PNP Chief Eleazar: Zero tolerance against bad cops

LIZBETH ANN A. ABELLA/ JOEY A. GABIETA

TACLOBAN CITY- Police Director General Guillermo Eleazar said that the police organization under his leadership is serious on zero tolerance policy against so-called scalawag cops.

Eleazar, who is on a two-day visit in the region as part of his command visit, lamented that while there are good cops of the organization, commission of crimes by a few 'rotten eggs' tarnishes the image of the PNP.

"We have zero tolerance against (scalawag police) but these just few rotten eggs affects us," he said on Monday (June 7) during

With vaccination for general public to start

DOH to the public: Go get the vaccine

TACLOBAN CITY – The Department of Health (DOH) in the region has urged the public to register with their respective local government units (LGUs) to get vaccinated as the office is gearing up for inoculation for the general public.

The DOH said that getting the vaccine is an important way to protect oneself against the deadly coronavirus disease (COVID-19).

As of 2 June 2021, 99.97% of the available doses have been distributed, equating to 252,882 out of 252,970 doses received.

A total of 207,023 doses have been administered.

Of this, 152,630 or

99.70% of the 153,085 allocated first doses have already been administered.

While 54.46% of the second doses have already been administered, equating to 54,393 administered doses.

To date, the health department is continually conducting the vaccination roll-out for those identified under priority groups A1 to A3 or those who are in the medical service, frontliners, senior citizens and with lingering illnesses.

The region is seeing a spike of COVID-19 cases for the past few days, posting last June 5 297 cases, the highest single-day cases ever logged in the region since the pandemic started last year.

On Monday (June 7), the DOH announced of 108 new cases, pushing the total COVID-19 cases of the region to 21,291 with 1,541 considered as active cases.

With the spike of COVID-19 cases in the region, the DOH is again reiterating its call for the people to limit unnecessary physical interactions like avoiding large crowds or mass gatherings, keep a physical distance of at least one meter from each other.

To avoid activities that would last longer than 15 minutes and to avoid enclosed spaces. Open windows for good air circulation.

Avoid transmission causing behaviors like singing, shouting, heavy breathing, or any physical contact and to wear a face mask and face shield properly throughout the duration of the activity.

And most importantly the health department calls for the support of the residents of the ongoing vaccination.

Medical workers pleads public to stay at home as region's COVID-19 cases continue to surge

TACLOBAN CITY-As cases of coronavirus disease (COVID-19) in the region continue to increase as it logged record-breaking day on Saturday (June 5), members of the Leyte Medical Society issue an appeal to the public to stay at home and follow all the minimum health protocols.

The group, composed of doctors and nurses, made this call as the Department of Health (DOH) reported on Saturday of another record-breaking day of fresh cases with 297, by far the highest ever logged by Eastern Visayas since the pandemic started March of this year.

The group said that by following the health protocols and staying at home, not only the public will help the campaign to reduce the COVID-19 cases in Leyte and the rest of the region but also help the medical practitioners attending COVID-19 patients.

"Staying at home is the best that we can give to our healthcare workers who are laboring day and night just to give possible care they can despite of the limitations they have," the group said in a statement issued on Saturday (June 5).

"Let us help and protect our last line of defense, our health care workers. Your caring and loving doctors at the Leyte Medical Society are always here to help you. Help us also by staying at home, observing the minimum health standards and get yourself vaccinate," they added.

Of the 297 new cases reported by the DOH on Saturday, 167 came from Leyte province alone, to include the cities of Ormoc and Tacloban which are administratively independent from the provincial government.

And out of the province' 40 towns, 28 of them logged new cases.

Meantime, the province of Southern Leyte has 50 new cases followed by Samar with 35 new cases; Northern Samar with 31 new cases; and Eastern Samar with 14 new cases.

Only the province of Biliran did not post new COVID-19 cases.

The DOH also reported that the region has only 120 new recoveries, increasing its total to 20,142 with 1,499 active cases and 324 total deaths.

Broken status quo

There is an adage that says: "Stop existing; start living." This means that one should not just be contented with being existent; he should maximize his existence to make the most of life and be that useful and productive. This way, one breaks the status quo or the existing state of affairs in a given scenario.

For the past thirty years since Cory Aquino took power and aggressively halted the huge Marcos projects that could propel the country to industrialization, the administrations that came and went until the presidency of Noynoy Aquino were obviously just into the preservation of the status quo. Had there been good missions and visions, they were just up to there—without realization. And so the country's colossal problems remained due to the absence of a political will and firm leadership.

When the Duterte administration took over, it carried with it this age-old adage, resolved to break the status quo. And so, little by little, the country's enormous headaches started to meltdown into something manageable. Problems on massive corruption and irregularities, widespread drug trade, irritating traffic mess, terroristic activities, extant insurgency, lack of economically needed infrastructures, poor AFP and PNP combat facilities, low salaries and wages, high tuition fees in SUC's, and many others were gradually resolved.

The problem with the Duterte administration is that, with its style and accomplishments, it had raised the standard qualities and qualifications of what a president should be, what a regime should be. As a result, it became too difficult for people to choose such kind of leader as most of them are just after the maintenance of the status quo. This is the truth. Not only that but the things that the past administrations could not do for their seeming impossibilities were done with ease by this president.

Unwilling to have their inadequacies and inefficiencies bared further, key figures of the past administrations, then, together with their allies such as most national mainstream media, are scampering to undermine this regime by raising anything that could destroy it, while hiding its meritorious accomplishments from public view. This then is a fight between maintaining the status quo and pushing the country onward.

Wasted life

The Bicolanos now are mourning the untimely death of their promising "kababayan", the 21-year old Keith Absalon who died with two other companions when a "command detonated" anti-personnel mine of the NPAs exploded in their presence.

Why is this young man a great loss to his kababayans? Well, first of all, he is still young with plenty of potentials, talents, and skills. At his age, he was already a varsity football player of the Far Eastern University. A good future awaited him—a prestigious profession, a promising career, a happy home. This is what his parents, loved ones, and friends had envisioned him to have, and he was not failing them; he was living true to their high expectations.

It was not just his family and friends who were counting much on him; even the university where he was studying had confidence in his athletic prowess. To be a varsity player in such a big university is something. One will not make it unless one really oozes with potentials coupled with self-discipline, professionalism, and a high degree of responsibility. All these were exhibited by this handsome young man, hence his choice to represent his university.

But all this suddenly ended, cut short by the irresponsible, terroristic act of the NPAs operating in that area. The rebels have their alibis and excuses, as always, but these can never justify the tragic fate that the victims suffered. That they were targeting the men in uniform may be considered, but the idea of planting explosives in civilian vicinities is unacceptable.

It could be inferred,

Commentary

FR. ROY CIMAGALA

Sanctification should be our main business

THERE should be no doubt about this. No ifs or buts. Sanctification is and should be our main business in this life, our constant concern all throughout. And that's simply because at the end of the day, at the end of our life, that is what truly matters. Everything else is meant only as a means, an occasion or a reason for pursuing this ultimate goal of ours.

St. Paul said it clearly: "This is the will of God, your sanctification." (1 Thes 4,3) St. Peter echoed the same sentiment: "Just as He who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do, for it is written, 'Be holy, because I am holy.'" (1 Pt 1,15-16)

Christ, of course, repeatedly told us about this. "Be perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect." (Mt 5,48) And this ideal can be attained, not only after our death, but even now, as we cruise through this vale of tears of ours, because Christ does it with us and for us.

Christ has given us all the means. In fact, he has given us his very own self, because we can only be truly holy when we become entirely "alter Christus" (another Christ), if not "ipse Christus" (Christ himself).

We have to realize that all the situations of our life here on earth, including those that involve our miseries, failures and sin, can be and should be a means and occasion for sanctification if they are referred to Christ. And that's because Christ precisely would show us how to convert everything into a means of our sanctification.

We need to make this truth of our faith sink deep in our consciousness, so that however our life turns, we still would be on track toward our ultimate goal, and avoid getting unduly entangled and stranded in the drama of our life here on earth.

Right at the start of the day, we should already be clear about what our main business and concern is. And from there, let's start to make the appropriate plans and strategies, so that all the events of the day, the ups and downs, would work for this purpose.

To be sure, this kind of understanding of the purpose of our life would not take us away from our earthly responsibilities. On the contrary, it would sharpen and purify our interest in them, knowing that these duties and responsibilities are precisely the fulfillment of our duty to attain our ultimate goal.

Especially these days when we see a drifting away from this main concern of our life in the world of business and politics and in practically all the other aspects of temporal affairs, we need to strongly and abidingly inculcate this understanding of the real business of our life in everyone. Let's hope that we can count on a good number of persons who can spearhead this delicate task and be effective endorsers of this cause.

Investing on Filipino Scientists versus COVID-19

The Philippine Government should have used a "bigger bucket" for Science and Technology Research and Development at the very first information of the advent of COVID - 19! The bad news about the coronavirus discovered in Wuhan, China that hit the world news in late 2019 and now going Two (2) Years, the Philippine leaders seem "dead ma" at the idea of tapping the world-class talent and expertise of our very own Filipino Scientists! Why the wedge against members of the country's science community. Indeed, the length of time passed would have produced and piloted Philippine-made vaccines using the Filipino scientists ingenuity! Raw materials are aplenty among our natural resources, experts are available, but need to be matched with much-needed R & D funding!

What happened was seeing the government in frantic-mood ordering vaccine products from foreign sources - reason was there were none coming from the Philippines (as if frowning on the inability of Filipino savants to utilize their medical research prowess).

Not only is the budgetary allotment for the Department of Science and Technology (DOST), among the leanest - very unbecoming for Policy-makers and the national leadership to notice and correct the faulty 'slicing of the Budget pie' among government offices. I can talk about the DOST's low budget having served the Department as Executive Director III, National Research Council of the

PACQUIAO DECLARES BOYCOTT

On May 25, 2021, PDP-Laban Acting President, Senator Manny Pacquiao declared that "the call for such assembly was NOT SANCTIONED by the supposed authorized national council of PDP-Laban -- by both the chairman & the president only.

But PDP-Laban Vice-Chairman Cusi and other leaders did not mind Pacquiao's declaration.

Pacquiao then issued a memorandum dated 25 May 2021, asking members of the PDP-Laban TO IGNORE the Notice of Invitation of Cusi, with the instruction to them NOT TO ATTEND the May 31st PDP-Laban Assembly, saying that "this is not yet the time for politics."

As expected, the following urgent news appeared in newspapers, radio & television --

"PACQUIAO TELLS PDP-Laban MEMBERS TO REFRAIN FROM ATTENDING THE UNAUTHORIZED MAY 31st PDP-Laban ASSEMBLY

Then, as if to counter-act the above-urgent news, Palace Spox Harry Roque Jr. announced that "the May 31st PDP-Laban National Council Assembly is authorized; since PDP-Laban Vice-Chairman Alfonso Cusi (and Secretary-General Marvin Matibag) were directed by PDP-Laban Chair, President Rodrigo Duterte "to organize, convene and preside over the National Council Assembly scheduled in Cebu City on Monday May 31, 2021.

Then, the May 30th issue of Manila Times carried the following headline - "PACQUIAO CAN'T STOP PDP-Laban MEETING!"

Public warned of scam in wake of recent Maasin City flooding

TACLOBAN CITY- The city government of Maasin announced on Thursday (June 4) of a scam circulating on Facebook about a parent who is asking money for the hospitalization of her daughter who was allegedly injured during the massive flooding in the city on June 1, 2021.

“Upon verification from our office, we found out that the post of certain Ms. Jennlyn Ricarte Delgado asking for financial assistance for the operation of her daughter is not true,” said Mayor Nacional Mercado.

“As far as we are concerned there were no reported individuals with major injuries that were brought to Eastern Visayas Regional Medical Center (EVRMC) for immediate operation or medical assistance,” he added.

According to the mayor, they will try to ask help from the police “to investigate further and track down those who are responsible.”

“I would like to remind everyone to please verify reports in our office and be careful and mindful to this kind of modus/scam especially during these times,” the mayor said in a statement.

The city government has posted an official list of phone numbers for emergency response services.

Meanwhile, Mercado said that they continue to conduct damage assessment and needs analysis, along with the relief operations, for the barangays that were hit by the intense flooding due to Tropical Storm Dante.

“The city government of Maasin is doing its utmost best for the welfare of all Maasinhons,” Mercado said.

Also on the same date, the Philippine Daily Inquirer carried the sub-headline ‘SENATORS ‘BATO’ & TOLENTINO IGNORE PACQUIAO & WILL ATTEND THE PDP-Laban NATIONAL ASSEMBLY VIA ZOOM.’

PDP-Laban vice-chair, Energy Secretary Alfonso Cusi and Secretary-General Melvin Matibag said the National Council Assembly on May 31st will evaluate the party’s support program for the programs of party chair, President Rodrigo Duterte.

On the other hand, Lambino declared that he could not understand why Pacquiao was dissuading members of the party from attending the Assembly, stating that Section 4, Article 16 of the PDP-Laban Constitution states only the chairman can call a meeting or an assembly.

PDP-Laban RESOLUTION

Vice-President for External Affairs Rajul Lambino declared that the PDP-Laban National Council received several petitions from different local government units (LGUs) pushing for Duterte to run for the vice-presidential post in the next national elections.

His declaration was met with resounding cheers & shouts of acceptance from the PDP-Laban leaders & officials present and those virtually attending the Assembly via Zoom.

As the shouts & cheers toned done, Lambino then moved for the national council to adopt a Resolution following the earlier-mentioned petitions filed by the LGUs convincing Duterte to run for the vice-presidential post in the next national elections.

Lambino’s motion was immediately approved; and said Resolution was officially adopted during the party’s National Council Meeting in Cebu City 31 May 2021, called by Vice-Chair Alfonso Cusi and authorized by President Rodrigo Duterte himself.

The text of the PDP-Laban Resolution read as follows “Resolution to convince the party chairman, President Rodrigo R. Duterte to run as Vice-President in the 2022 national elections and for President Rodrigo Duterte to choose his running-mate for president,” Lambino said.

And following the last part of the PDP-Laban Resolution -- “for President Rodrigo Duterte to choose his running-mate for president...”

Let’s remember that it was the original mandate God gave to our first parents to “subdue or dominate the world.” (cfr. Gen 1,28) And that means that we have to sanctify the world, and in so doing, we also sanctify ourselves and others. We should not be afraid of the world. Rather we need to conquer the world for God!

Let’s hope that at the end of each day, we can truly say that we have been doing nothing other than sanctifying ourselves by sanctifying the things of the world.

10 men arrested in a checkpoint in Samar; introduced themselves as high-ranking police, Army officers

TACLOBAN CITY- At least 10 men were arrested in a checkpoint in San Jorge town, Samar in possession of several firearms and rounds of ammunitions last Saturday at 6:30 pm.

Based on the report of the local police, the group of men were on board on two separate vehicles when they were stopped in a checkpoint located at Barangay Poblacion I as the policemen who were on duty asked for documents from them.

The suspects presented documents like a travel authority reportedly issued by Malacañang as they claimed to be with the Office of the Presidential Religious Affairs.

“But when we verified as to the real identities of the suspects, seven of them even introduced themselves as high-ranking police and military officials, they turned out to be fake as they were not known by the offices where we checked their names,” Police Corp. Dennard Catalan, in a phone interview, said.

The suspects, as they introduced themselves were M/Gen. Jose Suarez; B/Gen. Errole Enverga; Gen. Galma Arcilla; Lt. Gen. Albert Verba; M/Gen. Jovencio Valera; M/Gen. Francis Sagum; M/ Sgt. Jomar Borja; Capt. Edwin Gumarang, Jr.; Private First-Class Robin Siso, and James Patrick Reyes.

Four 45 pistols and several rounds of ammunitions were seized from the group.

Catalan said that based on their interview with the suspects, they were from Mindanao and on their way to Manila.

All suspects charged for illegal possession of firearms; usurpation of authority and falsification of public documents, the police officer added.

They are currently detained at the San Jorge police station.

from what happened, that the NPAs never really cares for the civilian populations being harmed and killed in their battles. Repeated incidents have shown this to be true. In fact, they are fond of using civilian populations as human shields. They would, for instance, ambush military personnel near residential villages without regard of those residents being caught in the crossfire.

When reinforcements arrive, and the military is in hot pursuit of the responsible rebels, the latter would sometimes just merge with civilians and farmers and claim to be such, again without minding the true farmers being implicated in the ambush. When the military, unable to distinguish the civilians from the rebels harm the civilians as a result, the issue is then bloated by their legal fronts as human rights violations.

The young victim from Bicol is not an isolated case. Countless victims of NPA atrocities have been reported in the 52-year communist insurgency. Many of them were just unintentional casualties, but numerous victims were also intentionally harmed, either as a result of their internal “cleansing” or on suspicions of civilian connivance with the military.

Had this been a good war that they had been waging against the government, like resisting the ruthless Japanese invaders before, their harming of civilians could perhaps be justifiable. But they are fighting for a foreign, anti-Pilipino ideology that is against democracy, freedom, God, family values, human dignity, and other virtues that we hold so dear.

a brief press conference held at the VIP Lounge of the Daniel Z. Romualdez (DZR) Airport, this city.

The PNP chief, in particular, made mentioned of Police Master Sgt. Hensie Zinampan and Senior Master Sgt. Jonel Nuezca.

Zinampan killed a 52-year old woman at close range in Quezon City last May 31 while Nuezca also shot to death another 52-year old woman and her 25-year old son in Tarlac.

Eleazar has ordered for the filing of both criminal and administrative charges against Zinampan while Nuezca is also facing charges for murder who committed the crime while Debold Sinas as the PNP chief.

Eleazar asked the help of the people saying that it is only through their ‘trust and confidence’ that they could carry their sworn duty and functions as peace officers.

“Help us, our countrymen. Trust us. Only through your trust and confidence that we can deliver our mandate in an orderly and peaceful manner,” he said.

He said that their complaint system is being strengthened for the public to file their grievance and without fear.

The “e-Sumbong: Sumbong Mo, Aksyon Ko” system is an online complaint and monitoring system, which allows citizens to submit reports, complaints, or concerns to the PNP via SMS hotlines, social media, email, or QR scanning method.

“With the advancement of technology, the public can now easily report crime incidents and abusive police personnel through the newly-launched e-Sumbong,” Eleazar said.

“We developed e-Sumbong because we want citizens to play an active role in crime prevention and solution and in ridding the police organization of misfits and scalawags,” the police director general added.

Immediately, the complainant will be acknowledged and will be given a reference number if the complaint warrants an investigation.

Eleazar said that the program should be trusted because only through the public trust and confidence that the police officers can be effective in their jobs.

During his visit, Eleazar made a surprise visit at the Tacloban City Police Station I located at the San Jose District and praised the assigned policemen for having a clean and orderly station.

The police director held a command conference at the PNP regional headquarters based in Palo, Leyte and also witnessed a program attended by former rebels who surrendered to the government.

On Tuesday, he is also set to visit Ormoc City.

According to the LTFRB director, at least nine transport groups across the region have availed of the ‘Libreng Sakay’ program.

Among these to avail are the Visayas Ventures, Inc. which plies the Tacloban-Ormoc and Tacloban-Naval; CETRANCO Transport Cooperative which plies Tacloban-V and G subdivision; AMOEC Multi-purpose Cooperative which plies the San Jose-Catarman, Northern Samar and Allen (Northern Samar)-Calbayog City.

On Tuesday (June 8), another libreng sakay is set to be launched in Ormoc City.

Gualberto said that their office, which is under the Department of Transportation, has set aside P5.5 billion for this purpose.

According to him, cooperatives who have enlisted under the program are to receive pay-out from the government every week to ensure continuity of their service.

The amount to be given to the cooperatives depend on the length of covered area and its frequency of travel.

The program is to end on June 30 of this year but could be extended if there is still enough fund left, Gualberto said.

Village in Allen town placed under granular lockdown

TACLOBAN CITY- A village in Allen town, Northern Samar where a famous beach resort is located was placed under lockdown for 14 days.

The placing under granular lockdown of Barangay Cabacungan where the Caba beach resort is located, is in accordance to an order issued by Governor Edwin Ongchuan prohibiting any form of mass gathering as the province is seeing surge of coronavirus disease (COVID-19), Mayor Joey Suan said.

The lockdown in the area took effect on Monday (June 7) and is to be lifted on June 20.

Caba Beach is fast emerging as a top destination among beach-goers not only from the town but even from those coming from outside the province.

It is known for its long stretch of white sand, turquoise clear water and overlooking to the majestic Bulusan Volcano of Sorsogon.

Several resorts and rock formation are also found on the stretch of the beach shore.

"After due consultation with local officials, law enforcement agencies, chief of offices, medical and health professionals, and experts, the MIATF, there is an urgent need to implement a granular 14-day lockdown and containment of Caba beach, Barangay Cabacun-

Maasin City declares state of calamity over storm 'Dante'

MAASIN CITY- The local government here has placed this city under a state of calamity in the aftermath of tropical storm 'Dante' to make use of its quick response fund (QRF) for disaster relief and rehabilitation efforts.

The move was reached by the Sangguniang Panlungsod on learning that 14,000 individuals out of the total population of 89,000 -- about 16 percent, more than the required 10 percent -- were badly affected, Zaldy Olita, city councilor, reported at radio station DyDM morning newscast Friday, June 5.

However, the extent of damage on agriculture and infrastructure is still being assessed, Olita also said.
