Marcos woos EV's 3.1 million voters

JOEY A. GABIETA/RACHEL V. ARNAIZ

Former senator and presidential aspirant Ferdinand 'Bongbong' Marcos, Jr. brings his political sortie to the region with the hope to gain a majority vote against his rivals for the presidency in this year's elections.

Of the six governors of the region, four of them expressed their support to Marcos and his running-mate, Davao City Mayor Sara Duterte-Carpio.

Governors Leopoldo Dominico Petilla of Leyte; Damian Mercado of Southern Leyte; Roger Espina of Biliran; and Michael Reynolds Tan of Samar vowed to ensure poll victory of the Marcos-Duterte team.

Eastern Visayas has more than 3.1 million voters which makes it one of the country's one of the vote-rich region.

Marcos, who is popularly known by his supporters as BBM, started his two-day sortie in the region in Catarman, Northern Samar on Friday morning.

The presidential aspirant and his team held their campaign at the UEP Grandstand attended by more than 10,000 supporters who stayed despite of bad weather affecting the entire region due to a low pressure area.

ROMUALDEZ JOINED DEP'T HEADS IN COMMUNITY DIALOGUE AT NORTH HILL ARBOURS

GOVERNANCE. Tacloban City Mayor Alfred Romualdez spearheaded a community dialogue held at North Hill Arbours in Barangay 106(Sto. Niño) for him to directly address the concerns and issues affecting the residents who mostly complained of poor drainage and road systems, security, livelihood, among others. Joining the city mayor during the April 6 meeting were heads of different city government offices. (TACLOBAN CITY INFORMATION OFFICE)

Northern Samar solon latest to throw full support to Marcos presidential bid

TACLOBAN CITY- Northern Samar Rep. Jose 'Jun' Ong, Jr. has thrown his full support on the presidential bid of former senator, Ferdinand 'Bongbong' Marcos, Jr. and his running-mate, Davao City Mayor Sara Duterte-Carpio.

This declaration of support to Marcos and Duterte-Carpio of the solon is in sharp contrast to his nephew's stand, Governor Edwin Ongchuan.

The governor has expressed his support to Vice President Leni Robredo and her running-mate, Sen. Francis Pangilinan who conducted their mammoth grand rally last week.

According to Rep. Ong, his decision to support the Marcos-Duterte tandem is not for personal reason but rather for the benefit of the people of the province.

"I have no intention except for the benefit of our province. It is not for any personal gain but for your interests," he said in a statement.

Nica regional chief hopes next President will sustain the implementation of the NTF-ELCAC

TACLOBAN CITY- The National Intelligence Coordinating Unit (Nica) here in the region is hopeful that the next administration will continue to support National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict (NTF-ELCAC) and in the process, help quell the decades-old insurgency problem.

Eustacio Bacabac, Nica regional director, in an interview, said that they are hopeful that whoever will succeed President Rodrigo Duterte will continue the anti-insurgency problem using the 'whole-of-nation approach.

"This is what we want for the insurgency problem to come to its end. (But) this will depend on the next administration which we hope will sustain the program," he said.

Bacabac said that all the government agencies saw the beauty of the program which resulted in the voluntary surrender of New People's Army (NPA) members.

"The whole-of-nation approach should continue. We should all work hard to stop the threat of communist terrorists," the Nica regional chief said.

It was learned that among the presidential candidates, former senator Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos Jr., Senator Panfilo Lacson and former Defense secretary Norberto Gonzales are the ones who have signified that they will continue the program once elected as the next occupant of Malacañang.

Northern Samar task force against communists condemned killing of 2 cops on a development mission

TACLOBAN CITY - The task force against communists in Northern Samar has issued a strong rebuke on the death of two junior police officers who died after they were ambushed by members of the New People's Army (NPA) last Monday (April 4).

In a statement, the Northern Samar Provincial Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict said that it was an inhumane act by the rebels to have killed the police officers who were not on a combat mission but rather to help villagers.

The Monday attack in Barangay San Miguel, Las Navas town resulted in the deaths of Patrolmen Harvie Lovino, Jr., and Rico Borja.

Another police officer and two soldiers also sustained wounds during the ambush marked by the use of the improvised explosive devices used by the rebels.

"We condemn the use by these communist terrorist groups of inhumane and barbaric improvised explosive devices (IEDs) which do not discriminate between civilians and armed personnel. Pat Lovino, from San Isidro, and Pat Borja, a Catarmanon, did not deserve to die while in the performance of their duty, as no Filipino should ever be subjected to this gruesome death especially when one is serving his people and country," the statement, released on Thursday (April 7), said.

"These attacks on our Community Support Program (CSP) teams are indications that these communist terrorist groups are opposed to our vision of creating peaceful and resilient communities for our fellow Nortehanons. They are a menace and a constant threat to realizing our hopes for sustained progress to reach

Vice Gov. Loreto defends BBM against estate tax issue; calls it as a demolition job

TACLOBAN CITY- Leyte Vice Governor Carlo Loreto has defended presidential candidate, former senator Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos, Jr. on issue confronting regarding the Marcos estate.

Loreto, who is a lawyer and part of the powerful Petilla-Loreto political clan, said that it is not fair for Marcos to be held liable for whatever liabilities of the estate, adding that the Bureau of Internal Revenue should wait for final decisions of the Supreme Court.

He claimed that the issue is being used by Marcos' political opponents to drag him down as he is clearly the most favored by the Filipinos to become the next president, based on various survey results.

"Talk on the estate tax of the Marcoses is a non-issue for presidential frontrunner Ferdinand "Bongbong" BBM Marcos. In fact, whatever liabilities the Marcos estate has cannot be passed on to BBM as most of the purported liabilities are still pending before the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court (SC)," he said.

VICE GOVERNOR CARLO LORETO

Loreto agreed with former senator Juan Ponce Enrile, a known tax expert, who said earlier that the estate tax applies to the estate and not to any members of the Marcos family to include Ferdinand Jr.

The vice governor maintains that this issue is being used relentlessly against Marcos as a political demolition job.

"(I call on the) public to be vigilant against fake news. With about a month into the polls, the attacks against Marcos being the presidential frontrunner has heightened," Loreto said.

The Petilla-Loreto clan has earlier thrown their support on the presidential bid of Marcos as they vowed for a landslide win of former.

B/Gen. Banac vows immediate release of benefit claims Another cop dies due to the April 4 ambush incident in Northern Samar

TACLOBAN CITY- A rookie police officer who sustained serious injuries after their group figured in an earlier ambush incident in Northern Samar province has died Tuesday (April 5).

Patrolman Rico Borja, 31, died while confined at the Northern Samar Provincial Hospital in Catarman town at 9:45 pm due to the blast injuries as a result of the ambush incident staged by alleged members of the New People's Army (NPA) in Barangay San Miguel, Las Navas, also in Northern Samar, last Monday (April 4), a report from the regional headquarters of the Philippine National Police (PNP) based in Palo, Leyte.

B/GEN. BERNARD BANAC

The rebels used improvised explosive devices during the ambush which resulted in the immediate death of Pat. Harvie Lovino, Jr.

The said ambush incident also wounded three soldiers and another cop, Pat. Leandro Luciano. All his untimely death. His bravery in putting service first above anything else makes him a true hero. I know nothing can compensate for his sudden loss but I am certain that justice will be served in due time," he said in a statement.

Banac promised to the family of the slain police officer of the immediate release of the benefit claims he was entitled to receive.

The police regional director has earlier directed his policemen in the area to conduct hot pursuit operations against those responsible for the ambush which killed two of his men and three soldiers.

E. Visayas wage body to hold public hearings on pay hike

TACLOBAN CITY – The Regional Tripartite Wages and Productivity Board (RTWPB) in Eastern Visayas is set to start a series of public consultations on the proposed pay hike for workers in the private sector.

“After these consultations, we will have deliberations looking into the socio-economic indicators in the region. The board takes into cognizant the Gross Regional Development Product, inflation rate, poverty threshold, among others. We will come up with a decision before the end of May,” said Reynaldo Soliveres, secretary of RTWPB in Eastern Visayas in a phone interview Thursday.

The wage body will hold a public consultation in Macrohon, Southern Leyte on April 22 to be attended by employers and workers in Southern Leyte province based on an RTPB notice issued on April 6.

From April 27 to May 23, similar gatherings are slated in Ormoc City for the western Leyte area, Borongan City for Eastern Samar province, Calbayog City for Samar, Catarman town for Northern Samar, and Tacloban City for the northern Leyte area.

The review is in response to the petition for wage adjustment of the daily minimum wage of workers in the private sector filed by the Solidarity of Unions in the Philippines for Empowerment and Reforms to raise the daily wage to P750.

“I think the proposed amount is too high and we have to look into the capacity of employers and other indicators,” Soliveres added.

The official said that even before the filing of the

Exclusive media

From being a popular social media wherein people can post anything expressive of their thoughts, feelings, and aspirations, Facebook (Philippines) is now becoming an exclusive social media that is terminating certain accounts while catering only to those that express its views and accept its wishes on selected issues.

Unlike before when people were mostly just passive recipients of what they could see on TV, hear on radios, and read in newspapers, Facebook had offered netizens the opportunity to react and interact with others regarding relevant issues. A breakthrough in media communication, it easily became so popular that almost everyone with a mobile phone is now using it as a vital source of information.

In our country where politics generates hot discussions, Facebook has become the battleground. Posts from all camps are mostly meant to promote the favored political figures and at the same time discredit their rivals. A classic clash is between the supporters of the Marcoses and the Aquinos represented by the so-called dilawan, now metamorphosed into pinklawan. Historically, these liberals and their minions had assumed and maintained power because of their narrative that the Marcoses are plunderers and human rights violators.

The problem with Facebook is its obvious bias and alliance with mainstream media, which in turn form part of the sectors that are siding with the liberals. These sectors include the Church, the academe, the oligarchs, the elites, the celebrities, the intellectuals, the historians, the artists, the leftists, and many more, all against the candidacy of Ferdinand Marcos Jr. In their massive effort to oppose him and promote VP Leni Robredo's candidacy, they mobilize and maximize their resources to tear him down with every issue they can use.

For its part, Facebook is restricting and suspending the accounts of users who are promoting the BBM-Sara tandem, particularly those who are critical of the yellow/pink camp. In the guise of fact-checking, Facebook is actively doing it now but actually in a biased and selective manner for their allies can post any kind of misinformation without them being fact-checked. This no doubt is a crackdown on freedom of speech and expression. They weaponize Facebook this way, now as an exclusive mouthpiece of their allied users.

Forgotten wisdom

I heard this from someone else many years ago, but it's only recently that I realized its wisdom. It's this piece of advice: after rising from your seat, check the latter first for anything that might have fallen from your pockets. Check your pockets, too, if there are missing items in them. When nothing at all fell off, then that's the time to leave.

No one, in his right mind, would argue with this. The first time I heard it, then, I already thought of putting it to practice, convinced as I was of its wit. But for some reason, I forgot all about it. No, I sometimes remember, but most of the time, I forget. But after a recent, unpleasant experience, I made up my mind to always practice it from now on.

The event happened last weekend. I and my wife went home to Catbalogan to visit my mother-in-law, who was celebrating her birthday. We decided to just commute via the Grandtours passenger vans. We traveled there in the morning and came back late in the afternoon. Except for the rough and bumpy road, our trip was somehow "smooth", with no unusual occurrences.

We arrived in Tacloban at around seven in the evening. We alighted at the van

Easing Hunger

If you want to eliminate hunger, everybody has to be involved.
- Bono

Current estimates are that nearly 690 million people are hungry, or 8.9 percent of the world population – up by 10 million people in one year and by nearly 60 million in five years. The majority of the world’s undernourished – 381 million – are still found in Asia. This is an excerpt from United Nations Website <https://www.un.org/sustainabledevelopment/> hunger/. This is not a made-up opinion, this is a world picture. In our country, the Philippine Statistics Authority <https://psa.gov.ph/poverty-press-releases/nid/165535>, poverty –press release said ; The First Semester 2021 poverty incidence among the population or the proportion of poor Filipinos whose per capita income is not sufficient to meet their basic food and non-food needs, was *estimated at 23.7 percent. This translates to 26.14 million Filipinos who lived below the poverty threshold estimated at PHP 12,082, on average, for a family of five per month in the first semester of 2021. On the other hand, subsistence incidence among Filipinos, or the proportion of Filipinos whose income is not enough to meet even the basic food needs, was registered at 9.9 percent, or about 10.94 million Filipinos in the first semester of 2021. On average, the monthly food threshold for a family of five for the same period was estimated at PHP 8,393. Analyzing further, the Php. 12, 082 poverty threshold is something that puts most Filipinos in an impoverished situation, whose capacity to provide food on the table is hampered by that reality. ple continued to be doubtful and even suspicious of him. On several occasions, they even tried to harm and eliminate him. Of course, in the end they got their way. They managed to put Christ to death in the most ignominious way to die, i.e., to be crucified. It is a phenomenon that continues to take place today, in spite of the most convincing of the miracles of Christ—his own resurrection that later led to his ascension into heaven that was witnessed by a good number of people. That many of us continue to doubt and even to be suspicious of him can be seen in the fact that we continue to take him for granted, to put him aside from our daily affairs as if he is irrelevant or just a drag to our activities, and even to openly reject and to be hostile to him. We need to correct this predicament immediately and strongly, otherwise we would be fully cut off from the very source and keeper of our humanity. There are many ways to resolve this see Christology / page 7 ...

Christology and

THESE are two branches of Christian theology that study the significance of Christ in our life. Christology deals with the study of the person of Christ, the Son of God who became man. Soteriology deals with the study of Christ as our Savior. Both studies are meant to give us deep and effective understanding of Christ in our life who actually is everything to us. In the gospel of St. John, chapter 8, verses 21 to 30, we see how Christ lamented how the people still could not know who he really was in spite of the wonderful teachings he gave them and the miracles that he did. At one point, he said: “For if you do not believe that I AM, you will die in your sins.” So they said to him, ‘Who are you?’ Jesus said to them, “What I told you from the beginning...” We all have the need to know Christ well. This need involves not only a few of us. It involves all of us. And so, we just have to see how we can go through these theological sciences of Christology and soteriology, which can be done both formally and informally. As the gospels narrate in many occasions, in spite of all the miracles and the wonderful teachings he gave them, many of the peo-

climate change time

Climate Change, a buzzword for years, is common denominator to Planet Earth’s weather behavior discourse. Summer months have been hotter and longer, while cold nights are fewer and shorter. The WMO or World Meteorological Organization reported during the 2021 UN Climate Change Conference or COP26 the many ways that the global weather changes have been monitored. Thus, “Global mean temperature in 2021 (January to September) was around

1.08 plus or minus 0.13 “C” above the 1850 – 1900 pre-industrial average, and the year is likely to be between the fifth and seventh warmest year on record.” The same year showed drastic increase in the atmospheric concentration of major CHG or green house gases in the past couple of years. Meteorologist attribute CHG emissions, from industrial and energy sectors, as major contributor to climate change. This is due to the burning of fossil fuels for heat and electricity generation. This situation has given birth to a transition from brown economy to a green economy – thus, the call for renewable energy (RE) use, instead. As reported by the International Energy Agency (IEA), the use of RE rose to 29 percent in 2020 from 27 percent in 2019. For the Philippines, RE use accounted for 21.2 percent generated in 2020, a bit higher than 20.8 percent in 2019 as recoded by DOE or Department of Energy. The DOE envisions to increase to 30 percent RE use by 20130 and to 50 percent in 2040. To this Ayala Corporation targets to pivot to RE. Other potential RE players include Solar Energy Nueva Ecija Power Corporation (SENEC). Also, CREIT a sister company of Megawide, counts among RE players following good showing in the stock market. with three thousand-peso cash in it was already gone and was nowhere to be found. I had it placed inside the front pocket of my long pants during the trip. I was not much worried about the cash; it was not that much. I was more worried about the ATM’s balance because it was a rather big amount. I imagine that, whoever got hold of it, must now be attempting to get the amount in some ATM booths. The solution was to have the card blocked right away, but we will have to wait until the following day to be able to do so. And between that time to the next day (banking hours), many things could already happen. As we frantically looked for the card in our hand-carried bags, I suggested that we go back to the spots where we came from. We asked the mall guard at the entrance if she had seen it, but she didn’t. So we went out and proceeded to the van terminal to check my seat during our trip. The van was already parked for the night, and tightly closed. Some drivers who were still hanging around there told us the driver was eating his dinner somewhere. After waiting for several minutes, the driver arrived and was immediately informed by his colleagues about what we lost. He approached us, took something from his pocket, and asked for the card owner’s name. Sure enough the name he got matched with the name on the card. I almost jumped for joy when I saw it. The cash was still there, all returned by this driver. We were lucky, he said, that it was not a fellow passenger who found it. Or else we could have lost it for life. Though he refused, I handed him some money bills as an expression of our gratitude. What a lesson we learned. Indeed, he who fails to look back to where he came from cannot reach his destination.

also considered poor because debt servicing or payment hampers them in buying food for the table and paying their debts. In effect, a family of minimum wage of Php.325/day cannot meet the threshold however which way you compute it, it cannot even break the 10k level.

Overall, the return of on-site schooling where parents will be shelling out for food, transportation, and pocket allowance will mean a harder way of life for many of us. The on-site classes, and on-site reporting to work will create an increased economic activity but will pack a wallop to the already struggling minimum wage earners. It will mean food provisions will be scarce amid the diminished capacity to find additional income.

The continued threat of the Pandemic and the War in Ukraine shows what United Nations had predicted all along: The world is not on track to achieving Zero Hunger by 2030. If recent trends continue, the number of people affected by hunger would surpass 840 million by 2030. And it goes without saying that having Asia as the most hungry continent the Philippines is there at the center.

Bono, the Band U2's primus inter pares vocalist had said it correctly: if we want to eliminate hunger everybody must be involved. The present crop of Presidential aspirants must and should put this reality as the cornerstone of a campaign that would be a cornerstone of government programs if ever elected. We don't want palliatives and motherhood statements and rhetorics. We want a course of actions, operational steps, and less of the vague promises of the moon and the stars just to get the love and the vote because as the saying goes when hunger knocks at the door, love flies at the first open window.

problem. We obviously cannot cover all of them, but we can at least mention a few.

One way is to disabuse ourselves from banking our belief in Christ mainly on some tremendous miracles and extraordinary events. That would be like testing or doubting God always. We should believe in Christ, with or without miracles.

Christ himself complained about this. "Unless you people see signs and wonders you will not believe," he said to a court official whose daughter was dying. (Jn 4,48)

We need to strengthen our belief in Christ by undertaking the relevant study of his person and mission, and by submitting ourselves to a certain plan that would make our personal and collective relation with Christ alive.

We certainly have to learn how to pray, how to offer sacrifices. We have to develop virtues that would resemble us little by little with him. We need to avail of the sacraments. We have to learn to wage a lifelong ascetical struggle since we will always be hounded by the enemies of God and of our own soul, starting with our own weaknesses, etc.

USAID, Coca-Cola Foundation, WWF partner to empower women to address ocean plastic crisis

Manila-In celebration of Women's Month and Earth Day, the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Coca-Cola Foundation Philippines Inc. and the World Wide Fund for Nature Philippines (WWF-Philippines) to empower women in the waste sector.

Through the Women in Waste's Economic Empowerment Activity under the Clean Cities, Blue Ocean program, USAID will work with partners to transform their business ideas into startups, expanded enterprises, or franchised operations through training, mentoring, and funding.

"USAID believes that to save our planet, we need to invest in our planet," said USAID Philippines Mission Director Ryan Washburn. "USAID is pleased to find an ally in Coca-Cola Foundation Philippines and WWF-Philippines in uplifting the lives of Filipino women working in the informal waste sector and turning the tide in ocean plastic pollution."

Women play a critical role in the solid waste management and recycling sectors. The majority of them serve in informal positions as waste collectors, owners, or employees of small recycling centers, junk shops, and upcycling enterprises. Despite their prevalence in the sector, women face gendered structural barriers that limit their earning power and constrain their access to opportunities for upward mobility. They are underpaid compared to their male colleagues, and their contribution in preventing plastic litter from reaching the ocean is undervalued.

"Our partnership with USAID and Coca-Cola Foundation Philippines will help us transform the lives of women who are our frontliners in protecting our environment," said WWF-Philippines Executive Director Katherine Custodio. "We look forward to working with women entrepreneurs in Metro Manila in crafting solutions to address plastic pollution problems."

USAID strongly believes that partnerships and collaboration designed according to local systems and environments are integral to successfully address gender inequality and ocean plastic pollution.

"Coca-Cola Foundation Philippines is pleased to partner with USAID and WWF-Philippines in helping women in waste establish successful businesses that will improve their lives," said Coca Cola Foundation Philippines President Ma. Cecilia Alcantara. "We are thrilled to support initiatives that will help establish effective community recycling and proper waste management solutions." (PR)

Meantime, Añover said that there is a possibility that there will be in-person graduation rites this year for elementary and secondary students but was quick to say that this still needs approval from the local government units.

"It will only be allowed in areas under Alert Level 1 and 2," Añover said.

The education official added that another target of their office is to offer limited in-person classes to Alternative Learning System (ALS) students.

"As of now, no community learning center is open and we are currently working to ensure that ALS can also offer limited face-to-face classes," he added.

The local government unit (LGU) of Burauen conducted a verification visit in our school as administered by the Local Government Unit Safety Seal Inspection Team.

This is set by the government and the Department of Interior and Local Government (DILG) being the issuing authority to give the voluntary safety seal certification. This is to assure the protection of the students that will be coming in and out of the school under the new normal.

Our school, as a public place, follows IATF protocols. Apart from enforcing social distancing, temperature checks, and keeping face masks on at all times, we also have our initiatives such as hand washing area, thermal and QR scanners, ensuring proper ventilation, and setting up physical markers and signages. All these for the safety of everyone.

With these, our school adopted the minimum public health standards and safety protocols and lucki-

Coca-Cola Beverages Philippines, Inc. Among Top 10 Best Workplaces in The Philippines

CCBPI is the only manufacturing and consumer goods company included in the Top 10

MANILA- Coca-Cola Beverages Philippines, Inc. (CCBPI)—Coca-Cola’s local bottling arm—is proud to be ranked eighth among the country’s best workplaces, as certified this 2022 by Great Place to Work® (GPTW), a global authority on workplace culture. CCBPI, holding the Top 8 spot, is the only manufacturing and consumer goods company in the Philippines that was included in GPTW’s top 10 list.

GPTW identifies companies with unique and outstanding organizational culture and employee experience, and its citations have helped companies produce even better business results by underscoring high-trust and high-performing workplace cultures. Through GPTW’s extensive employee survey, CCBPI received an 83% approval rating among its 10,000 associates.

“We are grateful for being certified by the GPTW, and it is CCBPI’s honor to be recognized as one of the top best workplaces in the Philippines,” says Gareth McGeown, CEO and President of CCBPI.

“We have always championed our People First commitment, and we have always operated with the foundational belief that our people are our company’s biggest asset and our greatest strength. We are so happy to know that our associates find CCBPI as a great place to work in—a place of trust, professional pride, and camaraderie—and an employer of choice.”

The GPTW employee survey attested that 87% of CCBPI employees are proud that they work in the company; 85% said they are physically safe in the workplace; 85% expressed the management is competent to run the business; 83% feel welcome in the company; and 84% feel good about how they were able to contribute to the community.

CCBPI’s People First commitment—which comprises institutional initiatives and company culture geared toward employee development—was further amplified during the pandemic, which saw the company’s business continuity plan focus more keenly on the health and safety of its associates.

Working to preserve the welfare of its people, CCBPI immediately set aside an employee assistance fund to ensure that everyone was paid during the height of the lockdowns; expanded its HMO program to cover associates’ family members as beneficiaries; and heightened its people development programs.

McGeown says, “It has NSSDEO, Brgy. Burabud, Laoang, Northern Samar- The Department of Public Works and Highways-Northern Samar Second District Engineering Office (NSSDEO) implements a project that will improve travel and mobility among motorists and residents in Lapinig with the preventive maintenance of San Policarpo- Lapinig – Laoang Road.

This asphalt overlay project started last February 11, 2022 under contract with Christfer Construction & Supply. Its scope of work covers asphaltting of 4.76 lane km (1744.00 meters) with 50mm thickness amounting P19,401,563.92 and funded under CY 2022 GAA.

The completion of this project will greatly lessen travel time since the said road section becomes smoother and comfortable to motorists.

Also, this project is of great significance to the end-users such that this will be a pilot undertaking for the government to implement an asphalt-paved road surface thereby protecting the concrete pavement from further damage caused by natural factors, hence giving a longer life span to the infrastructure facility.

(RHODORA R. PUJANTE, PIO STAFF/PR)

always been integral for us that our people are provided with the resources they need for their well-being and their career development. It is through our associates’ hard work and commitment that CCBPI reaches our business goals, yes, but also how we have collectively created and fostered a holistic and inclusive growth culture where everyone can thrive.”

The company, empowering its associates with the right upskilling and industry training, also strengthened its SMART Manufacturing & Logistics program—an avenue for its Supply Chain employees to boost their trade expertise and advance their careers.

CCBPI also maintains a dedicated team for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI), which leads programs and policies for equal access to information, development, and opportunities—while leveraging a diverse pool of talent. The company’s DEI initiatives are aimed at fostering an empowering, People First culture for its LGBT, multi-generational, multi-cultural, persons with disabilities (PWD), and women associates.

CCBPI associates are also supported in their service to local communities, with the company mobilizing its vast footprint in the Philippines and its considerable logistics resources to provide outreach and deliver aid during natural calamities. When Typhoon Odette hit the Visayas and Mindanao—which host a considerable part of CCBPI’s network—the company not only extended assistance to affected employees, but also delivered some 60,000 liters of Wilkins drinking water to affected areas.

CCBPI also provided around 2 million liters of drinking water to frontliners in public and private hospitals, as well as other government and non-government institutions during the peak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Recognizing that CCB-

PI’s success in the industry benefits not just its direct employees, but also countless individuals across its value chain, the company has also intensified its Bangon Pinas livelihood program. The initiative provides overseas Filipino workers (OFW) who had been repatriated due to the pandemic with opportunities as CCBPI partners and Coca-Cola distributors.

“We are incredibly lucky to have associates who support us, who believe in us as a company, who trust us to protect their welfare and cultivate their growth as individuals,” says McGeown. “This recognition as one of the best workplaces in the Philippines will only inspire us to do better, to find more ways to take care of our people.” (PR)

Farmers group wary of coco levy over misinformation

TACLOBAN CITY-A group of coconut farmers has expressed alarm over the alleged misinformation on the coco levy fund after a local official made a recent comment on the issue publicly. “It’s hard to understand why lies continue to spread, even on issues where facts are already clearly established. Today, the truth about the coco levy fund can be the next casualty of misinformation,” said Danny Carranza, co-convenor of Bantay Cocolevy Alliance. “What is most bothersome is that the fake news about the coconut levy fund is coming from the governor of the province whose coconut farmers had the biggest contribution on the coco levy fund,” he added. According to Carranza, if the said local official does not want to accept the truth about the coconut levy fund, he hopes to refresh him on the facts of the issue.

The farmer leader cited the Supreme Court’s decision in the case of COCOFED v Republic, which ordered the return of the 24 percent of San Miguel Corporation. “In short, it was the Supreme Court itself which bared the various modus operandi of the Marcos Dictatorship and its cronies describing the administration of Marcos as a ‘well-entrenched plundering regime of twenty years’. A major part of this was the maneuvering on the use of the levies that were collected from millions of coconut farmers,” Carranza said. Meanwhile, Carranza pinned hope on the Coconut Farmers and Industry Trust Fund Act that would qualify coconut farmers to access the benefits from the coco levy trust fund. “The proper implementation of the law will rest on the shoulder of the next president to correct the wrongs committed by the Marcos dictatorship and its cronies,” Carranza said. It was learned that some 3.5 million coconut farming families would stand to benefit from the coconut levy funds. (RONALD O. REYES)

Public urged to get booster jabs as interest appears to decline

TACLOBAN CITY-Health officials in the region reiterated their call to the public to avail the free booster shots against coronavirus disease (COVID-19), following the “waning immunity” of the vaccines.

“Booster shots are needed to restore the efficiency of primary series vaccines,” said the region’s Department of Health (DOH) on Thursday (April 7).

“Vaccines combined with booster shots keep individuals, particularly those with comorbidities, from developing severe Covid-19 and being hospitalized,” it added.

Montaño Elementary School participated the opening of limited face-to-face classes

Montaño Elementary School is one of the barrio schools of Alangalang II District, Alangalang, Leyte which participated in the opening of expanded limited face-to-face classes on Monday, April 4, 2022.

The first day of limited face-to-face classes was successfully conducted with the appropriate coordination of the teachers and community volunteers.

The Barangay Health Response Team facilitated the entrance of the teachers and the learners. They properly monitored the temperature, handwashing, hand sanitizing and filling out of the health declaration form.

The SDRRM Coordinator and the Clinic Teacher also helped in facilitating that all learners should practice social distancing, wearing of face masks, and other health protocols set by local IATF.

The learners were too excited and restless because they really went to school very early in the morning. They were so happy to see their teachers, classmates, and schoolmates. They loved to read stories and write letters and sentences on the chalkboard inside the classroom. All the learners wore their best school uniform, shoes, and ID’s for them to look presentable and comfortable.

The teachers were well prepared with the daily lesson plans to present and discuss the topics of the day. Some teachers used catchy and attractive instructional materials and others used PowerPoint presentations. Each of the grade levels conducted handwashing and tooth brushing activities to practice wellness before the learners went home.

DOH maintained that the vaccination coverage of the region is a contributing factor to the de-escalation of COVID-19 alert level systems.

As this developed, the regional health department reminded the parents with kids aged 5 to 11 to get their primary dose of the Pfizer vaccine “for a strengthened community protection.”

On April 5, the region also received 86,000 doses of Pfizer vaccines intended for the region’s pediatric population or children aged 5 to 11 and 49,140 doses of Pfizer vaccines for the adult population.

The additional vaccines were directly delivered to some provinces of the region, including Tacloban City and Ormoc City.

The Southern Leyte was allocated with 17,020 doses of Pfizer vaccines, Northern Samar with 44,720 doses of Pfizer, and Western Samar with 11,700 while Tacloban and Ormoc with 5,850 doses each of Pfizer vaccines.

According to the health department, the remaining 50,000 doses of the said Pfizer vaccines were transported to the cold storage facility of the DOH for further distribution.

The challenges faced by teachers in printed modular learning modality

BY: ERIC S. MAGSOLING

Teachers faced different challenges on the employed printed-modular learning modality.

Printed-modular learning is one of the learning delivery modalities imposed by the Department of Education (DepEd) to continue instruction despite of the threat of the COVID-19 pandemic. It employs self-learning modules as the primary learning tool for all students, which can then be supplemented with additional learning delivery methods available to the learner.

With its easy accessibility feature, many institutions around the country have used this modality in giving instructions to the students. However, teachers have faced different challenges in connection to this modality. Teachers tried their hardest to adapt to the circumstances they were in, from reproducing self-learning modules to evaluating pupils’ learning.

For two years of using the said modality, reports showed that there were schools who just crafted and reproduced their own module because the promised material from the Central Office (CO) remain unavailable<sup>1</sup>. This situation had brought not just another burden to teachers but also unequal learning concept among our learners throughout the country. Moreover, most of the time of the teachers were spent on crafting these Learning Activity Sheets (LAS) and doing more paper works which give them lesser time on making follow-ups to their students learning process and performance.

Our teachers encounter a variety of problems on a daily basis, and despite the threat of the COVID-19 pandemic, they never give up. They felt that educators should be the last to give up and that all students should receive a high-quality education.

Risks on limited face-to-face classes on students

BY: DR. NORA T. BANTACULO

The government will not abandon its ambitions to expand the delivery of limited face-to-face classes across the country, despite the threat of the Omicron variant. Following the President's approval of the proposal for the progressive expansion of face-to-face classes, Education Secretary Leonor Briones instructed all regional directors to commence the progressive development phase of face-to-face lessons for both public and private schools right away.

As a result of this direct mandate, limited face-to-face classes are currently being held in various regions all over the country following the interim guidelines imposed by the Department of Education (DepEd).

Though the DepEd assured that health and safety regulations will be strictly enforced during the limited face-to-face expansion, there are still numbers of factors, such as transportation from home to school and vice versa, that could endanger Filipino students.

According to Mayo Clinic, children of all ages can get the coronavirus and experience its complications just like the adults3. Thus, as this extension of limited face-to-face instruction proceeds as anticipated, let us take the necessary precautions to protect our children.

Let us vaccinate them if vaccines for their age are available, so they can be protected from the virulent virus that has killed so many people since it began.

Rep. Ong also said that Marcos, being a Waray, should be the preferred candidate of the people of Northern Samar as they could expect support from him if he will elected as President.

"BBM is a Waraynon. If you care for our province and for yourself, then let the BBM-Sara tandem win by a landslide here in our province so it will be easy for us to ask for assistance," he said.

Aside from being a Waray, Marcos appears also to be the 'overwhelming choice' among the people of the province, Ong said.

Ong is not in the running in this year's elections as his nephew, Harris, current mayor of Laoang town, will be running as a congressman representing Northern Samar's second district.

Based on the records of the Commission on Elections, Northern Samar has a total voting population of 453,620.

Except for Rep. Jose Ong (2nd district), no incumbent provincial officials were present during the more than an hour rally.

Congressional candidate Teod Jumamil (first district) and vice gubernatorial aspirant Rolando Carpio Jr. led local candidates to cheer for Marcos and his team here.

Marcos reiterated his 'Pagkakaisa' or unity speech as he pledged to work for better quality education, decreased electricity bills, continue the Build Build program of the Dute-rte administration, and digital infrastructure to improve internet signals in the provinces.

From Catarman, Marcos and his team staged their rally in Borongan City with an estimated 8,000 crowd attending the event held at the city's main plaza.

The presidential aspirant also conducted a rally in Catbalogan City where more than 25,000 people attended led by Gov. Tan and his sister, Rep. Sharee Ann Tan.

Marcos capped his Friday sortie with a rally in Naval, Biliran held at the provincial gymnasium witnessed by more than 5,000 people headed by Gov. Espina, Rep. Gerardo 'Geroy' Espina, and candidates running for provincial and municipal posts.

Today, Saturday, Marcos and his team will conduct their rallies in the cities of Maasin, Ormoc, and Baybay where organizers vowed to bring huge crowd.

Marcos then will cap his sortie in the region with a grand rally in Tacloban to be held at the Grandstand Complex with organizers expecting of more than 70,000 people.

Meantime, Rep. Yedda Romualdez of the Tingog party-list group said that they are happy that Marcos has gained support from the region's governors, particularly Leyte Governor Leopoldo Dominico Petilla and his brother, Carlos Jericho, who is running for governor in this year's elections.

The Petilla clan is considered to be the most politically dominant family in Leyte and supplanted the supremacy of the Romualdezes after the 1986 EDSA People Power Revolution.

"We are glad and appreciative of (their) support. This only shows that indeed we are UniTeam," Romualdez, in a chance interview, said.

8th ID and Coast Guard forges pact to ensure peace and security in EV

TACLOBAN CITY—The 8th Infantry Division's Joint Task Force and the Coast Guard have strengthened their collaboration to enhance the peace and security here in the region.

Major General Edgardo De Leon, the commanding general of the division, acknowledged the important role of the Coast Guard in maritime law enforcement in the region specifically in the registration and monitoring of watercraft to prevent and deter crimes.

Thus, he said, there is a need to include Coast Guard in the joint peace and security coordinating center, he said during his meeting with his Coast Guard counterpart, Commodore Marco Antonio Genes last Tuesday (April 5).

"The PCG of Eastern

Visayas will continue to perform our mandate on maritime law enforcement programs such as the free registration of motorized bancas and the conduct of information and education campaign to increase awareness on maritime environmental protection and enforcement," Gines said.

According to the officials, joint training will also be conducted to help enhance the capabilities of both agencies.

"We may recall that recently, members of the New People's Army terrorists belonging to Guerilla Front Damol surrendered and then turned-in unregistered motorized banca which they used as their primary mode of transporting war materials in the coastal towns of the province," De Leon said.

Meanwhile, Gines said the PCG will actively participate in the programs and projects.

These activities also include the conduct of 'Serbisyo Caravan', particularly the registration and marking of watercrafts for free. (RONALD O. REYES) away from a senseless cause made them even tougher.

They are among the 38 former members of the communist New People's Army (NPA) who returned to the folds of the law, having understood that their continued stay of living a life on the run would only lead them nowhere.

And they are beneficiaries of the Enhanced Comprehensive Local Integration Program (E-CLIP), a package of cash incentives meant to entice members of a communist terrorist group (CTG) to surface, return under the clips of the law, and start a peaceful life anew, together with their respective families.

The E-CLIP is a flagship program of President Rodrigo Duterte's administration that aims to help members of the Communist Party of the Philippines-New People's Army-National Democratic Front (CPP-NPA-NDF), and Militia ng Bayan (MB) to restore allegiance to the Philippine government.

Under this program, each former rebel receives P15,000 as immediate cash assistance, and P50,000 livelihood assistance as well as remuneration for every firearm they will bring along during their surrender.

In a recent distribution ceremony, Major General Edgardo De Leon, the commanding general of the 8th Infantry Division and Chairman of RTF8-ELCAC

Technical Working Group, called on various government agencies to push the momentum of gains achieved thus far.

"I encourage all stakeholders and partner agencies to continue united in order to achieve our long dreams to have peace and development in the province of Eastern Samar and the whole Eastern Visayas in particular," De Leon said.

He said that the whole-of-nation approach is at work where the different national agencies are involved such as Technical Education and Skills Development Authority (TESDA), Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), Department of Trade and Industry (DTI), and the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD), and others.

These agencies can offer their services like training, seminars, and other services to FRs in order to help them have additional knowledge and skills to live a new life.

"I hope that the financial assistance you have received from the government will be used for your livelihood, to increase your income, and to help you in your daily needs," De Leon further said.
