Tito Sotto & Senator Ping Lacson) tandem of the Nationalist Peoples’ Coalition NPC is still highly-talked about in the halls of the Philippine Senate?

THAT the LENI-POE or POE-LENI (Vice-President Leni Robredo & Senator Grace Poe-Llamanzares) tandem is still “on-the-go” and they’re discussing what party they’d be “riding on” since VP Leni is the head of the Liberal Party, while Senadora Grace is an ‘independent’?

THAT political pundits, for lack of possible things to do, has come up with the following “surprising tandems...”

The so-called GO-GO tandem of Senator Richard Gordon and Senator Bong Go.

The PUSO ni Leni at TAPANG ni Leila or the PU-?? Tandem; and the POE-KIKO (Pangilinan) or the PO-?? Tandem.

Well, there’s definitely a lot of political ‘horse-trading’ going on -- mainly in connection with the forthcoming Elections in May next year.

The above are classic evidences that the “Electionitis Virus” has badly affected a lot of people.

But nothing is final as far as the Presidential & Vice-Presidential Tandems are concerned -- until October 8, 2021 -- the last day wherein Certificates of Candidacies are filed ... unless of course, substitutions of specific candidates are made.

Heheh, so as this Columnist usually ends his writings - “Abangan ang Susunod na Kabanata!”

Commentary

FR. ROY CIMAGALA

Depopularizing something popular at the moment

SOMEONE suggested this idea to me recently. He was reacting to a growing number of deaths involving young people, as young as in their twenties, who died of diabetes, stroke and some heart ailments.

He said taking sweets like sugar-filled soft drinks and energy drinks and other saccharine items like cakes and candies has become so popular that everyone seems not to mind taking them in excess. And this is abetted by a strong and sustained campaign of commercialism of the items involved.

“They only talk about the benefits of these items without any warning about the danger of taking them in excess,” he said. “They usually cover up the true amount of sugar and the real character be in and we have a new University President here in Leyte Normal University, Dr. Evelyn Aguirre. She can ably and steer us into that hoped direction and threshold, with the broad support of the people inside and outside the University.

On a personal note, this humble public servant had tried and failed to achieve the prize but had tried its best within the context and confine of fair play, although it’s a claim not everyone would agree. The conscience is clear and we can sleep at night soundly so. The Team was also happy that from an unpolished contender would dare and forward an inspiring run. The Social Media reach 33,000 and was engaged 18,000 and the numbers play within that range constantly, plus with a supervised algorithm that we are proud of. We saw the sympathy and contributions of friends with time and their treasures, we have seen how feverishly the group chats were praying and sending their statements of support. I cried looking at how people whom I already forgot was touched by what we had done in the past. They were testifying of my person’s leadership and care that inspired them. There are thousands and one stories that made me realize life is bigger than the presidency and in my own little way, it was not in vain. The good I had done was appreciated, emulated and ultimately remembered.

I have nothing but respect to the new University President. And this juncture. I wish her well.

To the people who had helped and said a kind word or two, your presence, assistance and encouragement, had buoyed me up and affirmed my place in the sun. A place that had brought me the surge of happiness in heart and know that it’s the victory I have gained.

With a grateful heart, I say Salamat, Salamat.

And in this regard, there should be no question asked about the need to popularize a healthy spiritual life that at the moment is still generally unpopular. Many people find it hard to have it. They feel extremely awkward even talking about it, let alone, finding ways of effectively and correctly developing it.

Of course, there is such thing as fanaticism which is an anomaly in the world of

of the sweetener involved in these items,” he continued. We need to expose the dangers of these items, depopularizing them while popularizing the healthy food, like veggies, instead.”

“Their commercials should include the warning like those of the cigarette ads, that too much sugar is bad for one’s health,” he said. And everyone should be educated about the proper amount of sugar to be taken by each individual given his concrete conditions.

I immediately gave some general agreement to the idea, though at the back of my mind, I also thought what if we only take veggies without taking anything sweet, would it not also result in something excessive that would give us another kind of illness?

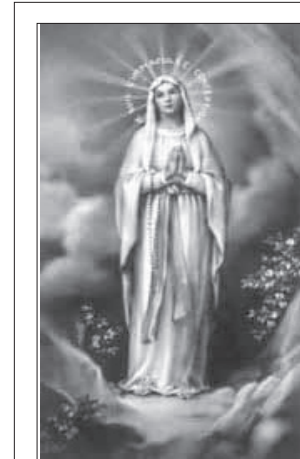

Since my knowledge of medicine and physical or biological health is very limited, I restrained myself from pursuing that thought further. I hope and pray that in time, I and everybody else can be more enlightened about this particular question.

Just the same, while there indeed is a need to depopularize something popular at the moment but is harmful to us, I believe there is also a need to popularize something that is unpopular at the moment but is truly helpful to us in general.

And in this regard, there should be no question asked about the need to popularize a healthy spiritual life that at the moment is still generally unpopular. Many people find it hard to have it. They feel extremely awkward even talking about it, let alone, finding ways of effectively and correctly developing it.

Pambujan River Basin, 100% completed

LAOANG, Northern Samar-Implemented by the Department of Public Works and Highways-Northern Samar Second District Engineering Office, the construction of P40 million Pambujan River Control and River Basin is now 100% completed under the ESD Cruz Construction and Supply as contractor with contract ID 20II0030.

This project is located along Catarman-Laoang road in Pambujan, Northern Samar funded under CY 2020 GAA with work items that include 150 lineal meters of flood mitigation structure (structural concrete revetment on steel sheet pile) and construction of 100 lineal meters spur dike.

The completion of the River Control Project in Pambujan will predominantly protect the huge Pambujan Bridge in order to prolong its better and stable bridge condition.

Further, it aims to prevent scouring of soil beside the river bank affecting

Pambujan Bridge and other real properties in the area. (LYCA MAE T.QUICOL, PIO ALTERNATE)

Ormoc City to become a model for resilience through EDC, NRC partnership

In March 1976, Lopez-led renewable energy leader Energy Development Corporation (EDC) was born to help build the country's economic resilience by harnessing power from indigenous sources to reduce its dependence on imported fuels. Ormoc, Leyte was the site where EDC piloted its first ever geothermal project, the 3MW Tongonan power plant in 1977, making Ormoc EDC's first partner in helping build our national resilience.

Forty-five years later, EDC is leveling up or elevating its partnership to pave the way for Ormoc City to become a truly resilient and regenerative community by adopting it through the National Resilience Council (NRC) and the Carlos P. Romulo Foundation's Adopt-a-City program.

In a virtual Memorandum of Agreement signing ceremony held via Zoom today, the four parties vowed to work together and leverage each other's capabilities and strengths to help Ormoc City become the country's model city for resilience and disaster preparedness.

"Our work here in this partnership has a lot to do with valuing ecosystems services for climate change mitigation, adaptation, and disaster risk reduction. We are well in line with the statement of EDC Chairman Piki Lopez wherein he outlined a decarbonized and resilient future for the country, using the word regenerative, which is particularly important as far as ecosystem based services are concerned," said NRC President Ms. Antonia Yulo Loyzaga.

Loyzaga added that they would like to take advantage of the vast experience and knowledge of EDC, the human knowledge and technical capacity of the Ormoc City government, and NRC's work in building this partnership.

EDC President and COO Richard B. Tantoco, meanwhile, committed to keep helping Ormoc City become resilient for the good of the Ormocanons and their neighboring communities. "Climate change is going to worsen and we really need to be more and more prepared, which is why we are proud of this partnership with NRC and Ormoc City."

While Tantoco expressed his excitement for their upcoming activities involving the Ormocanons, which include the formation of a multi-sectoral forest protection task force, the creation of 10 pilot barangay emergency response teams, the roll out of a city-wide disaster risk preparedness and response information campaign, he offered to expand EDC's role in the partnership even more as the power company that provides 100% renewable energy (RE) to the province of Leyte.

"We'd like our geothermal facilities in Leyte to be THE most robust power facility in the country so 2-3 days after a major disaster, the Ormocanons will look up and see that there's light and know that they can begin rebuilding their lives. If we can help to prevent the Ormocanons from being repeatedly subjected to the attacks of climate change and worsening typhoons, we're here to support and partner with Ormoc and NRC," said Tantoco.

For his response, Ormoc City Mayor Richard I. Gomez said: "Ormoc is vulnerable to natural disasters, that's why planning and foresight are very important, and partnerships like this are vital to us. Thank you, NRC, EDC, Carlos P. Romulo Foundation.

Through this Adopt-a-City program, I know that we will achieve stronger resilience, reduce deaths, and increase development in our city. I want Ormoc to be a model city even if we are just medium sized so that other cities will look up to the things that we do in Ormoc and in Leyte. Thank you for choosing Ormoc as a partner for this Adopt-a-City. I know we will achieve excellence with this program and I'm very excited as a Mayor. Our people are very excited and we can't wait to begin this program."

Mayor Gomez expressed his gratitude once again to EDC for the assistance that it has provided to Ormoc City during the pandemic. "It is not a very good time to be a mayor during a pandemic but to fight this (pandemic), you need to have a strong political will to protect your own people. What is important is Ormoc is always safe and not just us but the people coming to our city. Thank you so much, Ricky (Tantoco), for putting up see Ormoc /page 10 ...

Communist Party of the Philippines as 'persona non grata.'

"I know this problem could not be solved overnight that is why I am asking for the cooperation and the solidarity of all sectors in ending this conflict once and for all," he said.

"With your support and patriotism, I am confident that we will triumph over the challenges ahead of us. Be assured that the entire force of the Filipino people through the hands of the government is behind you as well to secure a genuine and lasting peace for our motherland," the President added.

He also claimed that the communist party here in the Philippines have lost its ideology and what they are doing is plain banditry. "The communist has not achieved anything at all, I have not seen any progress in their movement. Rather, it has become a group of bandits solely," the President said.

During the meeting, the President reiterated his order to the military to kill armed rebels and said that not in the million years of fighting that the communist group will succeed in their fight against the government.

Duterte said his administration did its best to have a peace agreement with the Communist Party of the Philippines, but its founding chairperson, Jose Maria Sison, lacked sincerity.

"I cannot fathom the brain of Sison however you prick it, it's gone. He has, I don't know, if dementia or something. He keeps on transferring from one topic to another that finally I thought that peace through negotiation with them is impossible. So I gave up although I tried everything," he added.

Duterte also expressed his sadness that communist rebels continue to stay in the mountains to fight the government troops.

Despite the continuing insurgency in the country, Duterte is happy that the government, through the NTF and RTF ELCAC, made big achievement in fighting the communists.

Duterte also promised that the government will continue to support the former rebels.

Eastern Visayas is one of the country's poorest regions with the existence of armed insurgency cited as among its reasons.

During his more than one-hour speech, Duterte teased both Sen. Christopher 'Bong' Go and Labor Sec. Silvestre Bello III.

On Go, his long-time confidant, the President addressed as him 'President' while Bello as 'senator.'

Go, in a separate interview here, insisted that he is not entertaining about the 2022 presidential elections saying that his visits around the country should not be misinterpreted that he is seeking the presidency.

"Pagkatapos ng proklamasyon ko bilang senador, pinuntahan ko ang ating mga kababayan na nasunungan, nabahaan, nalindol, naputukan ng bulkan. Hindi ko po matii na maupo sa opisina at magpalamig lang doon. (Pinupunthan ko) an ating mga kababayaan na nangangailangan ng tulong," he said, parrying the question.

shared that the first contact between Suluan people and Magellan is something that should be remembered.

Of the five ships that sailed from Spain that are part of the fleet of Magellan, only three are able to reach the country.

"That encounter is based on the idea of friendship, humanity, solidarity, especially to the Filipino side," Ambassador Sanchez said.

"I think that we are not responsible for what the good and bad things that our ancestors did, but we are responsible for how we remember, and today we are being very responsible for this historical marker underlying what happened 500 years ago," he added.

In an account written by Antonio Pigafetta, a day after dropping their anchor in Suluan, the fleet of Ferdinand Magellan in March 17, 1521 sailed to the Homonhon which early people called Humunu and set put in the island where they tended their sick crew and gather some food.

Magellan named their new found land mass and its neighboring island as the archipelago of San Lazaro as they were discovered on Leyte Governor Leopoldo Dominico 'Mic' Petilla hand over two checks as financial assistance worth P100,000 for annual subsidy cy 2021 and P200,000 for various operational expenditures to Atty. Miguel Teson, chairman of the board of directors of the Philippine Red Cross Leyte Chapter on March 11, 2021 during their board meeting with the governor was the guest of honor. With them was Samuel Tiu. (GINA P. GEREZ) the Feast day of San Lazaro.

On March 18, 1521, Magellan and his men meet nine men who belong to the early residents of Suluan marking the first encounter of westerners and eastern people in the island which later become part of the Philippine archipelago.

During their stay, Magellan called the island, 'Acquada de li bouni Segniallu' or 'watering place of good sign' because of two things, the presence of a spring which they described as a clearest and sweet, and their meeting with the Suluan residents who were friendly to them contrary to their previous experience where their ship had been looted by locals.

In their account, they described the early residents of Suluan whom they meet in Homonhon as very pleasant and conversable sharing with them names of the nearby islands, and would go back to the island as their promise with provisions of food.

They also noticed the men have their body painted and their chief wearing gold in arms, heads and earrings.

The fleet of Magellan leaves Homonhon on March 25 and sailed towards the direction of Limasawa, then goes to Cebu.

MALASAKIT FOR FRONTLINERS --- House Majority Leader and Lakas-CMD Party president Martin Romualdez urged the public to dedicate a special prayer as "malasakit" (compassion) to medical personnel who are in the front line of the continued coronavirus disease-19 (COVID-19) battle and those afflicted by the disease as he announce that he was tested positive for COVID-19. Romualdez assured the public that he would return to his duties as soon as he gets a clean bill of health. (VER NOVENO)

According to Fr. Ofilan, considering that Homonhon is where the first missionaries in the country has arrived 500 years ago, it is just right that its 'blessedness and sacredness' should be preserved and not desecrated.

"Our ancestors consider our island as sacred and blessed. But what we've done after 500 years? We have desecrated it. We lost its sacredness because of our irresponsibilities," he said.

The island is rich with mineral deposits like nickel and chromite.

While at present, there is no active mining operations on the island, several mining companies have located in Homonhon.

Among these mining companies is Techiron Resources whose move to remove its 'stockpile' of chromite April of last year sparked protest from the villagers. (JOEY A. GABIETA)

Meantime, though vaccines are now readily available, he advised residents "to not be complacent," as he received reports that some have started to become 'lax' in following health protocols.

"It's been a year and everyone was caught flat-footed. We had the chance to learn from it and now that we do, let's use it...so that we can gradually go back to our lives before," he said, noting that the virus is still around and can easily be transmitted.

To date, the city has 77 active cases, bringing it to a total of 2068 confirmed cases, with 1941 recoveries and 50 deaths.

DAR, BJMP forge ties for inmates food supply

TACLOBAN CITY-The Department of Agrarian Reform (DAR) and the Bureau of Jail Management and Penology (BJMP) have forged a partnership to provide a sustainable food supply for the persons deprived of liberty (PDLs) or inmates in Leyte.

"This program guarantees the farmers with a ready market for their products while the jails are assured of freshly harvested fruits and vegetables," said DAR Regional Director Ismael Aya-ay.

According to the official, the partnership is part of the government's Enhanced Partnership Against Hunger and Poverty (EPAHP) program where government institutions work together to many opportunities for us to work in partnership with Ormoc City and NRC to be truly regenerative so that our people will be truly resilient going forward," said Tantoco.

EDC's Leyte geothermal facility has been supplying power to the province of Leyte and to the rest of the Visayas region for almost 40 years. The company's almost 1,200-megawatt total installed geothermal capacity accounts for 62% of the country's generated renewable energy and is responsible for putting EDC and the Philippines on the map as the world's 3rd largest geothermal producer. (PR) support poor people in the countryside through feeding programs in schools and provision of community meals for workers and laborers.

The program will benefit the city, district, and municipality jails in Leyte.

"Under the EPAHP, instead of buying food supplies elsewhere, the city, district, and municipality jails, as well as the Department of Health's-retained hospitals are encouraged to buy food supplies for the feeding of PDLs and hospital patients, from the agrarian cooperatives," added DAR Municipal Agrarian Reform Program Officer Amita Barte of Merida, Leyte.

Barte said the BJMP of Isabel town will purchase food supplies such as vegetables and poultry products from the Mat-e Agrarian Reform Beneficiaries Association (MARBA), a DAR-assisted farmer organization.

spirituality. But that's because there is some erroneous understanding of what and how a spiritual life should be.

But it cannot be denied that if properly understood, there can be no limit, no excess in developing one's spiritual life. This is where a more vigorous, effective and sustained campaign of popularizing should be made. We can never have enough of it, as long as it is properly done.

We have to talk more about this, which should not be limited only to some church environment. It has to be talked more vigorously in the families, in the media, in the offices and other work places.

Even in business and politics which are greatly in need of spiritual guidance, this matter should be given due importance and attention. This is, of course, a delicate matter, given the character of business and politics, but if understood properly, it can also be done there. In fact, it should be done there.

Yes, we need to popularize the still unpopular topic of spirituality!

laundering and terrorist financing,” Teves said.

The guidelines require corporations other than publicly listed companies to disclose and record in their Stock and Transfer Book the alienation, sale or transfer of shares of stock, the date thereof, by whom and to whom made, within 30 days from the time of alienation, sale or transfer. Otherwise, the transaction shall not be binding to the issuer.

Further, no dividends shall be paid to any person or entity unless his or her name appears in the records of the corporation as the owners of the shares of stocks, except for dividend payments made publicly listed companies to the PCD Nominee or any similar entity authorized to act as depository and custodian of shares for purposes of trading in the stock exchange and operating under the same rules.

Mandatory disclosure

The circular also clearly stipulated the mandatory disclosure of the person on whose behalf the corporation is registered as well as the nominators or principals of nominee incorporators, first directors, trustees and shareholders within 30 days from receipt of their certificates of registration.

Meanwhile, nominee directors/trustees and shareholders of existing corporations shall disclose their nominators and principals within 30 days after the effectivity of the guidelines or 30 days from the time they became or assumed their roles of or started acting as nominee directors/trustees or shareholders.

The SEC further requires all corporations registered with the Commission to keep and preserve in their principal offices adequate, timely and accurate information relating to their beneficial owners.

Those who will not comply will face sanctions with a minimum fine of P5,000 to a maximum of P2 million, plus up to P1,000 for each day of continuing violation but not exceeding P2 million; suspension or revocation of the certificate of incorporation; and other penalties the Commission may impose.

The guidelines adopt the recommendations in the Mutual Evaluation Report issued by FATF in October 2019.

Among others, the global watchdog recommended that the Philippines introduce measures to ensure that bearer share warrants, nominee directors and nominee shareholders are not misused for money laundering and terrorist financing.

FATF also urged the Philippines to ensure that mechanisms operate to ensure that information on the beneficial ownership of a company can be determined in a timely manner. (PR)

NHCP places marker at Suluan Island which symbolizes Filipinos being giving and compassion people

Guiuan Mayor Annaliza Gonzales-Kwan led in the unveiling of a marker in Suluan Island on March 17 as part of the Quenticennial celebration of the first ever international navigation of Ferdinand Magellan. Joining her were Defense Undersec. Reynaldo Mapagu, Spanish Ambassador to the Philippines Jorge Sanchez and Rene Escalante, chairman of the National Historical Commission of the Philippines, among others. (ROEL T.AMAZONA)

GUIUAN, Eastern Samar - It was on March 16, 1521 when the fleet of Ferdinand Magellan, a Portuguese navigator working under Spanish flag, saw the island of Suluan, hungry and suffering from illnesses after three months of voyage.

None of them, however, did not set foot on this island and only stayed inside their ship.

But it was the residents of this small island who helped Magellan and his men by giving them food and provisions.

On Wednesday (March 17), the National Historical Commission of the Philippines (NHCP) unveiled a marker to commemorate said historical event, a beautiful gesture of humility and compassion toward fellowmen.

The unveiling of the marker kicked off of the year-long celebration of the Quincentennial Celebration of the Philippines.

"Let the Quincentennial remind all Filipinos that we are triumphant and compassionate people just like our ancestors recorded in 1521," Rene Escalante, NHCP chairman, said.

Escalante added that opening the quincentennial celebration in Suluan aims to lay the foundation for future studies and to ignite interest of young historians and scholars.

At least 34 historical markers in relation to the quincentennial celebration were erected by the NHCP in Palawan, Visayas and Mindanao along the historic route of the first circumnavigation.

trymen to appreciate this achievement of humanity as part of the history of a Filipino, part of what they have been taught in school back then in the beginning of Philippine history, "Escalante added.

That simple act of kindness of the early residents of Suluan would later result to a legacy that every resident of the island, and of Guiuan town to always remember and be proud of, according to Mayor Annaliza Gonzales-Kwan.

"We need to remember this lessons from 500 years ago or else this monument of humanity will remain as cold as the stone it is made of," Mayor Kwan said.

"Because we are kind-hearted people, we show courage to meet the foreigners who arrived in our land. We are proud of being friendly, and because of this friendliness, the early residents of Suluan are able to save lives of Magellan's fleet who were able to tell and prove that the globe is round," she added.

The marker in Suluan is one of the three markers erected by the NHCP in Guiuan for the Quincentennial commemoration.

Another marker is located in Homonhon Island where Magellan and his men stayed for several weeks, and in Calicoan Island that represents the enter island of Samar.

Spanish Ambassador to the Philippines Jorge Sanchez in his message said that this event 500 years ago should always be remembered by all as it provided not only knowledge useful to navigation but also the paved way for a forging of friendship of two nations.

"That spirit of humanity, generosity, and kindness that define the people of the Philippines, especially Eastern Samar, this region. So with the same spirit, I would like to look forward and to look for the future and try to inspire us for the next 500 years," Sanchez said.

Sanchez added that the present generation should know why this commemoration is being celebrated as it help shape the beginning of the common history between Spain and the Philippines.

"This should be known by the youth because it is the beginning of the interconnection in many fields, humanistic fields, spiritual, trade, navigation," he said "Everything that is happening now is interconnected to what had happened 500 years ago," he added.

A certificate of transfer was signed between the NHCP to the local government unit of Guiuan and village of Suluan was held after the unveiling.
